BOOZE TREATY LETS U. S. SEIZE BRITISH SHIPS

When Within Hour of Coast.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, March 3.—The text of the Anglo-American rum running treaty, made public here tonight by the British foreign office, bears out forecasts of its essential terms.

The treaty, which was signed in Washington on Jan. 23, expressly upholds the principle of the three mile limit for territorial waters, but confers on the American authorities the right to examine, and in special circumstances to search ships under the British flag up to a distance from the coast "not greater than can be traversed in one hour by the vessel concerned."

British ships in return are permitted to bring liquor as stores or cargo into American territorial waters, provided such liquors are under seal.

Chief Terms of Treaty.

The main provisions of the treaty are as follows:

"The high contracting parties affirm that it is their firm intention to hold to the principle that three marine miles, extending from the coast line outwards and measured from the low water mark, constitute the proper limits of territorial waters.

"His Britannic majesty agrees that he will not raise any objection to the boarding of private vessels under the British flag outside the limits of the territorial waters of the United States, its territories, or possessions, in order that inquiries may be addressed to those on board and examinations of the ship's papers be made for the purpose of ascertaining whether the vessel or those on board are endeavoring to import or have imported alcoholic beverages into the United States.

May Seize Ship.

"When such inquiries and examination show a reasonable ground for suspicion a search of the vessel may be instituted. If there is reasonable cause for belief that the vessel has committed or is committing an offense against the United States prohibition of the importation of alcoholic beverages the vessel may be seized and taken into a port of the United States for adjudication.

"The rights conferred by this article shall not be exercised at a greater distance from the coast of the United States than can be traversed in one hour by the vessel suspected. In cases, however, in which liquors are intended to be converted to the United States by a vessel other than the one boarded and searched it shall be the speed of such other vessel and not the speed of the vessel boarded which will determine the distance from the coast at which the right under this article can be exercised.

For Passing Ships.

"No penalty or forfeiture shall be applicable to alcoholic liquors or to vessels or to persons by reason of the carriage of such liquors when such liquors are listed as sea stores or cargoes destined for a port foreign to the United States on board British vessels voyaging to and from the United States or passing through the territorial waters thereof, provided that such liquors are kept constantly under seal while the vessel on which they are carried remains in said territorial waters, and no part of such liquors shall at any time or place be unladen within the United States."

In case of a dispute or a claim by a British vessel of illegal seizure, search, etc., the claim shall be considered by two persons, one to be nominated by each nation. If there is no agreement, then the claim shall be referred to a joint pecuniary claims commission.

KISSES FOR HORSE BUT NONE FOR WIFE, SHE SAYS

Although she had her husband arrested for drunkenness, Mrs. John Cebogaski of 3342 South Paulina street, admitted in Maxwell street court yesterday that her real grievance lay in John's misplaced kisses. He kissed her on an average of once a week, she said, while he smacked the picture of a horse every morning.

"Yes, that hoss looks like one I used to hitch to the plow years ago," John told Judge La Buy. "I thought a lot of him, too. He had such a good disposition."

The judge sentenced John to reverse English on his kissing—once a week for the horse's picture and every day for his spouse.

$100,000 WRIGHT SUMMER HOME RAZED BY FLAMES

"Redcroft," the $100,000 summer home built twelve years ago by Fred W. Upham, northwest of the Glen View Country club, was burned to the ground last night. The property was purchased from Mr. Upham last fall by Warren Wright, 230 East Walton place, president of the Calumet Baking Powder company, and was being remodeled at his direction.

Combined efforts of the fire departments of Evanston, Glen View, Niles Center, and Morton Grove failed to save the main structure, but the flames were prevented from spreading to the outbuildings.

The fire was discovered shortly after 8 o'clock by William Christianson, caretaker, and "Andy" Smith, gardener, in a new addition under course of construction. When the first firemen reached the scene the flames were sweeping through the entire frame and stucco structure.

'Never Worry,' His Motto; Harvey Man Dies at 100

Richard Cadmus, who was 100 years old last August, is dead in his home at 405 Calumet boulevard, Harvey. He moved there in 1892, after living since his tenth birthday in the locality which became Macon, Mich. The first winter in the Michigan wilderness was too much for his father, who froze to death. Mr. Cadmus' formula for longevity was "Never worry!" He voted the straight Democratic ticket.

AUTOS KILL FOUR MEN, ONE WOMAN

Better Driving Weather Starts Clock Again.

Mrs. George M. Watts, 925 Margate terrace, wife of an oil man with offices at 20 East Jackson boulevard, was struck and instantly killed by a taxicab early this morning as she was crossing Michigan avenue at Randolph street. With her husband she was coming from the Illinois Central station when she was struck. The taxicab chauffeur, Samuel Borden, 208 South Springfield avenue, took the body to St. Luke's hospital, where physicians said death had been instantaneous. Borden was held by the police.

Four other persons were victims of automobile fatalities yesterday, raising the county's motor death toll since Jan. 1 to seventy-seven. The resumption of automobile killings, which since Saturday number eight, was caused by weather more favorable for driving, officials agreed. The other four killed were:

William Geppeway, 76, 1914 South Albany avenue.

Charles Clark, 31, 3934 West Jackson boulevard.

Eugene Defaut, 78, 5448 Prairie avenue.

Leo Salk, 34, 4018 North Albany avenue.

Seek Death Driver.

Geppeway died in his home of injuries received Sunday when he was struck by a "vampire" automobile while crossing Kedzie avenue at 19th street. Police are searching for the driver.

A head-on collision between an automobile and a taxicab at Jackson boulevard and Keeler avenue caused the death of Clark, who drove the automobile. His two companions, Miss Ida Michell, Antioch, Ill., and her brother, Louis Michell, 2201 Franklin boulevard, were severely injured. The taxicab driver, Alvin Kies, 2147 Waller avenue, was not injured.

Defaut was struck Sunday night by a taxicab driven by Martin Davis, 1303 Blue Island avenue, at Michigan avenue and South Water street. Davis was held. Defaut died at St. Luke's hospital yesterday afternoon.

Salk was unloading freight from his motor truck into a box car at Clinton and Kinzie streets when a train backed into the truck. Salk was crushed in the wreckage and died immediately.

McDonald Inquest Postponed.

An inquest into the death of James McDonald, 5116 South Wood street, who was killed when his automobile crashed into a freight train at 111th street and 55th avenue early Sunday morning, was postponed yesterday pending the outcome of injuries received by McDonald's companions, Lillian Thibeau, 18, 5116 South Wood street, and Stephen Johannes, 26, 4874 South Lawndale avenue. Physicians at St. Francis' hospital in Blue Island said Miss Thibeau was not expected to live.

Boy, 6, May Die.

Arthur Hall, 6, 551 East Vermont street, Blue Island, was probably fatally injured when he was struck by a Ford automobile as he was crossing a street near his home.

Mrs. C. A. Huling, 67, 15520 Lexington avenue, Harvey, a Chicago Heights school teacher, was dragged several feet under an automobile driven by Paul Van Bodengraven, 15, of Lansing, Ill., a student at the Thornton Township High school. Mrs. Huling, who was struck at 155th street and Columbia avenue, Harvey, is in a serious condition at the Ingalls Memorial hospital.

Col. William A. Lavelle, one of the surviving old time showmen, died last night at the American hospital at the age of 82. He will be buried in the Showmen's League of America cemetery in Woodlawn.

MYSTERY GIRLS GIVE NEW CLEW TO DUFFY DEATH

Schwartz and Jean Mason Hunted.

Search for Miss Jean Mason, projected into the limelight as the new central figure in the Duffy-Exley murder mystery, spread far beyond the city limit last night when it became apparent that Miss Mason might furnish the last link in the chain of evidence against the slayers of John Duffy, alias Daugherty.

Detectives were reported on the way to New Orleans and other southern cities. It was said that Yankee Schwartz, one of the lootleg gangsters sought for questioning, might also be in New Orleans.

Another girl upset all previous police theories of the murders of Maybelle Exley-Duffy and her bootlegger consort. It was because of this new "confession" that Acting Chief of Detectives Schoemaker declared it imperative that Jean Mason and Dolly Harris, two of Duffy's sweethearts, be found.

Vanished Last Sunday.

Jean Mason disappeared last Sunday after she had given extremely important information concerning the murders. Dolly Harris' name had not been known to police and prosecutors until last night, when they were able to say positively this was the blonde nurse often mentioned since the killings, but not identified.

They obtained this name through two sources, corroborated many details, but did not locate the girl. One informant, who has many dealings with bootleggers and gunmen, told of her coming to him the day after the two bodies were found and demanding $200 to enable William Engelke to get out of the city. More talk concerning Dolly came when Ruby Downing, Maybelle's pal, was seized as she tried to smuggle a message into Orlando Horton's cell.

Girl Tells New Story.

Ruby was taken to police headquarters, where she told a new story, attributing the murders of Maybelle Exley and Duffy to Engelke, who, she said, was trying to win Maybelle. She told anew of her telephone conversation with Maybelle on Feb. 19 and added that her chum mentioned a three carat diamond ring Duffy had just given her. This ring, she said, later was in Engelke's possession.

She branded as preposterous Engelke's statement that Jerry Agnew had told Duffy that Maybelle was trifling with other men. Miss Downing had introduced Agnew to the Duffys, she declared, and he would have never told, but if he did, Duffy was so much in love with Maybelle and she with him that Duffy would have killed the man who cast a smirch on his "wife's" name.

Miss Downing told Capt. Schoemaker that Engelke may have fought Duffy over the diamond.

Dolly Long Sought.

Capt. Schoemaker has been trying since the murders to identify Dolly the blonde nurse. He knew last night, but the new stories had to be checked carefully. Lieut. William O'Connor had just arrested Jack Costello, Sherman hotel, as a suspect in the Duffy slaying. Schoemaker had been clinging tenaciously to the theory that accepted Engelke's confession as truth.

"I want to know first what happened to Jean Mason," the detective chief insisted. "She is now the pivotal witness. Was she slain or abducted to prevent her telling more. I think she would have given incriminating testimony against Julian Kaufman if she had returned as she promised she would do.

"She did involve Engelke, and she might have done it more thoroughly in another examination. Who that is now out of jail had motives for getting her out of the way?

"Certainly we'll pick up Dolly Harris. Certainly we'll check on Ruby's latest revelations. But more certainly we want Jean Mason. I won't deny that I have some information that may lead to her if she's still alive."

In Court All Day.

The acting chief had been in court all day, at the hearings on habeas corpus writs for the Hortons, Curtis and his wife, and Carl Hein in the afternoon, at the court where Kaufman was to have appeared in the morning. The prisoners were all getting out or arranging to get out or to stay out, and no new prisoners were coming in, he said. The men wouldn't tell anything, but he was sure the two girls will if they are found.

The acting chief was somewhat disappointed at Kaufman's failure to appear in court. He and Assistant State's

U. of C. Frowns Over Students' Hugging Scene

WILLIAM KERR.

PRISCILLA FERRY. [De Haven Photos.]

A photographic portrayal of a too amorous hug in which a male student and a co-ed at the University of Chicago were the hugger and huggee yesterday precipitated an investigation by the faculty and brought about the resignation of the two leading members from the cast of the Dramatic club's forthcoming production.

The picture was used as publicity for the play, "Mary the Third." It now develops the Nita Naldic embrace does not occur in the play at all. As Prof. Ernest Hatch Wilkins, dean of men, remarked: "The picture should never have been taken in the first place."

Thought Picture Suppressed.

It also happens that the picture was one of five supposed to have been suppressed and its publication, besides wrongly arousing the expectations of prospective playgoers, caused considerable consternation on the campus, with the following unhappy result:

William Kerr and Miss Priscilla Ferry, who posed in the hugging scene, resigned from their respective principal rôles of Cake-Eater and Sheba.

Called to Explain Picture.

Both were summoned before the dean for an explanation as to the origin of the picture.

Both, together with William Ghere, president of the Dramatic club, and others have been ordered to report to the office of President Ernest De Witt Burton this morning for a full and thorough investigation of the whole matter.

Prof. Edgar J. Goodspeed, assistant to the president, who conducted a preliminary inquiry yesterday, announced last night he then had no official statement to make.

Some One Begs Some One's Pardon.

"That picture was unauthorized," Mr. Kerr said, "and we feel we should have a 'Beg Your Pardon' stating it was printed through a mistake. I've just come from the dean and—well, you see, the picture is not a scene from the play.

"In the play I am supposed to be courting Miss Ferry, and the president of the club thought that amorous scenes would be best for publicity purposes. That's how the picture came to be taken. There were four or five altogether which were unauthorized.

"As soon as Miss Ferry and I saw the pictures we objected strenuously to their being used. It was understood they were not to be authorized.

Puts Blame on Photographer.

"The photographer made a mistake and gave out the wrong picture."

"Why did you pose in them if they were not to be used?" he was asked.

"Well, er—you see—that is, we were just experimenting, and, as a matter of fact, it's just as Dean Wilkins says: 'They never should have been taken al all.'"

It was stated that William Ghere, president of the club, did authorize the publication of a picture at this time, but that the mistake occurred in the studio in which the pictures were taken, and the love scene was handed out.

So Show Suffers Thereby.

As a result of the resignations of Kerr and Miss Ferry, plans for the production, scheduled to be given on March 14 and 15, were "up in the air" last night, and there is some doubt as to whether the play will be given at all.

2 CONGRESSMEN GOT $200,000 FOR PARDONS

Chicago Grand Jury Reveals Evidence.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—Congress, in the midst of its investigation of corruption in the administration, was besmirched itself today by the latest eruption of evidence of official dishonesty.

Two members of congress stand accused of enriching themselves by the sale of pardons, paroles, commutations of sentence, and other forms of clemency to convicts in federal penitentiaries or to their families and friends.

$200,000 "Felon Money."

The two legislators are said to have collected between $150,000 and $200,000 from a multitude of prisoners and their friends in two or three years. Evidence of the payment of $30,000 to the lawmakers for clemency granted to prisoners by the executive upon recommendation of the department of justice is in the possession of the administration.

It was information of this character which caused the federal grand jury in Chicago to report to the court the discovery of the scandal involving two members of congress. The jury, which indicted Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau, did not investigate the charges of corruption against the members of congress on the ground that this affair was beyond its jurisdiction.

To Investigate Itself.

Congress now will be called upon to investigate itself. The two members under fire face proceedings for their expulsion in the event the charges are substantiated and also indictment for a penal offense.

Representative Tincher [Rep., Kas.], it was learned tonight, intends to call the charges to the attention of the house tomorrow and to propose that the house demand the names of the accused members and the evidence on which the accusations are based.

The senate committee which investigated the veterans' bureau also will consider the matter tomorrow at a conference with Special Prosecutor Crim, who obtained the indictment of Forbes in Chicago.

Agent Is Called Dupe.

Whether officials of the department of justice were in collusion with the members of congress who received payments for dispensation of clemency is not clear. One official, closely identified with the Harding administration who was active in obtaining clemency in cases in which the members of congress were interested is said to have been their dupe.

The legislators, it is understood, would send agents to the families and friends of prisoners offering to obtain a parole, pardon or other form of clemency for a consideration. If clemency was obtained the agents collected for the two members of congress.

THE SPREADING MUCK

Other outstanding developments of the day in the growing series of investigations were:

1. The Teapot Dome committee continued to study mysterious code messages which passed between persons in Washington and Edward B. McLean in Palm Beach, and announced that the decoding experts would take the stand tomorrow.

2. The committee appointed by the senate to investigate Attorney General Daugherty held a preliminary meeting to arrange its plan of procedure and appointed Senator Wheeler [Dem., Mont.], a committee of one to prepare and present the evidence to the committee.

3. Representative Fred Britten [Rep., Ill.] introduced in the house a resolution which he said "was intended to clear the atmosphere surrounding the oil scandals and to bring out the really good side of the national calamity, which would surely destroy confidence in our present form of government unless counteracted."

CALL FOR SLEUTH BURNS

William J. Burns, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, was summoned before the committee and may be placed on the stand tomorrow to explain the use of the department of justice code in secret messages tipping off McLean as to the movements of the investigating committee. He will be asked concerning McLean's connection with the department as a "dollar a year" operative.

Mrs. Mary Duckstein, former private secretary to Burns, and now an operative in the department of justice, is also to be called to the stand to tell about the messages signed "Mary," sent her husband, W. O. Duckstein, one of McLean's confidential agents. McLean himself, who is under subpœna, probably will not be called to the stand until the end of the week.

Senator Wheeler today read to the senate some letters to indicate the manner in which some persons were endeavoring to besmirch the character of Senator Walsh [Dem., Mont.], the chief prosecutor in the oil inquiry. One of the letters was from Fred R. Marvin, editor of the "Searchlight Department" of the New York Commercial, to E. C. Shields of Billings, Mont.

"No Chance to Smirch Him."

Marvin wanted some "dope," he said, on Walsh's affiliations with the radicals. Shields replied he could give him none because there was none.

"None of the 'isms' of Montana has touched Walsh," Shields wrote. "You can bet your hat he is like the granite of our hills."

After the preliminary meeting of the Daugherty investigating committee Senator Wheeler set to work on the task of arranging the evidence for presentation to the committee. For several weeks he has been accumulating evidence and he will ask the committee to subpœna a large number of witnesses. It is probable that hearings will not start for about a week. Mr. Daugherty will be asked to appear and make any statement he wishes, but he also will be requested to submit to cross-examination by members of the committee.

Britten's Plea for Faith.

Representative Britten's resolution contains a series of twenty-three questions, the answers to which he said would "clarify the atmosphere."

"The hearings before the committee on naval affairs," Britten said, "have convinced me that both Secretary Daniels and Secretary Denby were headed in the same direction for the protection of navy oil; and the fact that Daniels and John Barton Payne, then secretary of the interior, leased without public advertisement the drilling of new wells in the naval reserves is the best evidence that this was then considered to be the only method of conservation."

"TO CLARIFY THE AIR"

The resolution was referred to the naval affairs committee and if adopted will be answered by Secretary Denby. The questions propounded were as follows:

"Is it a fact that the then secretary of the navy, the Hon. Josephus Daniels, sent similar letters to the chairman of the committee on naval affairs of the senate and of the house of representatives, dated respectively, March 29, 1920, and March 5, 1920, stating:

"(A.) It therefore becomes imperative when viewed from an economic standpoint only that machinery be provided whereby wells may be drilled for protection against drainage from adjacent lands, or to supply oil for the government's need.

"(B.) And that excess oil from protective wells may be sold or storage provided for excess oil if considered advisable.

Did Daniels Urge Measures?

"Is it a fact that in the above referred to letters Secretary Daniels suggested legislation as follows:

"That the secretary of the navy is directed to take possession of all properties within the naval petroleum reserves as are or may become vested in the United States; to conserve, develop, use and operate the same in his discretion, directly or by contract, lease or otherwise, and to use, store, exchange, refine, sell or otherwise dispose of the oil and gas products thereof and those from all royalty oil for the benefit of the United States.

"Is it a fact that language practically as suggested by these two letters was enacted into law on June 4, 1920?

"Is it a fact that had it been the policy of Secretary Daniels at the time these letters were written to retain the oil in the naval petroleum reserves in the ground, no legislation of this character was necessary?

"Is it a fact that Secretary Daniels approved the leasing without public advertisement by John Barton Payne, then secretary of the interior, and drilling of new wells on naval oil reserves?

"Is it a fact that it has been the practice for many years for one executive department to perform services for another executive department, and that this practice has been recognized by the congress in the act of May 21, 1920, providing that the funds of one department for which the services are performed may be placed subject to the requisition of the department performing the service?

"Is it a fact that at the time the administration and conservations of the naval oil reserves were transferred to the interior department that department had under lease or permit over 3,500,000 acres of public oil lands and has now under lease or permit over 17,500,000 acres of such land, while the total acreage of the naval oil reserves being operated is less than 52,000 acres?

Did Five Firms Offer Bids?

"Is it a fact that proposals from three companies were entertained for leasing the Teapot Dome reserve and that five companies were asked to bid on royalty oil from the California naval reserve?

"Is it a fact that the government received over $3,000,000 premium on its royalty oil from the Salt Creek district in 1923 as a result of the competition promoted by the leasing of Teapot Dome naval reserve?

"Is it a fact that under its contract for the leasing of Teapot Dome naval reserve the navy received for 1923 41 cents more per barrel for its royalty oil than the selling price of all other producers in that district?

IS THERE A CASH PROFIT?

"Is it a fact that on the minimum production now anticipated the sum that will be received from the Teapot Dome naval reserve above the daily market price will exceed the cash bonuses received by the government from the sale of all Salt Creek leases?

"Is it a fact that royalties fixed in the Teapot Dome naval reserve lease exceed the ruling royalties for wells of the same size on other government leases in the same direction?

"Is it a fact that the navy received a large bonus for the lease in the California reserve in the form of high royalties, free storage for its royalty oil, free pipe line transportation, advance supply of fuel oil in storage, option to purchase at a discount all petroleum products, construction of storage facilities without profit, etc.?

Have Royalties Increased?

"Is it a fact that the average royalties so far accruing under the contract and lease of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company on naval oil reserve No. 1, in California, amount to over 28.50 per cent, as compared to 18.14 per cent received under the leases in reserve No. 2, where the royalties were established in accordance with the general leasing act passed by the congress?

"Is it a fact that the leases and contracts on naval oil reserves Nos. 1, 2, and 3, with the Mammoth Oil company and the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, provide that oil shall remain in the ground in these reserves in the only large area under naval jurisdiction not subject to drainage?

"Is it a fact that there is now actually in the ground more oil in the naval petroleum reserves than there would have been had the leases above referred to not been negotiated?

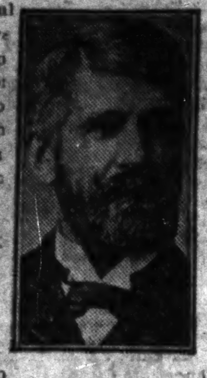
"Is it a fact that up to July 1, 1923, there has been turned into the treasury from royalties from the naval oil reserves more than $5,000,000?"

Samuel Knight of San Francisco recommended by Senator Shortridge [Rep., Cal.], is expected to be appointed special counsel to bring suit to determine the validity of the title held by the Standard Oil company in the lease adjoining the naval oil reserves in California.

The chief point involved in the holdings of the Standard Oil is whether the secretary of interior, Mr. Fall, had authority to validate the claim after it was known that there were minerals in the field. The land was granted to the state of California by the federal government for school purposes, with the specific understanding that it would revert to the federal government in the event minerals were found to be underneath it.

The land was leased to the Standard Oil company by the state of California, but before oil wells were drilled the federal government found that it was an oil field. Finally Secretary Fall validated the claim despite the objections made by field agents.

NORTHWESTERN GIVEN $100,000 CHAIR BY WIDOW OF PHYSICIAN



DR. ROBERT L. REA.

Announcement was made yesterday of a $100,000 gift to the Northwestern university medical school by Mrs. Robert L. Rea of 17 West Huron street, widow of Dr. Robert Laughlin Rea, for thirty years surgeon-in-chief of the Pennsylvania railroad. The money will be used to establish a permanent professorship—the Robert Laughlin Rea chair in anatomy.

Dr. Rea, who died in 1899, was one of the most widely known anatomists in the country. He was a close friend of such famous Chicagoans as Dr. Robert Collyer, Joseph Medill, David Swing, and Horace White. For more than forty years he taught anatomy at Northwestern, Rush Medical college, and the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Drs. Frank Billings, Archibald Church, Franklin H. Martin, and William E. Morgan were among his pupils.

IMPORTANT WIRE FROM DAUGHERTY IS NEVER SENT

Miami, Fla., March 3.—From those close to Attorney General Daugherty tonight it was learned that no "important message to the White House had been dispatched today by the cabinet member, as it was reported earlier today he intended to send. The attorney general, at the conference with newspaper men, said nothing in regard to a message and if he plans to communicate with President Coolidge, it is doubtful that such a message will be made public here.

The attorney general spent most of the day resting on the sands at Miami beach, not far from his hotel, where Mrs. Daugherty is staying. During the morning he talked with a number of old friends in front of his hotel, all of them seated in armchairs and enjoying the morning sun. While he talked about almost everything that came to mind, nothing was said about the situation in the capital.

COUNCIL TEARS HOLES IN DEVER BUDGET PLANS

Mayor's Suggestions Get Short Shrift.

Mayor Dever's "economy" estimate of municipal expenditures for 1924 was run ragged yesterday by the council finance committee when it undertook compilation of the annual appropriation bill.

ALD. T. F. MORAN.

Reclassification of the city's civil service—an important item in the administration's "retrenchment" program—was denounced by the aldermen as a clever move to oust several hundred veteran employés and substitute an equal number of sixty day appointees in their stead. Almost every item stamped with the administration's "board of estimates'" approval was tagged "out" by the aldermen until they reached Mayor Dever's request that his contingent fund be increased from $25,000 to $40,000.

The Storm Breaks.

Then the real storm broke.

It was from this fund, which in former years has been placed as high as $50,000, that Mayor Dever found means to employ Griffenhagen and associates, the efficiency experts, whose recommendations, approved by the mayor's cabinet board of estimates, have aroused the council's ire.

Only by one vote was the mayor's request approved, after it was charged in the two hour debate over the item that the $15,000 would be devoted to a furtherance of the efficiency survey, which the mayor is aware would not be provided for by the aldermen. "To take care of improvements in the city's service—$15,000" was the only explanation given the committee for the increase.

"If this estimate is a sample of what we have paid this Griffenhagen for, I'm against increasing the mayor's fund," declared Ald. T. F. Moran [16th].

Calls It "Meal Ticket."

"Griffenhagen has attached himself to a meal ticket the like of which he never had before in his life and never will have again. He has collected $100,000 from the city and never did a thing. If this 'suggested budget' is a scientific proposal that a schoolboy can't pick flaws in, I'll resign from the council."

"I've read this whole estimated budget through," said Ald. John Clark [30th], "and all we've done in paying Griffenhagen is to throw the taxpayers' money away. This budget is actually $4,000,000 over last year's, beyond our revenue and in the police department alone, $120,000 short of the city's legal obligations. Scientific! Let's make a real budget ourselves, and make no provision for surveys. Let the mayor have $50,000 if he wants it, as long as we know he isn't going to spend it for so-called experts."

When a roll call of the aldermen indicated that the increased contingent fund had been approved, Ald. Clark demanded another on his motion to force Griffenhagen to render an accounting of the $100,000 or more paid his firm for various surveys as well as a complete report of his recent efficiency investigation upon which the mayor's estimates are based. This also was approved.

Title Changes Rapped.

Fulfillment of the elaborate program of merit system reclassification in which "titles are changed to fit the work performed" would make possible the elimination of such temporary positions as are the present administration's heritage from the Thompson régime, the finance committee had been told.

Five minutes after they undertook a study o fthe proposed titular changes which in many cases involved salary reductions as well, the aldermen decided that the reclassification would force at least 300 civil service employés to engage in new competition for the places they have held for years.

In the meantime, until such examinations could be called, nothing could prevent the administration, through the various department heads, from filling the places with sixty-day appointees.

"There is no question about it," declared Ald. Louis B. Anderson [2d]. "These changes are designed to eliminate the people now holding the positions."

Notwithstanding the civil service commission's assertion through its secretary, W. F. Foehringer, that the proposed reclassification had been approved by it, the committee voted down every change.

Refuse Audit Recommendation.

The committee took new wallops at "administration interference with council functions" when it refused to allow the controller's department to conduct the yearly audit of the city's books, a duty performed in past years by auditors selected by the finance committee.

A move by the administration to have the bureau of maps and plats continue an investigation undertaken several years ago by the council local industries committee to determine what municipal property is being usurped by railroads was also defeated by the committee.

The mayor's estimates recommended discontinuance of the $28,500 appropriation for the employment of investigators and other aides used by the committee in the survey, and Ald. Joseph O. Kostner [23d], chairman of the committee, protested.

"Well, you see, the administration had this in mind——" began Ald. R. A. Woodhull [7th], chairman of the finance committee.

"I don't care what they had in mind. I want that appropriation for my committee back where it was," shouted Ald. Kostner—and it went back into the appropriation bill with the unanimous consent of the committee members.

RAID ON GRAND CANYON LAID TO ARIZONA SENATOR

Washington, D. C., March 3.—A charge that Senator Cameron [Rep., Ariz.] had sought to gain control of the famous Bright Angel trail, the approach to Grand Canyon National park, and had refused to obey a Supreme court mandate that he vacate his claims there, was made on the floor of the house today by Representative Cramton [Rep., Mich.].

Mining claims, Cramton said, had been staked out by Cameron in such a way as to give him possession of some of the choice vantage points along the trail. He read from a letter from the interior department saying that "these claims were strategically located with reference to proposed and probable development of the canyon as a tourist attraction."

Speaking on the interior appropriation bill, of which he had charge, Mr. Cameron asked the house to restore the Hayden amendment, struck out by the senate, providing that the federal government itself purchase Bright Angel trail.

Evict Evanston Druggist as Sequel to Dry Raids

The Rev. Elmer Williams' recent dry raids in Evanston had a sequel yesterday in an eviction notice delivered to Raymond Coolsen, proprietor of a drug store at Chicago avenue and Dempster street. The pastor charged that Coolsen sold highballs over the soda fountain to students of the Evanston High school, situated near by. Several cases of whisky and gin were taken in the raid, and Coolsen pleaded guilty when arraigned before Police Magistrate Boyer. Northwestern university owns the property occupied by the drug store, and it is understood that its managers requested the leasor to oust Coolsen.

Collector Robbed of $6,000 Oil Station Receipts

Three automobile bandits held up E. L. Hiller, a collector, at Kilpatrick avenue and Monroe street yesterday and robbed him of a satchel containing between $5,000 and $6,000, which he had collected from nine oil filling stations. Hiller, who lives at 3652 Archer avenue, is employed by the Agni Motor Fuel company, 3620 Archer avenue.

JACOB GOLDMAN GIVEN 1 TO 10 YEARS IN JOLIET

JACOB GOLDMAN.

Jacob Goldman, former Circuit court professional receiver, was sentenced yesterday to serve from one to ten years in Joliet penitentiary by Judge Hosea Wells. The judge denied a motion to interfere with a jury's verdict which found him guilty of larceny by bailee in connection with his failure to account for receivership funds and imposed sentence.

"Old Jake" in the heydey of his career as receiver of hundreds of bankrupt estates passed out money lavishly to clerks and bailiffs in his efforts to get himself appointed. When the crash came he was found to be thousands of dollars short in his dealings with the court.

Yesterday he stood, confessedly penniless, with hands cupped to his nearly deaf ears, and heard his attorney, ask for and obtain leave to appeal.

WIFE CONFIDED TO HARRIS SHE WAS 'LOVE CHILD'

Banker an Ardent Wooer, She Tells Court.

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—Taking the stand in her own defense today in the suit her husband, Beverly D. Harris, a former vice president of the National City bank, is bringing for the annulment of their marriage, Eleanor Elaine Lee Harris testified that she learned that she was an illegitimate child before the marriage and told this news to Mr. Harris.

"He said," testified the pretty southerner in a babylike drawl, "that it did not make any difference; that he thought love children were often superior, and he mentioned Alexander Hamilton as an example. He also sent me a book in which the heroine was a love child."

Defines "Love Child."

Mr. Harris in his testimony during the presentation of the plaintiff's case admitted he had written to Mrs. Harris that she was "a love child," and said his definition of this term was "a child of parents who loved each other."

The courtship of the banker, according to Mrs. Harris, consisted from the first few days of their acquaintanceship of an intensive campaign on his part, met with reluctancy by her. She was introduced to him by former Congressman-at-Large McLemore, from Texas, at the Rice hotel in Houston, Tex., on Jan. 15, 1915. He immediately fell in love and asked her "if she thought she could marry a man as old as he was."

"I didn't want to marry," she said, "and I pleaded with him to wait and give me time to find out if I really loved him. He said he would not wait and so I told him to go away; that I did not care for him anyway.

Sought Immediate Marriage.

"But he insisted. At first I said to wait a year, then I shortened it to six months. Then he said he wanted to marry me right away, as he was going west for a trip and wanted to take me along. Finally he went to my aunt and said, 'Elaine is wearing my ring and I don't know why she does not marry me.'"

Mrs. Harris then testified how she told the news to Eli Raynor, the Memphis gambler, whom she called "Uncle Eli," but who, she testified, really was her father. It was Raynor who educated her and took care of her in her childhood.

"Uncle Eli" Demurred.

"When I told my Uncle Eli that I was engaged to be married," she said, "he asked me who the man was. I told him that it was 'a Mr. Harris, a wonderful man.' Uncle Eli said, 'How old is he?' 'Forty-five,' I told him. 'That's too old,' Uncle Eli said. 'Don't marry him until I can investigate him.' I answered, 'O, well, I'm goin' to do just as I please.'"

A few days later, Mrs. Harris said, she received a letter in St. Louis from Mr. Harris saying that under his doctor's advice he thought it would be better to postpone the marriage.

"I didn't know what to do," the witness said, "as the letter contained some perfectly awful things. My auntie wrote to Mr. Harris to come to St. Louis. He came and told me a lot of different things he had heard about me. He said that I had been out horseback riding with another man, and other things a great deal worse.

Stayed Until 4 a. m.

"He pleaded with me again to marry him, saying, 'If you don't now you never will.' He stayed in my room until 4 a. m., urging me to go out with him after a marriage license. I finally consented and he went out to get the license. I slept until about 9 o'clock, then we went out and got married. This was July 21, 1915."

The year following the marriage, according to Mrs. Harris, they quarreled. Mr. Harris accused her of "liking everybody else," of being "a cry baby," and said "we can't get along this way, living like cats and dogs." He asked her constantly to get a divorce, she testified, saying that she was too young.

Cross-examination of Mrs. Harris by Caruthers Ewing, counsel for her husband, soon developed into a verbal sparring match between the lawyer and Mrs. Harris. She continually interrupted his questions with "what difference does that make" and "well, what does it matter?" until Justice Wasservogel demanded that she answer the questions directly.

Susy Lee Her Sister.

Regarding the charge that she was the Susy Lee whose career led into a "house of assignation" at Memphis, Tenn., Mrs. Harris said emphatically that Susy Lee was her sister and her senior by eight years. When asked by Mr. Ewing if she had been the mistress of Eli Rayner, her normally calm voice rose to a screaming "No!" that echoed over the courthouse.

She said she had learned about the age of 12 that Eli Raynor was her father. Until that time she thought him an uncle, although she suspected the closer relationship.

Offered $1,000 a Month.

After telling the story of her marriage to the banker and their life together, Mrs. Harris was led by her own lawyer to the period of her marital life when Mr. Harris, because of information he said he had received about the early life of his wife, suggested that they enter into a separation agreement, under which he bound himself to pay her $1,000 a month and also pay the expenses of a divorce.

When she reached that point Mrs. Harris seemed momentarily to lose her self-control and poise. "They told me of statements I had never heard before, the most horrible!" Mrs. Harris shouted. She was checked by Justice Wasservogel, who said, "That will do, madam." She was asked to tell what she said when the divorce proposition was made to her.

Terms for Freedom.

"I said that I was not going to divorce him unless he made some proper settlement," replied the witness. "If he wants his freedom he can get it on those terms."

It is the contention of Mr. Harris that before their marriage Mrs. Harris deceived him by representing herself as a member of the Lee family, owners of a line of Mississippi river steamboats.

Rebels at Questioning.

During an evening session Mrs. Harris rebelled under the cross-examination of Mr. Ewing.

"Mr. Battle, [her counsel], this is too much," she cried out, "do I have to stand for this?"

Mr. Ewing's question was whether she had ever been in a certain disorderly house in Memphis maintained by a Zetta Lee. Mrs. Harris frequently appended a "you know it's not true" to her replies, resulting in the striking from the record of many of them. When Justice Wassservogel advised her to calm herself she said on one occasion, "I am not going to tell any tales."

Earlier in the day Mrs. Rosha Corder, a sister of Mrs. Harris, was a witness and was asked whether her mother ever told her who the father of Mrs. Harris was.

"She did," replied Mrs. Corder. "She told me Eli Raynor was Elaine's father. Mother called me to her bedside and said, 'I want you to be a mother to this child.'"

COPPER'S ANGRY WHISTLE TURNS TO WOOER'S SONG

Showing Romance in Loop Isn't Dead.

For ten hours each day the "world's busiest corner" is a throbbing, bustling, eddying exemplification of this age of speed. Between those four corners the whole drama of life finds expression to the tune of the traffic cop's whistle.

Pockets are picked from curb to curb. Deserting husbands are pounced upon by pursuing wives. Friendships begun in far places are renewed by hurried handclasps in the passing throngs.

Even Romance There.

Romance is begun or shattered from car track to building line. As for example:

One fine day last fall circumstance placed Miss Erlean Berry of Joliet in the middle of State street at Madison in the midst of a bewildering tangle of traffic. Clanging street cars bore down on her from both directions. Taxicabs whizzed so close as to rustle her skirt. Nimble pedestrians buffeted her about in making frantic leaps from the path of vehicular juggernauts.

So Miss Berry of Joliet just stood stocks still while motormen swore and chauffeurs storme.d And Officer Edward Schimmel lowered his whistle and strode to her side prepared to wither her with a "bawling out" as only a traffic cop can wither. But Miss Berry turned her eyes upon his and smiled and he changed his mind.

High Speed Courtship.

Instead he took her arm and gallantly led her to the sidewalk. At the first cartrack he knew her name, and that she hailed from Joliet. By the time the curbing was reached she had imparted her address and phone number. And there in the swirl of traffic and between puffs at his whistle he asked and obtained permission to call. And——

The wedding takes place today in the Second Presbyterian church, 4718 Kenwood avenue.

SEIZE FIVE IN DISORDERLY PLACE.

VATICAN ASKED TO AID PLAN TO RESTORE CZAR

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, March 3.—[Tribune Radio.]—Further evidence reached THE TRIBUNE today of the intention of czarist refugees in Paris to make another attempt almost immediately to regain the Russian throne. Some time ago the vatican decided the bolshevik government of Russia had come to stay, and while detesting it, arranged to open relations with it, with the result that important concessions were obtained. A few days ago, THE TRIBUNE is informed, a representative of the czarist party asked the vatican whether in the event of an early attempt to reëstablish a czardom the vatican would lend its moral support, influencing public opinion in western Europe and America, and received a reply in the affirmative.

Much significance is attached to Gen. Wrangel's arrival in Paris, where he is said to be conferring with Grand Duke Cyril.

REAL BEER TO FLOW IN ELGIN SEWERS TODAY

Several thousand barrels of "real beer" will be dumped into Elgin sewers this morning by deputy marshals under command of United States Marshal Robert R. Levy. Machinery, vats, and other beer making devices will also be destroyed.

This action follows an order issued by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson against the Elgin Ice and Beverage company owned by Lawrence "Butch" Crowley and Richard Burrill, who recently pleaded guilty to violating the national prohibition laws.

Truck Blocks Street Cars for Miles; Driver to Cell

Street car bells jangled behind the truck which Joel Bell of Hammond, Ind., drove down Cottage Grove avenue last night. From 26th street to 63d he did not swerve from the track, and the line of creeping street cars grew longer and longer. At 63d street an angry motorman called a cop. Bell was locked up at the Woodlawn station.

SLASHES OWN THROAT.

Charles S. Fredericks, 939 East 54th street, formerly a well known advertising man, was in St. Luke's hospital near death last night after he had attempted suicide by slashing his throat with a razor.

BELASCO FIGHTS ACTORS' EQUITY; SHUTS THEATERS

Says Trade Unionism Ends "at Door of Art."

New York, March 3.—Declaring he no longer could accept the principles of the closed shop as applied by the Actors' Equity of the American Federation of Labor, David Belasco today announced he would, before June 1, close the engagements of all his productions on tour and darken his New York theater.

Among prominent members of the Actors' Equity whose contracts with Mr. Belasco will expire in the next few months and, he says, will not be renewed, are Lenore Ulric, Lionel Barrymore, and David Warfield.

Mr. Belasco's decision was announced in a statement in which he said that, although he had worked beside and made friends with officers of the Actors' Equity, he "does not feel that the principles involved in forming the American Federation of Labor apply to the theater, or, in fact, to any art."

"Theater an Art, Not a Shop."

"The theater is not a shop, it is an art," he said. "No manager worthy of the name goes into it for money. We all die poor; but the theater goes on. Others must come to take our places, and we must think of them. I dare not be called a shirker twenty years hence."

As a result of Mr. Belasco's decision, "Laugh, Clown, Laugh," now at the Belasco, will end its engagement there March 22, but will continue on tour until June 1. Fay Bainter in "The Other Rose" will close soon and David Warfield will end his tour in "The Merchant of Venice" early in May. Lenore Ulric in "Kiki" will end her tour in May instead of continuing until July, as had been planned. Miss Ulric will go to Europe.

Frances Starr, whose new play is in rehearsal, may not appear this season.

Frank Gillmore, executive secretary of the Equity, said:

"I wish Mr. Belasco had not been disingenuous by constantly referring to Equity's plan as 'closed shop.' Can anything be called a closed shop which guarantees to keep its doors open to all, which does not interfere in wages, which does not limit the hours of employment, and which provides for a long list of exempted players?"

Klaw for Finish Fight.

San Francisco, Cal., March 3.—Marc Klaw, theatrical producer, visiting here, declared today there existed a grave likelihood of a second actors' strike and a tieup of the leading theaters of the country on June 1.

"If the actors strike," said Klaw, "it will be a strike to enforce their closed shop plan and secure a grip on the management of the theatrical profession. While not speaking for all managers and producers, I might say that I think they will be fought to the last straw."

MRS. CANDLER DISCHARGED ON DRINKING COUNT

Husband Caused Raid, Police Chief Says.

Atlanta, Ga., March 3.—Mrs. Asa G. Candler Sr., wife of the Atlanta soft drink millionaire, today was exonerated at a police court hearing of having been an occupant of a "dive," which charge grew out of a raid made by the police on an apartment in a fashionable residential section here in which Mrs. Candler, W. J. Stoddard, and G. W. Keeling, business men, were arrested.

The charge against Keeling and Stoddard was also dismissed.

Calls It Conspiracy.

"I can't see that the result of the public trial today has left me anything to say in addition," Stoddard said in a statement after the trial. "The evidence of Chief Beavers himself disclosed the details of the miserable conspiracy which is back of this whole prosecution."

The police chief testified that "less than a month" before the raid a complaint came from the aged millionaire husband, Asa G. Candler Sr. On cross-examination he testified that Forest Adair, well known realtor and confidential agent for Candler, asked him to make the raid.

The police head said that when he reached the apartment he "asked Mr. Stoddard how long he had been going with Mrs. Candler, and he called me to one side and said: 'Chief, she was my stenographer for six years.' I then asked him: 'Mr. Stoddard, did your wife ever get after you about running around with her?' And he replied, 'Well, yes, chief; she has.'"

Denies the Charge.

"That's not true," Mr. Stoddard shouted.

"Yes it was, too," the chief insisted. "You also asked me how long I had known about this and when I said that I had known about it for about one month, you said that you 'wished' I had tipped you off."

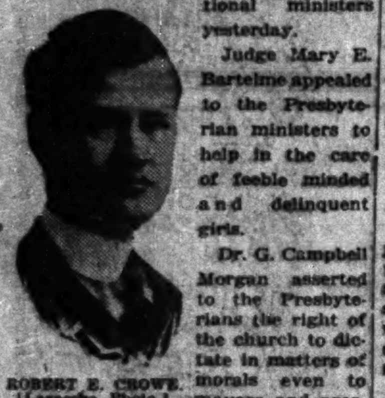
PASTORS LISTEN TO CIVIC TALKS FROM OFFICIALS

Crowe, Judge Bartelme Tell Their Problems.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe laid his record before the Congregational ministers yesterday.



ROBERT E. CROWE.
[Lavoccha Photo.]

Judge Mary E. Bartelme appealed to the Presbyterian ministers to help in the care of feeble minded and delinquent girls.

Dr. G. Campbell Morgan asserted to the Presbyterians the right of the church to dictate in matters of morals even to mayors and presidents.

Dr. H. F. Rall of Evanston described "fundamentalism" to the Methodist ministers as "an honest effort to conserve supernaturalism on a mistaken basis." At the same meeting the Rev. C. J. Williams of Brookfield made a protest against the "use of indecent language by Voliva at Zion City over the radio."

Chief Collins was reported by the Methodists as having said the downtown theaters had been warned to dress up or shut up and the order was being obeyed.

Crowe Talks of Record.

"The belief that women criminals are not being prosecuted is erroneous," States Attorney Crowe said. "More than 230 have been convicted for various offenses during my term of office to date.

"We have closed 363 vice houses and numerous gambling and whisky selling places and have reduced the number of automobile thefts 50 per cent."

Mr. Crowe asked the ministers to help him to get good men to accept jury service.

Says Girls Are Overlooked.

Judge Bartelme said to the Presbyterian ministers the Protestant churches had no place where girls needing care could be sent.

"The adolescent girl is in the greatest danger unless she is protected," she said. "Such girls are subject to thrills, are inquisitive, venturesome and desire happiness."

"The business of the church is to be an authority on morals," Dr. Morgan said. "That is the meaning of the keys being given to the church recorded in the New Testament. The church has a right to dictate to mayors, presidents and kings concerning right standards of morals."

REX INGRAM TO QUIT MOVIES TO BE A SCULPTOR

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, March 4.—Rex Ingram, famous American moving picture director, who produced "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" and other screen classics, told THE TRIBUNE today that he had decided to quit the movies in order to devote the rest of his life to sculpture.

"After I left Yale I went to Chicago, where I studied sculpturing for three years under Lee Lawrie," Mr. Ingram said. "I then realized that if Lawrie, one of the best sculptors in America, found it difficult to make a living, I surely would starve to death.

"So I entered the movies hoping to make enough to assure a comfortable living, after which I planned to return to sculpture. That time has arrived."

REPORT TEN NEW SMALLPOX CASES; CLOSE HOSPITAL

Discovery of ten new cases of smallpox yesterday, bringing the total reported to his office within the last week to twenty-five, caused Health Commissioner Herman Bundesen to renew his warnings that vaccination should be demanded of all employés by large firms and hospitals.

As a result of the discovery of a smallpox victim in the institution, as well as the later discovery that eleven of the nurses were not vaccinated, St. Elizabeth's hospital at 1433 North Claremont avenue was quarantined.

Another man, who, diagnosis indicated, was actively infected with the disease, staggered into Dr. Bundesen's office yesterday, seeking treatment. Six victims, unaware that they were in a dangerous condition, were found in a mattress factory at 2127 Fulton street. A child, 10 years old, was taken out of a crowded room in the Hayes school, 252 North Leavitt street.

PURE FOOD ACT SEIZURE UPHELD IN APPEAL COURT

A mandate was handed down by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday reversing a decision made by Federal Judge George A. Carpenter, who ordered the government to return 1,000 cases of salmon seized under the pure food and drugs act.

The salmon was shipped by two Chicago firms, Surkin & Portnoy and John H. Lisle & Co. Judge Carpenter ordered a jury to return a verdict against the United States department of agriculture for the seizure.

Girl, 13, Drops Dead in School; Blame Weak Heart

SOLDIER BONUS GETS ACTION AT LAST IN HOUSE

Insurance Plans to Fore as Hearing Opens.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—Legislative machinery was set in motion today that assures action at this session of congress on a bill providing adjusted compensation in some form for American veterans of the world war. Hearings were begun before the ways and means committee on the question of a soldiers' bonus, and the indications are that an early report will be made to the house.

That the principle of the bonus will be accepted by the senate as well as by the house seems certain. The bill will then go to the President. The prospects are that whatever bill is passed by congress, it will be vetoed by the President. Polls already made foreshadow a vote by the house overriding the presidential veto.

Senate Stand Doubtful.

Doubt is expressed that a sufficient number of votes can be mustered in the senate to pass the bill over the veto. Nevertheless, representatives of organizations supporting the legislation insist that the senate is anxious to end the agitation for the bonus, and that it will follow the lead of the house in passing the bill over the veto.

At today's hearing of the committee sentiment was developed favorable to the adoption of an endowment insurance plan as a bonus instead of cash payments as proposed in many pending bills. Representative Green [Rep., Ia.], chairman of the committee, expressed the opinion that in the present state of the treasury it was impracticable to consider cash payments. Other members insisted that the revenue bill just passed by the house dealt with taxation in such a way as to make a cash bonus entirely feasible.

Legion Easy to Please.

Members of the house who appeared to urge action expressed a preference for endowment insurance, while spokesmen of the American Legion told the committee that ex-service men would accept cheerfully any bill passed by congress. A representative of the American Federation of Labor stated that approximately 85 per cent of the veterans favored cash payments in preference to any form of endowment insurance.

Approximately fifty bills form the basis of the hearings, which will be continued tomorrow and Wednesday. They may be summarized by groups as follows:

1. Bills that provide for cash payments based on service at home and overseas. 2. Bills that provide for cash and endowment insurance, optional with the beneficiary. 3. Bill that makes it optional with beneficiary to accept cash or insurance, to accept land grants, or to undergo vocational training at government expense.

Today's discussion seemed to indicate that the committee will not report a bill providing for cash payments. If this principle is adopted, it will apply only to those who served for three months or shorter periods.

Representative McKenzie [Rep., Ill.] made a strong plea for action. He declared the government was under strong obligations to the men who volunteered for service overseas and that it was time the debt was discharged. "I believe that no better investment could be made from a patriotic standpoint than to adjust the compensation of these world war veterans," he said.

Cash for Short Service.

Asked by Representative Garner [Dem., Tex.], Democratic leader on the committee, whether he would accept a bill making it optional for a beneficiary to accept either cash or insurance, Representative McKenzie replied in the affirmative.

Representative Cole [Rep., Ia.] said that at least 85 per cent of the veterans would prefer paid-up insurance in lieu of cash. "Cash might be paid to the men who served three months or less and paid up insurance given to men who had longer service," said Mr. Cole.

Representative Gallivan [Dem., Mass.] did not agree with Representative Cole as to wishes of the ex-service men. He declared 90 per cent of them wanted cash to relieve present needs.

"At least 95 per cent of the veterans feel they have been unjustly treated by their government," said Representative Andrew [Rep., Mass.]. He advocated his own bill providing endowment insurance with payment of cash not to exceed $50 in any instance.

Endowment Insurance Plan.

Another argument for a bonus in the form of endowment insurance was made by Representative Fish [Rep., N. Y.]. He urged his bill limiting compensation to the issuance of twenty year endowment policies.

Representative Thomas of Oklahoma urged the committee to report a bill that would provide for a bonus in cash or insurance, the money required to be raised by an issue of bonds to the amount of $1,500,000,000. These bnods he would sell only to federal reserve banks to be used by them in issuing new currency.

The American Legion was represented before the committee by John Thomas Taylor, head of that organization's legislative committee. He expressed the hope that a bill would go through that would meet the approval of the President, thus bringing to an end an agitation that has been continued almost from the armistice. He said a poll of the choice of 10,784 ex-service men recently taken indicated 66 per cent favored insurance, 30 per cent farm or home aid, and 4 per cent vocational training.

QUESSE OBTAINS FURTHER DELAY; ASSISTS SMALL

William Quesse et al., the "al" being the nine other officials of the Chicago Flat Janitors' union convicted and given indeterminate sentences last year, now are free to obtain signatures on Small pledge cards right up to the day of the primary.

WILLIAM QUESSE.

The Illinois Supreme court, which recently delayed action on the cases of Ben Newmark and "Umbrella Mike" Boyle until the June term of court, yesterday stayed final judgment in the case of Quesse and his pals until April 7. The primary in which Gov. Len Small is a candidate for renomination comes on April 8.

Will Appeal to U. S. Court.

The court order for the stay of judgment was issued in vacation and was signed by Justices Farmer, Dunn, Stone, and Carter. The basis for it was to allow the defendants time for a hearing in the United States Supreme court on their application for a writ of certiorari.

Five weeks remain before the primary, and politicians estimate that if the members of the Flat Janitors' union carry out Quesse's orders in the way he wants them obeyed they will clean up the pledge card field in Chicago in a way that no apartment building hallway or back porch ever was cleaned.

Some of the members of the union, however, have rebelled against the Quesse scheme. They say that Quesse et al. had a fair trial and that their union has had a black eye from which it will not recover for years. The charges in the Quesse case were conspiracy to bomb flats and to extort money.

Credited with One Pardon.

It is remembered that the defendants already have been given credit for obtaining one pardon from Small. That was granted in the case of Theodore G. Lodin, a juror in the first Quesse trial, in which there was a disagreement. Lodin was indicted for accepting a bribe and testimony was produced to show that he solicited and received money for "hanging" the jury and saving Quesse at that time. The actual offense for which he was convicted was perjury during his examination as a venireman.

JAIL FOR QUACKS IS URGED AS WAY TO GUARD PUBLIC

Milwaukee Doctor Asks for Finish Fight.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

Good physicians are so busy learning to be better ones they haven't the time to prosecute the quacks now wriggling their legal way into the profession, Dr. Henry L. Banzhaf of Milwaukee yesterday pointed out to the 250 delegates to the annual congress on medical education and licensing at the Congress hotel.

It's the same, he believes, with the good dentist and the charlatan.

In both professions, according to Dr. Banzhaf, president of the American Association of Dental Schools, the remedy for the diploma mill situation lies in the immediate union of the physicians and dentists to institute a simultaneous campaign in every city and hamlet of the United States against the quacks and the quack schools."

Asks for Combined Effort.

"Each group," said Dr. Banzhaf, "should interest itself in the problems of the other. Combined they would be an effective check to legislation which encourages exploitation of the public by the various groups of fake adjusters and healers."

Reviewing the recent exposé of a diploma mill in St. Louis and another in Connecticut, the speaker reminded his audience that "the time is ripe for this combined effort."

"Both professions," he added, "should make a united, vigorous campaign against the charlatans, quacks, and the criminal clinics."

Some of those against whom he wanted the fight waged are "base individuals who in their chase for the dollar stoop to deceit, blackmail, and even murder."

Favors Jail Sentences.

"A few healthy jail sentences," he predicted, "would have salutary effect not only as a deterrent but as a warning to the public."

Dr. Charles E. Prior of Boston, who will address the convention this morning, will declare that the inferior medical school is often the poor boy's only opportunity.

"Never has there been a time in the history of medical education," Dr. Prior will declare, "when a poor boy of average ability could get an education in a first class medical college as easily as he can today."

Dr. Henry W. Briggs of Wilmington, Del., who has made a survey of medical colleges in the United States, will talk this morning on "Present Opportunities for Medical Study in the United States." Dr. Briggs' survey shows that fifteen years ago there were 160 medical colleges in this country, more than in all the rest of the world.

Fewer but Better Schools.

Following the campaign started in 1910 by the American Medical association for the improvement of these schools and colleges, many of them died, others made combinations. At present there are but eighty medical colleges, of which, according to Dr. Briggs, sixty-five are in class "A."

How to lure brilliant young internes into the "family doctor" field was presented yesterday by Dr. Ethan Flagg Butler of Sayre, Pa.

General practice, Dr. Butler pointed out, is being forsaken for specialization, because the specialist has more regular hours, larger fees, and greater opportunity for research.

Pleads for Family Doctor.

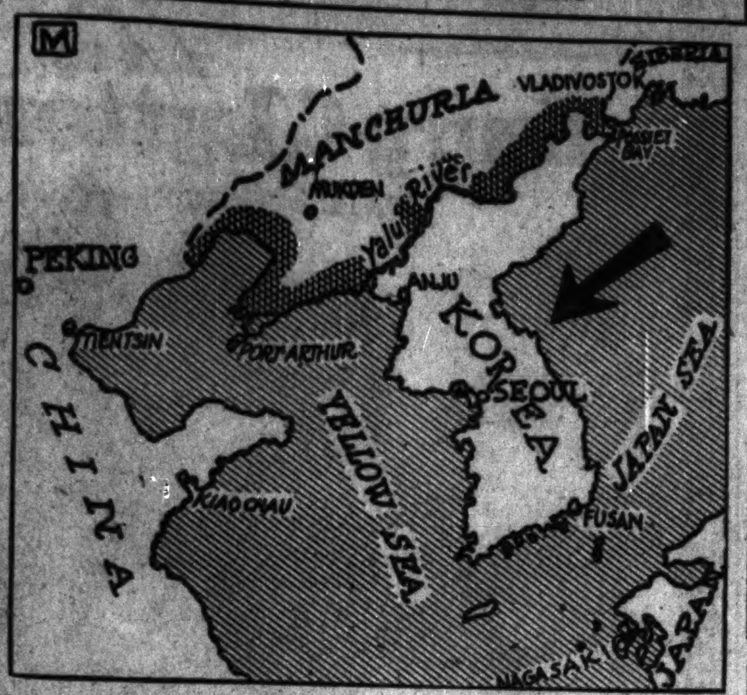
If the small town "family doctor" can't get to the university, bring the university to the doctor, urged Dr. Butler in presenting a plan for the convenient presentation of extension courses by the medical colleges.

An important step forward in the prosecution of medical quacks and imposters will be presented this afternoon when Harry Eugene Kelly of the Chicago bar will discuss the "Regulation by Law of the Occupation of Healing Disease of Human Beings."

NEW JAPANESE PROBLEM



BY RODERICK MATHESON.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

TOKIO, March 4.—The Japanese are growing nervous over the Corean situation as reports reaching Tokio indicate increasing hostility of the populace.

Following the massacre of Coreans in Japan after the earthquake of last September many Coreans have taken oaths to kill ten Japanese for every Corean slain.

The recent series of arrests of Japanese in Vladivostok have been traced to the accusations of Corean informers in the employ of the Russian government.

As a result of the Corean unrest open aggression by the Russians and the possibility of a rapprochement between the soviets and Chinese Tokio has been requested to reinforce the garrison in Corea with from two to five divisions. It is also believed that the present situation actuated the Japanese in their decision not to withdraw the military guards from the South Manchurian railway.

Delayed and censored mail received here from Siberia indicates that it is the Russian intention to drive the Japanese out of Vladivostok.

SCOUT TROOP 516 ENTERS STUART PAINTING DRIVE

Other Units Due to Aid Campaign.

Another organization—the Boy Scouts—yesterday joined in the campaign to purchase for Chicago the famous Gilbert Stuart painting of George Washington, now hanging in the Art institute. The first Boy Scout troop to contribute to the fund was Trinity Church troop No. 516, which sent to THE TRIBUNE a check for $30.85 and an enthusiastic letter.

"Come on scouts," read the letter, signed by George Wood, master of the troop, "who will be number two to help give this wonderful painting a ride? Don't all speak at once or you will jam the comptometer. Make it possible for your children to say: 'Daddy helped buy this historic portrait'."

Other scout troops are expected to follow the lead of troop 516 and work to swell the portrait fund.

More from Schools.

Contributions of the public school children continued to roll in yesterday, although most of the schools have not yet made their returns to the office of the superintendent. In many schools "Penny day" was continued for two or three days to give the children an opportunity to help purchase the portrait.

Many other contributions were also received during the day, the largest being a $100 check from Philip D. Armour, sent to the Art institute. THE TRIBUNE will acknowledge and turn over to the Art institute all contributions sent to it, and letters may be addressed to the editor of THE TRIBUNE or to Robert B. Harshe, director of the Art institute.

TAKE POLITICIAN WITH 15 OTHERS IN GARMENT WAR

Street fights between nonunion workers, the police, and the striking members of the Ladies' Garment Workers' union yesterday led to the arrest of fifteen men and women strikers and Attorney Martin S. Gordon, 4640 North Monticello avenue, candidate for state representative. The latter was taken into custody when, the police say, he refused to "move on" at West Adams and South Franklin streets where strikers were making trouble. He denied having a part in the strike.

The dress manufacturers filed two petitions in the Superior court late in the afternoon asking that the strikers be restrained from picketing South Market street between West Van Buren and West Adams streets. The bills charge conspiracy on the part of the union workers to force compliance with their demands for a 10 per cent pay increase, a forty hour week, and the establishment of an unemployment fund. Judges Charles M. Foell and Denis E. Sullivan will hear the petitions today.

SENATE PLANS TO PUT $50,000,000 INTO TAX BILL

May Substitute Mellon Figures on Normal Tax.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—The senate finance committee which must now wrestle with the tax reduction bill may make an effort to increase the revenue to be gained therefrom by $50,000,000 in order to make the bill square with the estimated surplus for 1925.

Today treasury officials estimated that the bill as passed by the house will mean a loss in revenue of $446,000,000 during 1925, and administration leaders hope that the deficit can be made up before the bill is enacted into law.

Two Plans Discussed.

To acquire this increased revenue several suggestions are being considered by the finance committee. Among them are that normal taxes be increased from the house rates to the level of the Mellon plan, or that a 1 per cent surtax rate be restored on incomes from $6,000 to $10,000. In the house bill the surtaxes begin at $10,000, with a rate of 1½ per cent up to $12,000. It is estimated that $50,000,000 additional revenue could be raised with these changes.

The treasury estimates which were prepared for the information of the senate finance committee show that the bill as passed will cause a loss of $130,000,000 from normal tax rates, $150,000,000 from surtax rates, $90,000,000 from earned income, and $126,000,000 from the repeal and reduction of miscellaneous excite taxes. Against these losses is an estimated gain of $50,000,000 from a limitation of deductions for capital losses.

Loss of $340,000,000.

According to the treasury estimates the original Mellon plan would have meant a loss in revenue of $323,000,000, while the bill as reported from the house ways and means committee would have meant a loss of about $340,000,000. The Garner plan was estimated to cause a loss of $559,000,000 for the calendar year 1925. The figures are disputed in some quarters, where it is contended that allowances made for the effect of low or high surtax rates upon business are not fully justified.

Consideration of the tax bill will be commenced by the senate finance committee on Thursday, Senator Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the committee, announced today. He said the committee will hold legislative sessions first and that such hearings as take place will be sandwiched in from time to time. The committee, he said, does not desire to duplicate the hearings on the house ways and means committee, and witnesses will be called only in connection with provisions of the house bill over which there is a controversy.

Finish in Three Weeks.

Representatives of industries affected by the various excise taxes repealed in the house bill will not be heard except in cases where it is proposed to restore a tax. It is doubted, however, if any of the miscellaneous taxes repealed in the house bill are put back. Senator Smoot believes the committee will conclude consideration of the bill within three weeks.

While Senator Smoot personally favors a surtax maximum below 37½ per cent, as provided in the house bill, it is the understanding that he feels that there is little chance of reducing it.

DECLARES POPE HALTED TRIAL OF FORMER KAISER

Ludendorff Scored as Ungrateful.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

MUNICH, Bavaria, March 3.—The late Pope Benedict, Cardinal Gasparri, and the Japanese delegation to the Versailles conference prevented the extradition of former Kaiser William from Holland and the delivery of Gen. Ludendorff and Field Marshal von Hindenburg to the allied governments, Baron Cramerklett asserted today in a severe arraignment of Gen. Ludendorff for his attacks on Catholicism and his outbursts against the pope during his trial for treason. Baron Cramerklett called Gen. Ludendorff an ungrateful wretch.

Accused Finish Testimony.

MUNICH, Bavaria, March 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—The testimony of all the defendants in the treason trial, in which Gen. Ludendorff and Adolph Hitler are the chief figures, was completed this afternoon. The task of hearing 150 witnesses, including Dr. von Kahr, the former Bavarian dictator, and Gen. von Lossow, commander of the reichswehr, will begin tomorrow.

The substance of the defendants' testimony was designed to put the onus on Von Kahr, Von Lossow, and Von Seisser, former chief of the state police, as having agreed to the putsch, but as having backed out at the last moment without giving Ludendorff and Hitler any hint of their intentions.

"Double Cross" Spoiled Revolt.

The defendants were all agreed that they had been double crossed by the three officials, with whom they had often conferred, and that the putsch did not succeed because it lacked their support, which they had promised.

It appears from the court records that Von Kahr, Von Lossow, and Von Seisser believed that plans of revolt had been extensively organized, and even had the support of the north German junkers, but withdraw about the time it started, when they realized that it was nothing more than an impulsive bere hall movement which could not succeed.

TURKEY VOTES TO DEPOSE CALIPH; HAREM PACKS UP

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—The national assembly at Angora today passed a bill calling for the deposition of the caliph and the abolition of the caliphate. All the members of the caliph's harem are expected to sail for Alexandria on March 15. Prince Orchan, grandson of the late Sultan Abdul Hamid and a student at Robert college, is on the list of those to be expelled.

Turk Action Worries Britain.

LONDON, March 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—The sponsoring by the Turkish government of the bills calling for the abolition of the caliphate and the suppression of religious instruction in Turkey has been the cause of much speculation on the part of British officials regarding what will be the effect of these drastic measures in India and other Mohammedan countries.

The British have been unalterably opposed to doing away with the caliphate because the spiritual jurisdiction of the caliph extended, nominally at least, over Great Britain's 70,000,000 Moslem subjects in India. With a view to maintaining quietude among this vast multitude, the British government, it became known today, will let Turkey severely alone during the radical transitions which that country is experiencing.

Judging from the past, however, observers here expressed the belief today that it would be too much to expect that Great Britain will escape severe criticism for whatever happens to Allah's earthly representative. The Indian agitators, among whom the Moslems, under the leadership of the Ali brothers, are most aggressively radical, will, it is thought by the observers, seize upon every development in Turkey as an additional grievance against British rule in India.

Hedjaz King Seeks Job.

With former Sultan Mohammed VI. in exile, and Abdul Medjid Effendi, the caliph, deposed, a new religious head for the Moslem world will, it is thought, be sought ultimately outside Turkey. The British government is said to be aware that King Hussein of the Hedjaz, who controls the sacred city of Mecca, desires to set himself up as caliph of all the Mussulmans; but in competent quarters it was said today that it is unlikely, for political and other reasons, that Hussein will be selected.

Some persons favor the reinstatement of former Sultan Mohammed VI. in power; but it is said to be generally felt that his age and his feeble physical condition disqualify him.

The ameer of Afghanistan also has offered himself as a candidate for caliph, but, like Hussein, he is held, for political reasons, to be ineligible.

In the meantime, some concern is being manifested in authoritative quarters here regarding the outcome of the abolition of the caliphate and of religious instruction in general on the peasants of Turkey, in whose lives religion always has played a very large part.

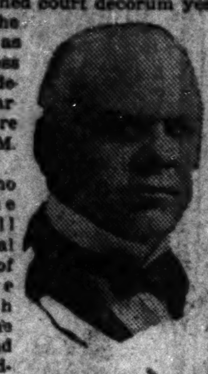
FAHERTY PLACES "EXTRAS" ON HIS OWN SHOULDERS

Takes Responsibility for $28,000 Payment.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Michael J. Faherty brushed aside lawyers and ruined court decorum yesterday when he took the stand as the last witness in his own defense in the larceny trial before Judge Wells M. Cook.



JAMES J. BARBOUR.

Spectators who have filled the benches all through the trial despite its lack of sensations were shaken with laughter at the quick retorts and the play for advantage between Faherty and Special Prosecutor James J. Barbour.

When Attorneys Clarence Darrow and P. H. O'Donnell sought to protect their client the witness shouted:

"Let him go ahead; I'll answer any darn question he wants to ask."

Mr. Barbour sought to find out whether the late "Billy" Cooke, one of the organizers of the White Paving company, was one of the political associates of William Lorimer.

Offers to Gamble in Court.

"I was fighting Lorimer when you were for him," shot back the witness.

"I never was with Lorimer in my life," shouted the prosecutor.

"I'll bet a ten dollar bill you were with him," said Faherty, reaching into his pocket for his roll.

Mr. Faherty said that Cooke came to his office with Michael White in 1915 and informed him that White was in the paving business in Wisconsin and was coming to Chicago "to help break up the combination that was holding me back."

"I told him he was welcome," said the witness.

Admits $28,000 Extras.

The former head of the board of public improvements took full responsibility for the extra payment of $28,000 to the White Paving company on which the trial is based. He made no attempt at evasion.

He had hoped, he admitted, to give the White company the South Water street contract. But that contract was never let.

He was asked about the employment of his son, Edward, by the White Paving company.

"Well, I had five sons in the war," he said. "This one had two children and I wanted to make a good contractor of him. He has a reputation now as a curb layer."

"You had two sons working for the city? Roger, who sits at this table, was drawing $50 a day from the city law department?"

"Well, he is worth it. A Yale man and a good lawyer."

Asked About River Trip.

Mr. Faherty was asked about a river trip with the Thompson party in 1916.

"Yes, I went along. There was plenty of eating, singing, and some drinking."

"You went to get this paving work for the White company?"

"No, I went to get Herman Schuettler appointed chief of police."

At a statement from the witness that he was in a position to "make White go ahead" with paving work, the prosecutor stopped the cross-examination.

Kier Davis, a public accountant, testified that the White company would have lost money in 1920 if they had received only the amounts named in their original contracts with the city.

TUT DIED OF T. B. AT 19, AUTHOR OF HIS LIFE ASSERTS

King Tut died from T. B.

"How do we know?" asked Mr. Bishara Nahas, author of "The Life and Times of Tut-Ankh-Amen," and answered, "By a statue showing protruding shoulder blades, narrow cheek bones, distended nostrils, an expression of suffering in the eyes, and other symptoms of tuberculosis."

What age was Tut-Ankh-Amen that men should call him old?

"Only 19," said this authority on his countryman, and went on to explain that there was nothing extraordinary about the young ruler, nor even about his tomb; interest had been aroused merely because it was the first pharaoh tomb to be found unopened.

Mr. Nahas came to America to foster better trade relations between this country and Egypt, and is in Chicago studying progressive business methods. He is delivering a series of lectures in the middle west under a New York agency.

SPOTLIGHT UPON YOUNG AS HERRIN RUM TRIAL OPENS

Danville, Ill., March 3.—During the arraignment of 226 liquor defendants from Williamson county today in the Danville district court, deputy United States marshals in the corridor leading to the courtroom intervened and prevented a physical encounter between S. Glenn Young, former Ku Klux klan raider at Herrin and vicinity, and Charles Berger, proprietor of a roadhouse between Marion and Herrin.

Young declared he had authority to make arrests under a special deputy commission given him by Sheriff Timm of Danville several months ago. Timm was called to the federal building soon afterward and revoked this commission.

Jury Begins Its Work.

Following the arraignment of the 226 defendants, Judge Lindley caused some surprise and consternation among the bootleggers by barring judges of city and state courts from appearing as counsel for persons accused of violating the prohibition laws. This order will prevent Judge W. S. Hill of Benton and Judge Clayton of Johnson City from acting. Both had appeared in court as attorney for about fifty of the accused persons.

A similar order will be asked by Assistant District Attorney L. T. Allen barring state's attorneys and assistant state's attorneys from representing any of the defendants.

Only Two Plead Guilty.

Two of the 226 defendants pleaded guilty. They were J. G. Gregory of Colp and Tom Cromer of Dumaine, both colored. They admitted possession of intoxicating liquor. Gregory was fined $50 and Cromer $250.

The trials of those pleading not guilty were set to start March 24, most of the defendants furnishing bail.

Probe Begins at Herrin.

Marion, Ill., March 4.—[Special.]—The grand jury investigating Williamson county's last outbreak, which resulted in open warfare and the calling of state troops, started grinding today, with Guy Minton, a Herrin merchant, as foreman.

The special jury convened in the Herrin city hall and was instructed by City Judge E. N. Bowen, who said "things are disgraceful in Herrin today. Herrin's clothes are dirty and need cleaning."

The company of state troops which has been on guard ever since the recent uprising was on hand today.

IF you are careless and indifferent, you may not care what you eat; but if you want health and success, you will eat only food that is pure and clean.

It is always interesting to be reminded that in the Ontra kitchens the highest possible standard is everyday procedure and that the excellent materials Miss Dutton provides are so painstakingly cared for that every bit of food served is clean and wholesome.

While cooked foods must be hygienically handled, it is true, the standard of cleanliness in the care of uncooked foods must be 100% perfect. And we now know that if we are to be efficient and well we must eat some uncooked foods each day.

The salad table in each Ontra kitchen is Miss Dutton's particular pride. There some of her most competent workers are employed, some of them college trained women.

On an immaculately clean table these food experts, gowned in spotless white, wash, prepare and assemble the food that is to appear as tempting salad in the Ontra dining-room.

Miss Dutton invites you to drop in to the Ontra kitchens some afternoon and see for yourself the standard of housekeeping she maintains every day.

NORTH SHORE LINE

On the Railroad Depends the Life of the Nation

LIKE a spider's web, a great net-work of railroad lines radiate from Chicago to the farther-most ends of the country.

On this web depend the life, prosperity and growth of our Nation.

Everywhere along the separate strands of this structure are great cities, enormous industries—big producing centers.

Their birth, growth and present wealth are due to the presence of the railroad. And because they grew and prospered, railroad service improved, progressed and expanded.

Numbered among the myriad threads of this great web is the North Shore Line which has proved an important factor in the industrial, civic and financial development of the territory from Chicago, along the north shore to Milwaukee.

Today, this territory is a thriving, prosperous section of more than 4,000,000 people and the richest, healthiest market in the world.

The Charles A. Coffin Medal awarded to the North Shore Line for distinguished contribution to the development of electrical transportation for the convenience of the public and the benefit of the industry.

BEER AND THE BONUS.

Wayne B. Wheeler, who keeps congress in line for the Anti-Saloon league, says that the fifty congressmen who are for 2.75 beer are bungstarters and that they had better make their stuff good by doing it April 1. He says congress cannot legalize 2.75 beer because it is intoxicating, and the constitution prohibits intoxicating beverages.

Mr. Wheeler should put his shirt back on. Congress will not hurt the constitution by redefining intoxicating beverages. Mr. Wheeler probably would be in charge of the case if carried to the Supreme court. If the court said the act was unconstitutional we'd be as we now are, and the bootleggers and beer runners would be more pleased than Mr. Wheeler possibly could be.

A great many agents of government also would be pleased and prosperity would continue to abide with them and in Nassau, Scotland, and Quebec. Mr. Wheeler says that patriotic ex-service men resent the effort to make them stand for beer by saying that the tax on it would pay their bonus. He is convinced that the soldiers will give the bonus up rather than take beer along with it. Maybe so, but it may be news to a great many men who fought in France.

Beer and the bonus would make the survivors of the A. E. F. think that this was at last a land fit for heroes. Some of them think it was pretty rough that while they were trying to save France from Germany no one at home tried to save them from Mr. Wheeler.

Beer would pay the bonus easily. Mr. Mellon could have his way with taxes. The soldiers could have their bonus. The plain people could have their beer. That is what the congressional bungstarters would do and it would make a happy land.

NO TAG DAY FOR ART.

A contributor who sends $25 to the Art institute toward the fund for purchase of the Gilbert Stuart portrait of George Washington suggests authorization of a tag day to raise funds to complete the purchase. That, we believe, would be an error.

The appeal for funds for the famous painting is an appeal to the artistic impulse of Chicagoans, to their civic pride, to their patriotism, and to their generosity. Purchase of the picture with funds raised through such an appeal would be a credit to the city, and the possession of the painting would be a constant inspiration to patriotism and artistic taste. But that appeal in itself ought to be sufficient to secure the necessary funds. It ought not to be necessary to station several hundred women at street corners to hold up pedestrians and take their dimes and quarters, to be added to the fund, but given more to escape embarrassment than because of any interest in the object of art and patriotism.

Tag days for authorized organized charities, if properly limited and controlled, have something to be said in their favor. They offer the casual giver a chance to contribute to good causes and supply charitable funds which otherwise could not be maintained. But indiscriminate authorization of tag days defeats their best purpose, and a tag day for the Washington portrait fund would put somewhat of a blight upon that fund.

The opportunities to contribute to it are ample without such an arrangement. If the various unselfish, high minded, and cultured people and organizations of Chicago cannot give enough money for this purpose without being held up against a corner and relieved of a quarter each, neither they nor Chicago ought to have this work of art.

THE ARMED CITIZENRY.

Two male babies were picked up on the streets by the police. Each kid had a .22 caliber pistol, purchased by mail for $1.19. They intended to do something with them, but they didn't know just what; and, being puzzled as to where to begin shooting, they attracted police attention and were disarmed before any one was killed. It's a gay life, with the mail order houses furnishing the gimcracks with which to make a holiday. Rome at its best was a dull burg.

RUNNING THE CAR USER RAGGED.

New York gives subway transportation with a 5 cent fare by contributing about $25,000,000 a year to the operation. It does that by not getting rental for the subways. Instead of obtaining a revenue on the money put into the subways it passes this along to the users by making a 5 cent fare possible.

Chicago pays 7 cents on the lines which contribute to the city's traction fund. New York gave subways to the car users. Chicago is taking a fund from them—and not using it for their benefit. The difference in policy is considerable and the difference in consequences is greater. For the best transportation Chicago has, aside from the steam roads, the user pays ten cents. For transportation much better the New York user pays 5 cents.

We build streets and put them at the service of private individuals free. Busses may use them by obtaining license. A subway is merely another road. It is a road placed where rapid transit is possible. A good argument could be made for the advantage to a city of giving the car users a new road and allowing them to get from this expenditure of public money good transportation at low fare. That would be a general city benefit and would be reflected in city advance. We need not think that Chicago's position in the country is fixed by fate. It is entirely possible for a more progressive city, just as well located with respect to resources, to outstrip us.

The city will not progress without a sound transportation policy. As a matter of fact it is not progressing satisfactorily or at least not at the rate it could, and it will not so long as it is held down by the inferiority complex.

Whether or not there is a general agreement that it would be good for the city as a body of taxpayers to do something for the car users, it at least will be agreed that it is not good to take money from them and give them nothing. The only thing which will do them any real good is a subway—and they have paid for one.

THE G. O. P. MUST CLEAN UP.

The bipartisan committee named by the senate to investigate charges against Attorney General Daugherty has begun its work. Out of its efforts ought to come action which will clear up to the most minute detail the unsavory mess in which the department of justice under Daugherty has become involved. The government needs the bath for its effect upon public opinion, whether it needs it for its own sake or not. And in that case, we may repeat, Mr. Daugherty must go, even if he is cleared of any charge of malfeasance. He ought to go immediately, and regardless of any inquiry or any findings. He has admitted speculating in Sinclair Oil stock while in office. That doesn't have to be proved. It is an impropriety sufficient to destroy his usefulness, and no man has a right to continue in public office after his usefulness has been destroyed.

Mr. Daugherty owes it to his country, to his party, to his official associates, and to himself to get out. He may then, with equal propriety, make a fight to defend his honor and clear his name.

Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania has the situation correctly estimated when he says the Republican party must accept responsibility for the deeds of unworthy men who passed the scrutiny of President Harding in obtaining office. It is a Republican responsibility, and no one knows that better than the party leaders. It is not necessary for the Democrats to cry the fact aloud to the world. And, being a Republican responsibility, no one should be more eager, as none can be better able, to clear it up.

The responsibility for correction now lies largely, though not entirely, in the hands of the senate committee. Its decision must be so comprehensive and clear that not a shred of doubt or suspicion of any public official shall remain. President Coolidge and other departments of the government ought to be working eagerly to the same end.

A NEW CHICAGO POSTOFFICE.

Two bills introduced in congress authorizing the expenditure of $6,000,000 for the purchase of a new Chicago postoffice site and the erection of a building will give Chicagoans a thrill. We ought to have an adequate new postoffice, properly located. We need it. A vast section of the country needs it, and needs to have it located in Chicago as the railroad center and chief junction point of mails in the United States. It is a potential investment which would pay immediate dividends to all parts of the country by facilitating postal service.

The new bills do not select a site, but it may be assumed that a site outside the loop, and convenient to the railroad stations through which most of the through mails must pass, would be chosen if the appropriation were allowed. Such a site exists in the two blocks between the Northwestern and Union railway stations. By selecting such a site and erecting a thoroughly modern and adequate postoffice building thereon, incalculable wasted effort and much delay would be eliminated.

The loop is no proper place for a main postoffice. It is already too congested. No mail should pass through it except that which originates within it or is addressed for delivery within it. Anything else is inefficient.

The present postoffice was outgrown before it was completed. For many years the city has been trying to obtain an improved building on a more practicable site. It is not political pork which is sought, but a federal investment which would speed the mails not only for Chicago but for innumerable other towns and regions whose mail must pass through Chicago. Let's have it.

The Other Side

"THE BIRTH OF A CANDIDACY."

[Dwight Standard and Herald.]

Last week, in the first article of this series of political chapters, the plot was discussed. This week some of the characters will be brought upon the stage, the heroes, the comedians, the lackeys and perhaps a villain or two, according to the way the reader looks at it, all working for the political downfall of Governor Small. The article might well bear the head, "The Birth of a Candidacy," and will necessarily introduce the characters contributing to the event.

The Chicago Tribune will hardly take offense at being assigned the character of "Father" of the candidacy, as it is the candidacy of Mr. Essington. Well and good. The candidacy of Mr. Essington has a father, and the father is strutting around in the blustering way which fathers usually have, boasting about the che-ild. Be-hold! The child is now Mr. Essington and Mr. Essington is the child. Mr. Essington has been branded with The Tribune's irons, and woe unto him if he strays from The Tribune's pasture. The Chicago Tribune, if it runs true to form, and it will, no doubt, will demand that Mr. Essington uphold the policies and obey the mandates of The Tribune. Thus far Mr. Essington has proven very docile and tractable to The Tribune's voice. As state senator, he voted against the good roads bill and worked against it. He also voted on every other point of contest as The Tribune said to vote and has therefore received The Tribune immunity bath as well as the brand.

What are The Tribune's policies? Rule or ruin has been the outstanding policy of dictators throughout the ages. The Tribune is not a Republican newspaper, but it attempts to dictate the nominees of the Republican party. It could not rule Gov. Small, but it is doing its best to ruin him in the eyes of the people of the state and the nation.

SO SNAPPY.

The young man was fondling her right hand.

"A nice diamond," he said, awkwardly. "Diamonds are beautiful stones, but on the other hand—"

"O, Jack," she murmured, "you make me so happy."—K. C. Star.

JUST AT THIS TIME.

Queries, quotes and exclamation marks have been freely used to inject sarcasm into the written word; but a wicked use of the dash was this: "Dear sir, I am sorry but I shall not be able to use your—story."—New York Journal.

THE MOST USEFUL CITIZEN.

THE Birmingham [Ala.] News each year presents a loving cup to that person who has been selected as Birmingham's most useful citizen. This year the committee selected the health commissioner, Dr. J. D. Dowling, as the most useful citizen and upon him the newspaper bestowed the cup at a large meeting. Among the presentation addresses was one made by Mrs. Mary Echols, one of the city commissioners, for Birmingham has a commission form of government and one of the elected commissioners is a woman.

She said: "At one time I made the remark—the health department was not particularly popular just then—'Some day Birmingham will build a monument to Dr. Dowling.'

"We have not got quite that far as yet, but the Birmingham News loving cup committee did the best they could and awarded him this cup."

A cup to a living man may not be equal to a monument to a dead one, but I doubt if the recipient to the cup would swap it for a monument. Mrs. Echols had reference to the fact that less than two years ago Dr. Dowling was subjected to some indignities and told to leave town. He had been active in trying to get a milk ordinance and this punishment was charged to that activity. Dr. Dowling, not being fond of quitting, stuck to his guns and his neighbors stood by him. One of the speakers said that those who fought him hardest had come to like him best.

This brings to mind Ibsen's story of the "Enemy of the People"—a physician who protected his people against polluted water and was condemned and maligned therefor, though I do not recall that Ibsen's character ever got a loving cup.

One of the causes of Dowling's activity a few years ago was a typhoid epidemic spread by ice cream. In 1923 Birmingham had a typhoid rate of 7.7. Compare a rate of 17 in 1921 with an average rate of 31.5 in 1916 to 1920.

In commenting editorially on typhoid fever in the United States in 1923, the Journal of the American Medical Association says: "Such cities as Memphis, Atlanta, Nashville, and Dallas may well be encouraged to renew their efforts by the success achieved by such cities as Richmond, Baltimore, and particularly Louisville, and, more recently, by Birmingham and New Orleans." Birmingham honored itself in declaring its health officer its most useful citizen.

WON'T DRINK WATER.

Mrs. C. C. writes:

1. My baby is 6 months old and he won't drink water. Is there any harm in this?

2. I give him oatmeal, but he will not eat it if not sweetened. Should this be done?

3. Is there any food that I can give him besides oatmeal, such as vegetables or soup?

REPLY:

1. He probably gets all the water he needs from his milk and other foods.

2. Yes.

3. Give him soup, vegetables, fruit juice and bread. Start with fruit juice. Next add strained soups. When you add vegetables see that they are well cooked and finely mashed.

The crackers and hard bread given at first are given principally as objects to be gnawed on.

NO HARM IN LIME.

H. S. M. writes: Our family is using drinking water from springs and wells that are highly impregnated with lime. Our cooking utensils show a lime sediment in a very short time. What effect does this lime have upon the human system? Will it produce kidney or bladder trouble, weak backs, and other disorders if used for drinking water?

REPLY.

Probably none at all.

There are no statistics which show that people in hard water areas died earlier than those who live where the water is soft.

Fortunately, the excess of mineral in the water is thrown off by the bowels. But little of the excess ever gets beyond the stomach and intestines.

IT WON'T KILL, AT LEAST.

W. B. W. writes: Many old newspaper workers, "deskmen" especially, are chronic pipe smokers. The smoking habit grows and often results in sleeplessness, indigestion, eye troubles and at times more serious illness. I find that chewing gum—of course quietly, unobtrusively—in a degree reduces the wish to smoke. 'Tis, so far as I know, a harmless substitute. Do many try it, and what says old Doc Evans as to the idea?

REPLY.

If newspaper desk men smoked cigarets or cigars while at work, they would set the house afire. The pipe is the only tool of destruction which is practicable under the circumstances; therefore, pipe smoking has survived.

As you intimate, it is harmful. If they keep it up, they fail to survive. That is, they do not accord to the law of averages.

Your suggestion of gum chewing as an act which will give outlet to the motor urge is not a bad one. It is, in no sense, a killer.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of the writers.

BONUS PAYMENTS.

Chicago, March 2.—[Friend of the People.]—Have you any idea about how many people have applied for the Illinois bonus? I read in your paper that claims will be received until Jan. 1, 1925. They are certainly giving every man a chance to apply. I did not send my application until late and my claim number is in the 225,000s. Do you think I will be paid out of the present issue of funds? E. F. D.

270,935 applications have been filed to date.

It is hardly probable that they will reach your check with this issue of funds. More bonds are to be sold on March 20.

PROBABLY NOT TAXABLE.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 28.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A man died leaving a will saying that his estate should be converted into money which must be invested in a paidup annuity to his widow during the remainder of her life. The annuity is $900. Must she pay any kind of tax? J. S.

If she has no other income, it would be covered by her exemption so that there would be no income tax. If the estate is less than $50,000 there would be no federal inheritance tax. We cannot advise as to state inheritance tax without knowing what state law applies.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

INJURED AT WORK.

Chicago, Feb. 29.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I sprained my back and suffered other injuries at work, and was given four weeks' compensation. I think I will have to have an operation as the result of the injuries. Will I have to have this done by the insurance company or can I get my own doctor? A. M.

They are under no obligation to pay your doctor. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

DIVORCE FOR DESERTION.

Chicago, Feb. 29.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I am told that desertion must be for two years before one can apply for a divorce in this state. I thought it was only one year. Please settle this for me. How long must a person live in this state before the case is called? J. S.

Desertion must continue two years in order to be a ground for divorce. Complainant must have resided a year in the state.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

RETURN.

Please build a little fire where the snow, Love,
Drifts on thy heart,
And, as it flickers, blend into its glow, Love,
Thy dreamer's art.
So, when the ice is thawed into soft rain,
Love,
Upon thy breast,
Old flowers may begin to bloom again, Love,
And birds to nest.
Pray do not think me bold because I sing,
Love,
For canst thou see? . . .
I am the vagrant breath of each new spring,
Love,
Awakening thee!

Grace B. Starbuck.

SENATOR GEORGE WHARTON PEPPER of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania said very dramatically at a dinner in Philadelphia that the Republican party must shoulder its own cross. The Republican party, George, does not mind shouldering its own cross, but it just hates like the mischief to have Teapot Dome on the other shoulder.

THOSE SIX IMPORTANT WORDS.

Dick: Speaking of the garrulous sex, there be only six important words. They are: "How strong! How clever! How wonderful!" These words are responsible for diamond rings, fur coats, strings of pearls, wedding bells, black eyes, suicides, divorces, and schoolhouses. ROMANY GEORGE.

GET HIS NAME, HANK. WE'LL WANT TO KNOW WHERE TO SHIP THE BODY.

R. H. L.: I've enjoyed the Line for a long while. A very long time. But when you started putting in such rot and nonsense as that Marian stuff I got a bad taste in my mouth. Why, you know, as well as I do, that women have no business in the scheme of outdoor life. No place at all. They've gotten as far as they have only through such silly sentimentalists as this Mel-o'-D. As far as the outdoors is concerned, woman's place is in the home.

I get downright mad when I stop to think how I've had to forsake my favorite place to fish, only because there's been too confounded many women around. I can't even get far enough north to find a place where there won't be a lot of simpering, knicker-clad sapheads. They're all the same—hopeless! This Marian is probably worse than the average. She sounds like it. Keep her and the rest of her tribe out. You could do it if you wouldn't give them any encouragement.

LOUP GAROU.

AND THANK YOU, GADDER, AND THE BEST OF LUCK.

R. H. L.: Am far and long away from the red-headed wife and kiddies tonight, and with the bonded stuff at six a copy can't afford to long distance home. To me last Saturday's Line was a wonder. It was like an unexpected and friendly hand on your shoulder. You may never have as much money as Mr. Ford—but he never got a letter from me praising him on anything he ever turned out. Sincerely, CEB.

WE'VE SEEN hundreds, aye thousands, of cartoons the last week or two, and we've got an original idea for some clever, wide-awake, snappy cartoonist. We suggest that one of them there birds draw a picture of the capitol at Washington with the dome looking something like a tea-pot. And then have a lot of very black oil spouting right out of the top. Wouldn't that be wonderful!

ASK MR. A. M. NEWMAN. WE'VE ASKED HIM UNTIL WE'VE LOST OUR VOICE.

R. H. L.: Now that I've "Made the Line," when do I buy the M. T. L. pin? My latest beau has the sweetest frat pin, but he won't give it to me unless I give him my M. T. L. pin. Please help a poor girl out. You know how men are. In distress, DINA MITE, H. P. '24.

THE BOON.

Let Failure's dark cloud every promise enshroud
Wherever the sunlight streams;
Let Fortune withhold all her guerdon of gold—
But give me my dreams—my dreams!

Though laurels of Fame shall never my name
Entwine while the Glory gleams;
Though the favor of Fate be an empty estate—
Yet spare me my dreams—my dreams!

Though vainly I grope toward a vanishing hope
That never a wrong redeems,
And ashes at last be my acrid repast—
Still, leave me my dreams—my dreams!

Walter Hurt.

WHERE THOU GOEST I WILL GO—

R. H. L.: All I've gotta say is this—I'd give more for Colorado Pete's little finger than for Mel-o'-D and a Rolls-Royce thrown in. There's something about Pete's way of talking about washed-out stars and singing a drowsy old gypsy song when the moon rides high that just gets me. Mel-o'-D's soppy talk of canoes and ukuleles is wearing on me—one more reference to it and I'll crack a lung—but listen, if Pete would only take me with him on that dusty trail he was talking about, I'd—Ooo, I don't know just what I'd do, but I know this—I'd never, never ask for anything but just to ramble on for ever 'n' ever with him.

DORA THEE.

CARRIED!

R. H. L.: McAdoo now says he'd rather be in California than in the White House. Do I hear any objections? None. Then it is unanimous. EM-EL-DE-EM.

BUT WHAT OF THE GENTLE READER?

R. H. L.: Please, please have a column sometime which you make from a lot of contribs picked at random, as that lady said last Sat. We'd all like to see just what it would be like—to make a comparison, you know, with your other columns. It would delight the contributors. Let's hear what they say about it. ACON OF WISCON.

MR. VANDERLIP says that Cal asked Daugherty to resign. Cal says he didn't. Frank says he wishes to go on the witness stand and that he will then and there declare under oath and give proof that Cal asked Mr. Daugherty to quit. But, darn it, Frank, when they do put you on the stand you'll say what you heard was a chocolate ice cream soda asking a quart of sarsaparilla to get out of the fountain, and that the reporters misquoted you.

GREATER LOVE HATH NO MAN THAN THIS.

R. H. L.: I don't give a hang if you slip till you land in the last ¼ column of the want ad section on the last page; I'll still look for and read the Line. Yours till H. F. O. F. L. WHALEY.

BILL WRIGLEY has not quit Hiram Johnson. Harold Ickes, Mr. Johnson's manager, said so in John Eastman's Journal yesterday. "Wrigley is going to stick," said Mr. Ickes. Harold, were you speaking of Bill or his chewing gum? R. H. L.

A PASTOR'S VIEW OF THE LOST BATTALION.

Deerfield, Ill., March 1.—A living test is now before every state, city, and national organization and before every man and woman who call themselves American citizens and American organizations—it is the attitude we will take individually and collectively toward those several hundred young men now incarcerated in our federal prisons, placed there by military courts during the great war.

All of these men wore the uniform of our nation, many of them crossed the seas, waded in slime, filth, and mud to their waists, and some of them bear the scars upon their bodies as tokens of their supreme devotion to their nation and people.

Under the stress of war, excitement, dangers, fatigue, mental and moral anguish under which they were forced to live, some of them gave way to temptations or lost temporary control of their actions and were tried and convicted by a rigid, war pressed court martial and sentenced to years of imprisonment in their native land.

Contrast our recent attitude in throwing open the prison gates to those men who did everything possible to hinder, embarrass, and stab in the back the men who were fighting our battles in the front line trenches. Practically all of these men are walking the streets free while the ex-soldier lies rotting in prison.

We fail to note where one organization, religious, educational, philanthropic, or labor, has moved one inch in initiating a movement to release these heroes or gain for them simple justice, yet we do note where many such organizations did initiate and carry forward zealously petitions and propaganda to release the members of the I. W. W. organization from their just deserts.

Are we as American citizens who tolerate and allow this state of affairs to happen and continue worth saving? Do we not deserve the opprobrium and shame which future historians are certain to cast upon us? Our attitude in releasing the men who were disloyalists before seeking simple justice for the ex-soldiers ought to cause every patriot to hang his head in shame and repent in sackcloth and ashes.

REV. MARTIN LUTHER THOMAS,
First Presbyterian Church, Deerfield, Ill.

OPPOSED TO INDEFINITE SUBSTITUTION OF TEACHERS.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—The purpose of this article is to arouse the parents to the injustice done our children, as well as that done the unassigned teachers who have passed the required mental and physical examination, and have taught their eighty days' probation. Many schools have vacancies which should be filled by these teachers, who are ready for assignment, but, because of some principal or principals who are not capable of seeing the injustice done our children by having a new teacher every day, these teachers, many of them with years of experience and excellent records, must wander from school to school. Some of them do not get enough calls to keep the wolf from the door. Unless these teachers are assigned immediately, I suggest that we parents of the city of Chicago form a committee and request the board of education to assign them, that our children may get a square deal. Many of these teachers will be prevented from attending normal because of these conditions.

SOME OINTMENT IN THE FLIES.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—I agree with what I believe to be the great majority of people, in believing The Chicago Tribune as being utterly disreputable, in so far as its ideals are concerned. However, I do want to compliment you for printing the type of editorial you are now running under the head of "The Other Side."

The Tribune is now printing some items in "The Other Side" which even its chief editorial writers are not able to answer satisfactorily. I refer specially to the Woman's Weekly editorial on prize fights.

That editorial answered every one of your previous arguments about the athletic development feature, etc. The argument you advance in rebuttal, "Fun for the Lowbrows," deceives no one. No thinking person can defend that idea in principle.

The Tribune seems never to have learned the first principle relating to liberty, which is that no one (not even lowbrows) have any right to do as they please in a way that injures others.

But just the same this little dab of ointment in the mess of flies is appreciated. LOUIS LARSEN.

ADMIT THE SORT OF IMMIGRANTS WHO MADE AMERICA.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—In today's issue of The Tribune Mr. Louis E. Gelis states that "this country of ours was made by foreigners." He evidently never took the time to "look up the import of his meanings," for the word "foreigners" is a rather loose, general term and applies equally to dozens of varieties of genus homo.

The kind of foreigners who founded and "made" our country were the northern European races, with a background of efficient self-government, the kind of racial stock that produced Washington, Lincoln, Franklin, and other great Americans. We want foreigners of racial stock that can be assimilated, foreigners of the races whose governments and institutions are akin to ours and who become real American citizens. Thousands of years of evolution cannot be changed by any quick magic formula. Hence the partial failure of the "melting pot."

Loose, shallow reasoning is becoming a characteristic of present day America as the original foreign stocks are being diluted, due to lax immigration laws, by stocks notoriously inferior in self-government. C. H. M.

"WHAT'S TO BECOME OF THE MAN OVER 45?"

Chicago, March 1.—I quite agree with J. T. Russell in asking "What's to become of men over 45?" If nothing more than from a humane standpoint, a man or woman past 45 should be given an equal chance with a younger person. We pride ourselves on being leaders in intelligence, inventors, and progressive. While the young can move faster and perhaps make a better showing in the commercial life, it might be interesting to know that it takes the older, and perhaps slower, ones to do their work properly and without any "comebacks." The majority of large commercial houses in Chicago maintain as a rule regular complaint departments to check up the mistakes of the fast and inefficient young workers. The policy of 'once well done is twice done' seems to be forgotten. We must all work, so give the older ones a chance just for old times sake.

LONDON, March 3.—British officials are highly pleased with the results of the correspondence between Prime Minister MacDonald and Premier Poincare, which they believe has done more to clear the air between France and Great Britain than years of old diplomacy.

"It is one of the best possible examples of the benefits of open diplomacy," a prominent official said to THE TRIBUNE today. "The prime minister has managed to tell France plainly without giving offense just what the ordinary Englishman has been thinking about the French actions and policy. He has achieved the most difficult and delicate task which the old diplomatists have tried and failed, and he has drawn the bonds of friendship closer in doing so. He has also pinned France down to a denial of the politics she has been generally credited with. The air is now clear for a further advance, which will probably sooner or later take the form of a meeting between the two premiers. No such meeting is possible, however, until Mr. MacDonald has studied the reports of the expert committees, and it may be postponed until after the French elections."

He had sent for these, however, with a view to publication.

Replying to another question about limitation of aircraft, he said such an end was attained by careful preparation and not by throwing schemes at the heads of foreign nations.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, March 3.—French political circles believe that there is no possibility of a conference between Prime Minister MacDonald and Premier Poincare until after the reparations commission has acted upon the reports of the experts' committees. This probably means that an Anglo-French conference is impossible for a month or six weeks. It is pointed out today that, although Mr. MacDonald clearly indicated his desire for a conference, M. Poincare dodged a reply and did not refer to the offer in the letter published yesterday. M. Poincare does not desire a politically dangerous conference with the British Labor leader on the eve of the French elections.

ORIGIN OF PATRIOTIC IDEA.

Prof. Santino, an Italian sculptor, is credited with conceiving the idea of immortalizing the "Unknown Soldier." All the great nations have adopted this memorial idea.

IT cost $1,090,455 in a single year to produce one of the country's most popular theatrical attractions. Other shows are produced for a few thousand dollars. It doesn't require a dramatic critic to see the difference.

FIGHT AGAINST PITTSBURGH PLUS REACHES CLIMAX

Steel Companies Begin Rebuttals Today.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

"Pittsburgh plus" enters upon its critical period at Washington tomorrow when the steel companies start their rebuttal in the case before the federal trade commission. It is expected to take some three days, and the report of Special Examiner J. W. Bennett, who has conducted the hearings, is to be made March 17. After that it may take months, perhaps a year or even more, to bring the battle to a conclusion.

Meanwhile, ironically enough, as the steel interests present their defense of the trade practice of loading "mythical freight" on the price of steel products, "Pittsburgh plus" is vanishing here and there by stress of circumstances.

"Plus" Is Vanishing.

In New York it was reported yesterday, "plus" has gone up the spout on much structural material in recent weeks. It is ascribed to a rather stagnant market and slowing demand in the East, which has led Bethlehem Steel to go after business in old fashioned competitive style. Its mills are closer to the big eastern markets than are those of Pittsburgh, while its production costs are said to be quite as low, and now competitive conditions are causing the "plus" to do a partial fadeaway.

In the Chicago district $75,000,000 has been saved to steel users in the last three years by abolition of "Pittsburgh plus" on plates, shapes, and bars, according to an estimate yesterday by the Associated States Opposing Pittsburgh Plus. The approximate annual ingot capacity of the mills in the Chicago region is given as 8,750,000 gross tons. The experts figure 5,000,000 tons in plates, shapes, and bars as conservative. These are on a Chicago base, which is about $2 a ton higher than Pittsburgh.

Save $4.80 Per Ton.

Under the old "plus" system the freight rate of $6.80 from Pittsburgh to the Calumet region would have been added instead of the $2, so that the saving at present is $4.80 a ton. It is figured that during the last three years the average saving would run about $5 a ton on plates, shapes, and bars, and this on 5,000,000 tons a year would put the savings in three years at $75,000,000. This is well distributed over the consuming spots in the midwest, but at least one-third of it, or $25,000,000, has been saved in construction projects near Chicago.

But while "plus" has been partially eliminated, it still remains in force on wire, nails, sheets, and other products in which control is more closely held. These are products in which the farmer is greatly interested, agriculture being a large consumer.

Fight Not Yet Won.

The Associated States Opposing Pittsburgh Plus, embracing thirty-two states, agree that this is the ticklish time, when the consuming public, seeing that "Pittsburgh plus" has been partially abandoned, may lose its fighting interest. Some of the officials of the organization said yesterday that if the public began to regard it as a settled matter or if an adverse decision should be rendered by the federal trade commission, it would be an easy matter to put all forms of rolled steel back on a "Pittsburgh plus" basis.

WORLD MOVING TOWARD PEACE, TUMULTY SAYS

"Woodrow Wilson did not live in vain. His ideals, his theories, his plans are still in the minds of our countrymen," declared Joseph P. Tumulty, who was secretary to Mr. Wilson. Mr. Tumulty spoke yesterday at one of the city's leading Democratic clubs before Mayor Dever, George Brennan, Robert E. Sweitzer, and many others.

"Look back over the years and you can see advances toward a universal peace," Mr. Tumulty told them, adding, "Woodrow Wilson hated and dreaded war. He had a heart which yearned and ached over each dying soldier.

"Some say he was cold—but he was only shy, and he was the kind of man who will live forever in America's history."

JOIN LEAGUE OR WAR LOOMS, SAYS YALE PROFESSOR

Prof. Irving Fisher, well known economist of Yale university, championed the league of nations in a lecture at Sinai temple last night by declaring that it offers the only available alternative to war.

He said the late President Harding, in a private conversation, admitted that the logical policy for the United States was to enter the league. As the author of this "instrument for peace," he added, "Woodrow Wilson will have more influence in death than he ever had in life."

"The league of nations will live," Prof. Fisher told his audience. "We may modify it, but we cannot replace it. With the United States in the league, Europe's buying and paying power would be restored. From motives of self-interest, if we no longer are capable of altruism, we should help Europe economically to help herself. In the end we also shall benefit economically."

A LONG SUNDAY AND HUNGER, BUT A JOB ON MONDAY

Work Hunting Youth Still Keeps His $10.

The young stranger who came to Chicago in quest of employment is daily encountering stranger experiences. However, difficult as the situations have been, he has not yet been forced to break into the $10 bill given him by The Tribune. Some more of his interesting experiences are related below:

I awoke at noon Sunday, feeling none too well. There wasn't a bone in my body that felt just right. My head was bursting open and my stomach was out of sorts to boot. Figuring that perhaps a whiff of fresh air would help, I went out for a long walk. As I walked I thought perhaps my stomach was objecting to the fact that it had not had regular nourishment, and I was tempted to break that $10 bill with a real honest to goodness meal. I reminded myself, however, that somewhere I had heard that a bowl of hot soup would satisfy one just as much as a regular meal could. I walked into a lunchroom and engrossed myself in a bowl of vegetable soup and a few salt crackers.

Feels Worse, Not Better.

An hour or two later found me walking along Michigan boulevard, feeling worse than ever.

For the better part of the afternoon I must have walked around the loop about eight times. Toward evening I had no appetite for supper, but invested 10 cents of my remaining sixteen in a bromo seltzer, hoping that it would tend to soothe my aching head. Again I started walking and eventually wound up at the Art institute, which is free to the public on Sunday, where I spent a pleasant hour. I was home at about 10 o'clock, and hopped into bed, trusting that I would feel well enough on the morrow to appear for work at Armour's at 7.

My balance on hand, minus all expenses of the day, was now 6 cents.

Landlady Helps Him Out.

At 6 o'clock Monday I was up and dressed, feeling quite well save for a slight headache. My landlady was already stirring and I ventured in to borrow a penny. She didn't have a penny, but gave me a dime.

Again I had 16 cents! Today I would get THE TRIBUNE and ride to work in style. On the car I clipped an ad for future use.

Ten after 7 found me at the employment office of Armour & Co.

The place was dark with men! I thought to myself that I would have a fine chance of getting work among these men, most of whom were no doubt experienced in handling beef or could do most anything in the packing game.

Learns About "Orders."

I learned that the "orders" were issued by the heads of each department every morning, and was merely a slip of paper denoting the number of men wanted in that particular department. These orders came from time to time, and as they were brought into the office were given to "Jim" Fallon, who picked out men who seemed most suitable for this or that "order."

"What do you want?" He was looking at me!

"Work."

"What did you do last?"

"I was trucking freight."

The next moment a slip was in my hand and I had orders to get in line with the others who had been chosen from the mob.

"Auto - Storage - Unloading Cars."

That was the message written on the slip presented to me. I was then ordered to get into another and longer line, which happened to move much more slowly than the first, and I finally arrived at the head, where I gave a young man my name, address, and other information which one is generally asked to give when filing an application.

I was told to sit down on one of the benches further along towards the front. It was 9:45 when a lad acted as guide for another young fellow and myself and took us over to the auto storage department.

My job was a disappointment. I was figuring on getting into work among the meats and by-products, but instead was put to helping unload new cars which had come in by freight from Detroit.

I was one of a crew of eight young boys, none of them over 22 or 23, who pushed, pulled, and lifted brand new sedans or touring cars till noon.

I was desperately hungry and ran across the street to a restaurant, where I spent my final 7 cents for a cup of coffee and a few pieces of bread. My hunger did not seem to be appeased, and I made up my mind to hand in my slip at the office, rush down to the Chicago Junction freighthouse, which was nearby, where I had worked Saturday and had been promised my pay on Monday at 3, and get my money so that I could get something to eat.

He Tours Plant.

At the office, which was now practically empty, the men at the desk seemed to be busy, and I thought that I would want to visit the plant before I left, and hurried out, after inquiring for directions, to the visitors' entrance, a few blocks down the street.

The trip lasted an hour and in the interest thereof I had temporarily forgotten my hunger. I was back in the office—explained that I was quitting, and, after being told to report at any time for my money, I actually ran over to the general office of the railway, which is about six or seven blocks distant, and inquired for my pay.

Finally after waiting for what seemed an hour, but actually a few minutes, I was handed a check for my pay. Three dollars and eighty-eight cents for trucking seventeen tons of freight at 22.8 cents per ton. What a meal I could buy!

I was destined to wait a little longer before I could have my lunch. The check must be signed by the treasurer of the company, and the office of that department head was at Exchange street, or 41st near Halsted.

Not having any fare, I had to walk that distance, and an hour or so later the check was signed. I rushed into a restaurant, sat down at the counter, and ordered with reckless abandon.

I'll never forget that meal as long as I live.

That ten spot was still intact, but tomorrow was rent day.

PREDICT RAIL WAGE PARLEY IN CITY SOON

With wage increases to important groups of train service employés on two roads awarded last week—conductors and trainmen on the Southern railway and engineers and firemen on the Wheeling and Lake Erie—indications are western railway executives will soon enter a general pay parley with officers of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors. This would be held in Chicago. The New York Central is the only carrier which has renewed contracts with all four of the brotherhoods thus far. It granted wage increases averaging 5 per cent.

BACK in 1864 a firm set out to supply New England with good coffee. But they didn't stop there. As the country grew, they grew. When a railroad was pushed out and a town suddenly or slowly built up, Chase & Sanborn would be sure to entrust the sale of their coffees and teas to the very best groceryman they could find.

Then, about 1880, they originated the idea of packing coffee in hermetically sealed tins—that was to keep good coffee good.

To-day, wherever you go, in cities and villages that once might have been frontier posts or villages, you will find a certain bond among discriminating coffee drinkers. It is the goodness of Chase & Sanborn Seal Brand Coffee. It is packed in sealed tin cans—never in bulk.

CERMAK VETOES SHERIFF'S FUND; AT WAR AGAIN

Hoffman and Board Head May Go to Court.

Political warfare between Anton J. Cermak, president of the county board, and Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman broke out anew yesterday, when Mr. Cermak vetoed an item in the annual budget for the county which provided $89,638 for the establishment of a law enforcement division of deputy sheriffs.

By his veto, which the seven Republican members of the board sought in vain to override, Mr. Cermak lopped off thirty-three of the 104 deputies allowed Sheriff Hoffman by the Circuit court employment committee.

"It is a cheap political move," said the sheriff irately. He announced he would immediately address a communication to the Circuit judges advising them that "the county board, by a strict party vote, willfully disobeyed an order of court providing for the employment of a law enforcement division."

Court Action in Prospect.

Mr. Hoffman said he also had placed the veto message of Mr. Cermak before his attorney. Two methods of procedure lie open, it was pointed out. The first is a petition to the Circuit judges asking that the entire Democratic faction of the board, which stood solidly behind the president's veto, be cited for contempt of court.

The other would be to petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the board to appropriate funds for the deputies.

Mr. Cermak disclaimed talk that his motive was a political one and said his sole purpose was to remedy an "illegal situation" and to bring the entire question before the courts.

For War on Rural Crime.

The judges had allowed Mr. Hoffman thirty deputy sheriffs additional, to be used in a drastic campaign against country town roadhouses, gambling dens, and automobile bandits. Funds for their maintenance provided four high powered automobiles, rifles, quarters, and other incidentals.

President Cermak in his veto message declared the statute did not invest powers of police patrol in the sheriff. He further added that the order entered by the judges' committee, consisting of Judges Arnold, Fisher, and Matchett, was "illegal and void" and gave the sheriff jobs which they had no right to give.

The veto message also attacked the legality of the regular highway police force, adding: "If the sheriff will make a sincere effort and honestly endeavor to carry out his avowed purpose the seventy-one highway deputy sheriffs provided should be sufficient to successfully accomplish such purpose."

OUSTED SCHOOL HEAD GETS WAGES ONCE HELD BACK

Charles E. Chadsey, former superintendent of schools who was ousted in 1919, has already begun to receive the salary of which he was deprived while he was out of office, it was learned yesterday. Peter A. Mortenson, Mr. Chadsey's successor, is paying the money from the salary he receives from the board as "consulting superintendent." Mr. Mortenson turned over his first month's salary to the former superintendent and has given notes for the balance of the $5,333 he will pay to Mr. Chadsey.

Mr. Chadsey, through his attorney, obtained judgments in the Circuit court for $8,000 against the board and Mr. Mortenson, following his reinstatement by Judge Kickham Scanlan. After Mr. Mortenson pays the $5,333 the board will pay the balance of $2,667.

Getting Ready for To-morrow

THE average man, busy with his own affairs, has little time to consider the vast amount of anticipatory work necessary to maintain a high standard of service in the petroleum industry.

Just as the merchant buys straw hats in November and furs in early summer, so does the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) prepare in winter to supply you in summer with the gasoline and other petroleum products you may need.

Today, this Company is spending millions of dollars to purchase crude oil and to convert this oil into refined products so that next summer it may meet its obligations to supply the demand for gasoline and other petroleum products when pleasant weather makes motoring attractive and agricultural activities necessary.

Such an effort takes on greater significance when it is known that the production of crude has been checked sharply.

The American Petroleum Institute reports that from September 8 to December 15, 1923, the production of crude oil fell off 337,400 barrels per day.

This brings production to a point where it is 56,700 barrels less per day than the estimated daily average consumption.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is preparing in advance to meet any demands which may be made upon it. It has a tremendous investment in storage facilities, located strategically throughout the territory it serves. By keeping this storage full it insures you an uninterrupted supply of petroleum products at all times.

To picture the enormous task confronting the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) it is only necessary to state that estimates made by the National Petroleum News indicate that the 1924 gasoline consumption will total 8 billion 236 million gallons.

With 31% of the automotive registrations of the country concentrated in the ten Middle Western States served by this Company, this estimate means that 2 billion 553 million gallons of gasoline will be required to supply these states.

Preparing now for the summer peak load is only another phase of the broad and comprehensive service rendered by this Company, which has gained the respect, confidence and esteem of the thirty million people of the Middle West.

PERHAPS you have given up hope of instant relief. An itching or burning rash or eczema—perpetually annoying and embarrassing! Whether it be on arm, neck, body or face, this simple way will bring relief where nothing else may have helped.

A formula developed twenty-eight years ago by a well-known physician in his practice, and at first distributed only through doctors' prescriptions, Resinol has today become in thousands of homes the first remedy applied to any sort of skin affection. Thousands of users have wondered at the quickness of its action. In many cases the itching stops immediately, and in a few days the clear, clean texture of the skin is restored. Even a light application sinks deep into the pores, attacks the root of the disorder, and starts the skin again acting normally.

If you have today any spot, rash or irritation on your skin, apply Resinol. One application will, in many cases, stop the itching completely. Resinol is absolutely harmless. It will not irritate an infant's skin, or even raw exposed flesh. It does not deteriorate or lose its effectiveness with time. Get a jar at your druggist or send for a free trial sample to Dept. 2, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

SMALL FORCES FEAR DEFEAT IN DOWNSTATE

Raise Big Pool to Try to Win Cook County.

BY PARKE BROWN.

A written recital of what occurred at Gov. Len Small's roundup of his department chiefs and institution heads at Springfield last week arrived in Chicago yesterday. It disclosed that the inner councils of the Small organization admit his defeat in the downstate territory.

This, it is contended emphatically by all of the Cook county leaders of any importance, means a confession of his defeat in the state as a whole. What was said at the Springfield conference was that if he is to win Small must carry Cook county by 40,000. The best estimates of what will happen to him in Cook county are that he will lose it by something between 60,000 and 100,000.

Make Heavy Assessment.

In addition to this display of weakness, the conference was said to be memorable for the fact that the heaviest assessment in the history of Illinois politics—not excluding the hardest riding days of the Thompson administration in Chicago—was announced.

"It was announced," read the report, in effect, "that if Small wins he must carry Cook county by 40,000 and that this means an expensive campaign in Chicago. For that reason, it was said, every employé receiving a salary of $2,000 or more a year would be expected to contribute 18 per cent of a year's salary and those receiving less than $2,000 to contribute 10 per cent."

While the Essington camp was feeling jubilant over this confession of dismay from the Lundin-Small machine, there came other tidings of a further consolidation of the Essington forces on the state ticket.

Almost simultaneously there came announcements that State Senator Epler C. Mills of Virginia, a consistent anti-Small performer for three years, and Mayor Charles H. Greene of Aurora had withdrawn as candidates for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

Rinaker and Sterling Left.

This leaves the race for this nomination narrowed down to Lewis Rinaker, former County judge of Cook county, now a resident of Modesto, Ill., who was brought into the fight by the Essington leaders, and the present lieutenant governor, Fred E. Sterling of Rockford. Opposition to Sterling is based on the fact that the "Grant Park bank cases" involve the state treasurership terms of Small and Sterling. Sterling made Small his "examiner of collateral," and it was during Sterling's term that the deposits in the mythical bank and the investment of state funds in packers' notes reached its height.

Senator Mills' statement follows:

"At a conference in Chicago today, attended by many Republican leaders of the state, I announced that I would withdraw as a candidate for the nomination for the position of lieutenant governor of Illinois.

"I find it would be necessary for me to devote so much time to the campaign that I could not do justice to my personal affairs.

"Such time as I may have at my disposal, however, I shall devote affirmatively and actively in supporting the candidacy of my good friend and colleague, Senator Thurlow G. Essington, candidate for the nomination for governor."

Senator Mills was the father of the gateway amendment to the constitution now awaiting submission to the people, and introduced the bills for the creation of the Illinois home for the rehabilitation of world war veterans and for the construction of new cottages at the Elgin and Jacksonville hospitals. He handled the Illinois bonus bill in the senate. In 1921 he was one of the ten who voted against the notorious Sawyer resolution.

LEWIS, HARRISON OFFER PRIMARY ELECTION PUZZLE

First Would Erase Name—Other Is in China.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Whether the names of two of Illinois' most widely known Democrats appear on the ballot for the April primary rests with Secretary of State Emmerson.

James Hamilton Lewis has indicated by telegraph his desire that the petition to place his name on the ballot as a candidate for United States senator be withdrawn. But he is in Mexico City, today is the last day for the withdrawal of petitions, and the election law holds that, in order to withdraw his name, he must make his request in writing and have his signature attested.

Harrison Now in China.

The name of Carter H. Harrison is on the McAdoo slate of candidates for delegates at large to the Democratic national convention. But he is in China, and the law holds that he must file, in writing, over his own signature, a declaration of his presidential preference. No such declaration has been filed, so the question arises whether his petition is complete.

Secretary of State Emmerson, at his home in Mount Vernon, said he would refer the question concerning ex-Senator Lewis to Attorney General Brundage for an opinion. It is expected that he will take the same action in reference to ex-Mayor Harrison's candidacy.

Mr. Emmerson has followed Brundage's advice on several occasions, the most recent one being in connection with the attorney general's ruling that the names of candidates for delegates at large do not rotate on the ballot. Brundage held that the rotation law applies only to state officers and that delegates at large are not within that category.

This ruling is considered important, particularly for the two regular organization slates which hold top place in their respective columns.

Democrats Tour Today.

The regular Democratic state candidates headed by Norman L. Jones, for governor, and A. A. Sprague II, for United States senator, leave on a whirlwind trip down the Dixie highway this morning. Starting in at Harvey they will "make" nine towns today winding up this evening with a meeting at Danville.

In response to a newspaper request Judge Jones has issued a detailed statement of his vote on the so-called "Yerkes bills" in the general assembly 'way back in 1895. He pointed out that the Cook county delegation was solidly for the bills, that they were passed almost without opposition, and that there was no criticism of them until Gov. Altgeld vetoed them.

CHICAGO REAL ESTATE BOARD

This Symbol Will Guide You to Good Real Estate Service

AS a lawyer is examined by his colleagues before admittance to the bar, so also are the methods and the dealings of every real estate dealer examined before he can display this symbol, and be known as a "Realtor".

Webster's New International Dictionary defines the word "Realtor" as follows:

> "A real estate broker, who is a member of a local board having membership in the National Association of Real Estate Boards, an organization incorporated in 1908 for the advancement of the interests of brokers and the protection of the public from unprincipled agents or brokers."

The Chicago Real Estate Board holds the Chicago membership in the National Association of Real Estate Boards. Every Broker member of this Board has proved his qualifications and has the right to display this symbol. Others displaying it will be prosecuted.

The Chicago Real Estate Board is instrumental in securing the conviction of persons and firms guilty of real estate fraud. It believes, however, that "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." Again we say the symbol of a Realtor will guide you to Good Real Estate Service. A complete list of Chicago "Realtors" will be published soon.

"CUSICKS," VICE DEALERS, FREED; RUN NEW DIVE

Make Quick Use of Gov. Small's Leniency.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Harry "Cusick," professional dealer in vice, who has run "joints" in Chicago for years, has designed, erected, furnished, and operated a new vice den since he and Alma "Cusick" were pardoned by Gov. Len Small on the recommendation of his board of pardons and paroles.

The dive is located at One Hundred and Nineteenth street and Marshfield avenue, just outside of the city limits of Chicago. Several inmates of the place, caught in a raid directed by Assistant State's Attorney Frank Peska, are awaiting action by the grand jury.

Convicted of Pandering.

Harry and Alma "Cusick" were the couple convicted of pandering when Gov. Small obligingly stepped in and commuted their sentence, while their case was pending in the state Supreme court, so that they were not forced to spend a single day in prison.

Harry and Alma, with the aid of "Joseph Costa," enticed Minnie Oehlerking, an 18 year old girl of Monee, Ill., to their Roamer inn, under the pretense of work as a maid, then took her clothes away from he. She was rescued by her father later. The father said he was offered a bribe by Harry "Cusick" to prevent his prosecution. This was Oct. 22, 1921. The governor granted commutation of sentence June June 20, 1923.

About that time Harry "Cusick," with the reported financial aid of some other vice dealers, began the building of the new den on the prairie at 119th street and Marshfield avenue

How They Got Property.

The documents in County Recorder Haas' office, which any one may inspect, show that Frank J. Kohler transferred eleven lots on Sept. 27, 1921, to "Rose Guzik"—note the spelling of the last name. Kohler is shown to have been a bachelor, living at 2741 Rush boulevard, in Youngstown, O. The deed shows $10 and other valuable considerations.

The revenue stamps totaled 50 cents, which indicated that the price paid was between $101 and $500 for the lots. That those who run may read, the number of the warranty deed is $175,-954.

The property was placed under the Torrens system of registry, and, therefore, it was necessary for "Rose Guzik" to tell whether she was married and the name of her husband. Her identification card on file, which she signed, shows that she swore that her husband was "Harry Guzik."

In the summer of 1923 the building was started and is said to have been completed last September. Harry [Cusick] Guzik was ready to start doing business at his new place.

The village of Burr Oak was asked for a soft drink license and it was granted. The telephone company was informed that "H. B. Smith" desired a phone at 1617 West 119th street. It was installed under the name of "H. B. Smith" as "Blue Island 1634," and that was the name and number the last time it was investigated last month.

When it first became known last September that Gov. Small had pardoned the "Cusicks" last June, considerable publicity was given the event. Harry apparently became afraid that he might become involved and some one would attack the property.

So he then arranged for the transfer of his property. Harry Guzik has a brother, Jack. So Harry and Rose Guzik filed a quit claim deed to the property for $1 and other considerations to "Rose Lipschultz Guzik."

She's Wife of Jack Guzik.

On her card which she signed, Rose Lipschultz Guzik gave her age as 33 years, her husband's name as "Jack Guzik," and the date of their marriage as April 13, 1907. To this information he made an affidavit.

On this deed of transfer there were no revenue stamps. In the space allotted to them is the notation:

"No stamps required. W. J. F."

The initials probably refer to the notary public who acknowledged the affidavit, William J. Flaherty. The failure to attach stamps indicates that either the equity was not transferred—just the legal title—or that the transfer was a gift.

Character of Place Well Known.

The disreputable character of the place has been established by Deputy Sheriffs Otto Gnewuch, George A. Cotey, and R. C. Hansen. They raided the place Jan. 19—six weeks ago—arresting three women and two men. Some of the evidence against them was presented by Assistant State's Attorney Frank Peska to Police Magistrate Paul R. Witt of Forest Park. All were held to the grand jury Feb. 4 last.

A law passed by the last legislature, house bill No. 282, permits the state's attorney to start after the owner of the property.

If the property was a gift, then Rose Lipschultz Guzik and her husband Jack would be liable upon a proper showing in court. If the property was transferred for convenience of Harry and Rose Guzik, under some trust arrangement, then others would be liable.

THREE RESCUED FROM ICE FLOE ON BRINK OF RAPIDS

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., March 3.—[Special.]—How she and two unknown men were suddenly set adrift on an ice cake in the midst of a wintry blizzard on St. Mary's river and barely rescued was told today by Mrs. A. K. Lapish of this city.

Mrs. Lapish and two strangers were walking from the American Sault to Sault, Ont., over the heavy strip of ice which covers the mile wide expanse of water between the two cities when the section of ice upon which they moved broke loose from the main sheet and swirled toward the rapidly enlarging channel made by the recent warm weather.

The small rowboat used to ferry the narrow stretch of water was not far away, but its pilot had to make a mad race to overtake the unwilling mariners, and it barely reached the floe supporting them and effected their rescue before the cake reached the writhing current of the main channel which speeds to the Soo rapids.

PAROLED VETS MAKE GOOD IN CIVILIAN LIFE

All Ex-Prisoners Are Now Worthy Citizens.

BY DONALD EWING.

Leavenworth, Kas., March 3.—[Special.]—Release under parole of soldier-prisoners, now serving wartime sentences in the federal penitentiary, will send each man out into the world under circumstances offering every chance of making good.

W. I. Biddle, warden of the penitentiary here, can point to a record showing that ninety-four out of every 100 men he releases make good. This record is not equaled by any prison in the world, it is said. Where soldiers are concerned, the record is even better, for never yet has a soldier paroled by Mr. Biddle failed to become a worthy citizen.

When a prisoner has served one-third of his sentence he is eligible to parole. His case then comes before the prison board—Heber Votaw of Washington, Warden Biddle, and Prison Physician Yohe. If the accused has behaved himself he has fulfilled the first requirements.

Warning from Wardens.

But before he can go out he must have a "first friend." This "first friend" must certify to the authorities that he will make monthly reports as to the progress in civilian life of the released man.

When a man is paroled most wardens point a stern finger at him and say: "Now, remember, young fellow, we're watching you and the first time you slip it's right back in a cell you go!"

Not so with Biddle. When the paroled man walks into his office in the new suit the government gives him Biddle always stages a little byplay. He looks up in apparent surprise.

"Why, by golly, Harry, I didn't know you," he says. "Say, boy, you certainly look great in that suit. My, it fits fine! I don't have to worry about you, young fellow. I can tell by looking at you that I'll never see you again.

Giving Men Good Advice.

"But listen. It's going to be a bit hard at first. You may have trouble getting a job. You may hit the rocks and find yourself up against it where you think you have to steal or starve. Now, if that time comes, you go to a United States marshal, tell him about your parole, and he'll help you. If you can't find one, or he won't help, just wire the old man here."

Biddle already has dozens of letters offering jobs to soldier prisoners if they can be released.

TO ASK COOLIDGE AID

Chicago veterans fighting for the release of the "lost battalion"—soldiers who fought and have remained forgotten in prisons while the slackers and seditionists have been set free—announced last night that they will send a committee to Washington early this week to put squarely up to President Coolidge and to congress the question of their emancipation.

PROTEST FLOOD JOLTS BILL TO CENSOR VACCINE

Medical Authorities Up in Arms.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—In view of the flood of protests from the medical profession against government censorship and regulation of bacterial vaccines provided for in the bill introduced by Representative Rathbone [Rep., Ill.], it was agreed at the conclusion of the hearing today before the subcommittee, composed of Representatives McLeod [Rep., Mich.], Rathbone and Kunz [Dem., Ill.], to postpone further hearings for three weeks in order to get more fully in touch with professional opinion on the proposed measure.

Thus far only two proponents of the bill, Norman Hapgood, editor of Hearst's International magazine, and Dr. S. B. Kremer of Cincinnati, have appeared before the committee. Pronounced objections to the proposed control of advertisements and use of biologics have been advanced by all other witnesses, including representatives of the United States public health service, medical societies, practicing physicians, and drug associations.

Bill Called Hearst Measure.

That the bill affords no protection to the public but in reality is designed to embarrass the Sherman laboratories of Detroit, Mich., is asserted by friends of Dr. George H. Sherman, who, it is reported, will this summer bring suit for $1,600,000 against William Randolph Hearst, charging he was grossly libeled in articles appearing in Hearst's International magazine.

The bill was introduced in the house by Representative Rathbone and in the senate by Senator Royal S. Copeland [Dem., N. Y.] at the instance of Mr. Hapgood, according to George Brennan of Chicago, who has written to Representative Kunz informing him of the interest of the Hearst people in the measure and adding that anything he can with consistency do to further the bill would be appreciated by them and regarded by Mr. Brennan as a favor to him.

The protest received from Dr. W. A. Evans of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and read into the record by Representative Kunz was indorsed by Dr. Charles C. Butler, commander medical corps, United States navy, and by Dr. George W. McCoy, director of the hygienic laboratory of the United States public health service.

"The measure requires that what are known as biologics should be labeled with the opinion of a commission as to their efficacy," wrote Dr. Evans. "Such a statement would be nothing more than a statement of the opinion of a group of individuals, better than that of the rank and file, but still an opinion and as such not infallible.

"The biologics so called are the newest form of remedial agents. They are still in the stage of experiment and discovery. An opinion on one of them that is good in the light of known facts might be bad in the light of facts discovered six months later. If there is to be an effort to standardize opinion as to therapeutic efficiency it should begin in an older field of therapeutics rather than in this one."

MYSTERY GIRLS GIVE NEW CLEW TO DUFFY DEATH

"Yankee" Schwartz and Jean Mason Hunted.

Attorneys Robert McMillan and Harold Levy had planned to have Kauffman held to the grand jury without bail on a murder charge. If they couldn't do that they were to ask that the bail granted by Judge Schulman be canceled.

Instead, Kauffman didn't appear. Attorneys Thomas D. Nash and Michael Ahearn told Judge Francis Borelli the young commission merchant and millionaire's son had tonsilitis. Mrs. Kauffman, who is charged with her husband of receiving stolen property, presented a physician's certificate stating Kauffman had a temperature of 101½ degrees, whereupon Judge Borelli continued the case until March 12.

Stolen Jewels Clew.

Mrs. Kauffman was brought into the murder-robbery when detectives learned she was wearing a diamond ring that Mrs. A. L. Richtmyre, 5218 Winthrop avenue, declared was taken from her by holdup men. This was after Kauffman had been arrested for alleged participation in the murder of Duffy and also charged with accessory to the Maybelle Exley murder, in that it is claimed he agreed to assist Duffy in disposing of the body.

Later Mrs. Richtmyre was threatened with torture and death in an anonymous telephone conversation if she insisted on prosecuting the case. Despite this she identified Engelke as one of the men that robbed her. That connected Kauffman and Engelke to Capt. Schoemaker's satisfaction, and he pressed Engelke to admit it.

Engelke said he had confessed the one holdup in which he had engaged, but insisted he did not rob Mrs. Richtmyre. Kauffman's "out" was that he bought the ring from "Yankee" Schwartz, one of the bootleggers admittedly being sought for the Duffy murder as well as numerous robberies.

This admission was considered damaging by Capt. Schoemaker in view of Engelke's statement that Kauffman and Schwartz met Duffy after Maybelle was dead and immediately preceding the killing of Duffy. Yet, the detective explained, a physician's certificate prevented his getting action in the courts.

Lawyers Take Action.

Attorney Frank Comerford was ready for defense action as soon as the courts convened in the morning. He first demanded his clients, Orlando and Cecil Horton, Maurice and Eunice Elizabeth Curtis, and Carl Hein, be booked, the technical term for admitting to bail. Capt. Schoemaker refused. Comerford appealed to Chief Justice John R. Caverly of the Criminal court for writs of habeas corpus. Judge Harry A. Lewis was assigned to hear the petition.

The prisoners were ordered before him at 2 o'clock. The answer to the petition, filed by Assistant State's Attorneys W. W. Smith and Robert O'Connell was that all five were formally charged with being accessory to the murders, that in addition Horton was under three charges of robbery with a gun, and that one similar charge was placed against Hein.

Asks About Charges.

Attorney Comerford asked Judge Lewis if he would cite some one for contempt if the answer was found to be untrue as to the two wives being "booked." Judge Lewis said he probably would not. Comerford then asked and was granted leave to interrogate Capt. Schoemaker.

"Have you preferred charges of murder against Eunice Elizabeth Curtis and Cecil Horton?" was the first question.

Capt. Schoemaker was not sure, but when Lieut. Edward Baynes whispered to him he answered, "Yes." Then Comerford asked if a charge of robbery had been made against Hein. Sergt. George Cudmore of the Town Hall station answered for Schoemaker that it had. He said Hein was booked at his station.

Attorney Comerford then told Judge Lewis he was satisfied, that the purpose of the writs had been accomplished, and he asked only permission to be allowed to talk to the five prisoners in chambers. Judge Lewis would not agree to this outside the presence of at least one policeman, so the lawyer modified his request and was allowed to talk to his clients in the jury box.

Horton and Curtis displayed tender solicitude for the welfare of their wives. They feared the women would not be given proper treatment at the West Chicago station and asked what could be done. Comerford said he would go there later and see that the women had every jail comfort possible, pending the raising of bonds.

CONFESSES KILLING HERE.

John Butt, arrested in Flint, Mich., admitted he is wanted in Chicago for killing a policeman, according to word received yesterday at the detective bureau. The local police were unable to find any record of his confessed crime, however.

Q. Is there anything to this house insulation people are talking about?

A. Decidedly. Saving of 25% to 33⅓% in your coal bill, for one thing, and saving in work, too.

Q. How does heat insulation save work?

A. You will not have to see that the furnace is stoked continuously because a little heat keeps an insulated house comfortable over a long period. It keeps dirt and dust from sifting in, too.

Q. What is the best known heat insulation for houses?

A. Next to sheep's wool, which is too expensive to use, BALSAM-WOOL is the best heat insulation.

Balsam-Wool

A blanketing material for the walls, roofs and ceilings of houses. A heat insulator and a sound deadener. A fuel saver and a comfort and health factor that should be built into every house. A Weyerhaeuser product. See your lumber dealer.

—the Great Unarrived

Now times are altered: if I care
To buy a thing, I can;
The pence are here and here's the fair,
But where's the lost young man?
—from A. E. Housman's "LAST POEMS"

WHEN the little boy who used to press his nose against the bakery window grows up and becomes a millionaire, he too often has indigestion. His pep decreases with his pepsin. His joy in living languishes and the doors of many delights are closed to him. On the long, hard upward climb aspirations are attained and abandoned; hopes bloom and fade. Enthusiasms are traded for experiences; desires dwindle, die and are dropped. A few big wants eat up all the little wants; and with less to look forward to, more is taken for granted. After a certain stage new impressions become indigestible. The Successful are not the good customers they were on the way up.

When a family makes the social register or the coupon clipping circle, most national advertisers can withdraw its card from the prospect file; the prospect is dead. Shooting at stars is wasteful, expensive and highly competitive. Bring your advertising down to the lucrative level of addressing the Great Unarrived. Tell It to Sweeney, the average man, the average woman, the average family.

THE aristocracy of class prospects is very limited, but the democracy of mass customers is large.

We must remember that this is America, country of the interminable immigrant, who is arriving always. More new wealth is created and more generally distributed here than anywhere else in the world. The economic standards are high and the progress is always upward. In Europe, Sweeney, the street sweeper prays that his son may be a good street sweeper; here Sweeney provides that his son will be something better. Here Sweeney reads newspapers, uses toothbrushes, owns pianos and automobiles, earns more money year after year; and spends more. Through advertising, you can sell Sweeney almost anything worth buying—but you must sell him before he arrives.

Never in the history of the world was there so wide nor so wealthy a mass market as in New York City today. A million families here have incomes of from one thousand to five thousand dollars a year. Sweeney pays more rent to live here, spends more to stay here, a ready customer for everything.

And never in the history of American journalism has there been an advertising medium like The News. Its 700,000 circulation is the largest weekday circulation in America. Its distribution is 97% in New York City and suburbs, concentrated circulation that covers this compact market. Its tabloid size fits the readers' need, insures attention to the advertiser. And its rate makes it a more economical distribution factor.

Tell It to Sweeney now in The News. Get the facts!

Feeding the 3 Million people in The Plain Dealer's Market

FAMILY food problems must wait on women for solution. It is to women that a food manufacturer must tell his story.

That is one reason why the Plain Dealer receives so great a proportion of the food advertising placed in Cleveland newspapers. Makers of food products and their advertising agents know that the Plain Dealer holds a world of interest for women.

The Plain Dealer's Daily Magazine is an institution among the women of Cleveland and Northern Ohio. It has grown in popularity to a point where it often occupies as much as four pages. Its recipes, menus, fashion hints, feature articles, news stories—all are written by women, to women exclusively about women's activities.

For eight years the Plain Dealer Food Page has been putting back of food advertising a definite and a powerful selling force.

And here is a most important fact to bear in mind. Of all home delivered Plain Dealers, 91.9% remain in the home all day. The Plain Dealer reaches your prospect when she is planning her day's work—making up her grocery list—puzzling over the next three meals.

Can you think of a better time to reach her—and sell her? Do you wonder that the Plain Dealer is considered the best and most economical medium for popularizing food products throughout the rich, responsive market of Northern Ohio?

> Within this restricted territory are 47% of all the wholesalers of food products in Ohio. Here, too, are 10,114 retail grocers, meat shops and delicatessens.

The food trade knows the Plain Dealer from the standpoint of actual results—as a sales builder—a creator of a live demand.

If you have a new food product, a hard hitting campaign in the Plain Dealer will help you win distribution, jobber cooperation, dealer enthusiasm and consumer demand.

If you have a product already well-known, advertising in the Plain Dealer will put new interest and new vitality behind it.

Of the 115 national food advertisers that used Cleveland newspapers in 1923, the Plain Dealer carried 72. 26 used the Plain Dealer ALONE—more exclusive food advertisers than used all other Cleveland newspapers combined.

Of the 174 local advertisers of foods, beverages and confections in Cleveland, the Plain Dealer carried 118—considerably more than any other Cleveland paper. 42 used the Plain Dealer exclusively.

PEKING, MOSCOW SIGN AGREEMENT ON NORTH CHINA

Russia Quits Mongolia and Opens Amur.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PEKING, March 3.—THE TRIBUNE learns authoritatively that Chinese and Russian negotiators have reached an agreement regarding the Chinese Eastern railway. The cabinet will consider the agreement tomorrow, although perhaps some time will elapse before Moscow's approval is announced.

The Chinese wish to take over the railway as a Chinese enterprise, executing the bonds with other details, similar to the Shantung railway agreement. Russia exacts certain rights with reference to through traffic to Vladivostok.

Will Quit Mongolia.

Russia is willing to evacuate Mongolia, provided China will guarantee against Japanese aggression through Manchuria, and also concedes Amur navigation to Chinese ships. The frontier will remain unfortified.

Since the plan proposes Russian association in the railway management, difficulty is anticipated in reconciling the Russo-Asiatic bank, which continues to assert its ownership of the stock formerly held by the Russian state, also involving the agreement signed by China in 1920 relying on the signatories of the Washington treaty for a continuation of the present management. Inasmuch as the railway problem is linked with recognition, in the opinion of financial circles, complete soviet relations are a long way off.

Japan Opens Parley.

The Japanese minister, Yoshizawa, is summoning expert aid for informal pourparlers with the soviet delegate M. Karkhan. These will not lead to recognition, but to better treatment of nationals. The Russian action in arresting and expelling numerous Japanese army officers, who, as merchants and students, really were regarded as spies, causes Japan to seek a modus vivendi in order to insure the personal safety of these agents. Mr. Yoshizawa is authorized to consent to Russian censorship of Japanese mails, and also translation of code telegrams. Japan seeks to conciliate Russia, although recognition of the soviet is regarded as far distant.

Owing to the delicate situation, coupled with China's political uncertainties, Japan has decided not to withdraw its troops from Manchuria. This despite the economic conditions compelling drastic curtailment of the home army at a time when the social unrest among the Japanese requires important concessions to the people before a successful government can be formed at Tokio.

GAS HUBBY USED ON THIS SPREE ALMOST FATAL

"Our gas bills are enormous, your honor," Mrs. Hilma Northerg complained to Judge Barasa in the Sheffield avenue court yesterday. "Every time Ralph, my husband here, gets drunk—and that's about once a week—he goes and lies on the bed and turns on the gas. This morning he was unconscious when I found him, and he wasted no end of gas. I had to call a pulmotor to bring him around."

Northberg, who lives at 3711 Herndon avenue, hung his head and said: "Maybe it's so."

"Two hundred and costs," said the court.

TERMINAL RAIL MERGERS HERE ARE FORBIDDEN

Supreme Court Hits N. Y. Central Plan.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—An interstate commerce commission order permitting railway terminal consolidations at Chicago was set aside by the Supreme court today, but the decision did not pass definitely on the commission's general authority to approve such transactions prior to the working out of the nation-wide railway consolidation plan now under consideration.

The specific order annulled by the court would have permitted the New York Central to purchase control of the Chicago River and Indiana railroad and through it to lease the Chicago Junction railway.

"As it was admitted by the motion," said Justice Brandeis in delivering the opinion, "that the order was unsupported by evidence, and since such an order is void, there is no occasion to consider the other grounds of invalidity asserted by plaintiffs."

Is It to Public Interest?

At one point in the decision, however, the court said that "upon application of a carrier the commission must form a judgment whether the acquisition proposed will be in the public interest."

It was held that the lower federal court was in error in refusing to entertain a case brought by the Baltimore and Ohio and other roads attacking the commission's order. These roads were declared in today's decision to be "interested parties," entitled to be heard.

The order of the commission, the Supreme court held, "substitutes for neutral control of the terminal railroads, monopoly of control in the New York Central; and, in so doing, necessarily gives to it substantial advantage over all its competitors and subjects the latter to serious disadvantage and prejudice."

Reason for Acquisition.

"The main purpose of the acquisition by the New York Central was to secure a larger share of the Chicago business," continued the decision. "By means of the preferential position incident to the control of these terminal railroads, it planned to obtain traffic heretofore enjoyed by its competitors. Because such was the purpose of the New York Central control, and would necessarily be its effect, these plaintiffs intervene before the commission.

"That their apprehensions were well founded is shown by the results. The plaintiffs are no longer permitted to complete with the New York Central on equal terms. A large volume of traffic has been delivered from their lines to those of the New York Central. The diversion of traffic has already subjected the plaintiffs to irreparable injury. The loss sustained exceeds $10,000,000."

KEEPER OF DISORDERLY HOUSE FINED.

Michel Martin, 1823 South Clark street, was fined $25 in Morals court yesterday when arraigned as keeper of a disorderly house. Five girls were each fined $5 as inmates.

Western Electric World

Vol. 1, No. 12 CHICAGO, TUESDAY, MARCH 4, 1924 * * *

EVERY city of 160,000 people needs its newspaper. Hence the Western Electric World, published twice a month for the information of our employees and their families in Chicago—a group as large as the population of Aurora, Peoria and Evanston combined. It also tells every Chicagoan something about this industry which, because we have here the largest telephone factory in the world, with a payroll and general business activities in proportion, plays no small part in the prosperity of this city.

Employees Anxious to Buy Homes

The Hawthorne Savings, Building and Loan Association is all set to finance three-quarters of a million dollars worth of homes during 1924. Indication of the home building attitude of the Works personnel is to be found in the success that has marked the latest stock sale put on by the association. By subscribing to 6,000 new shares, members of the organization have brought their total active capitalization up to 35,000 shares with a maturity value of $3,500,000.

A new campaign is now under way to increase the number of shares to 40,000. Such an expansion of capital will give the association deposits of $10,000 each week. The association now has outstanding loans amounting to $528,000, from which additional income is received. This together with two other series of stock to be issued later this year will bring the total available capital for Western Electric home building during 1924 well beyond the $750,000 mark.

During 1923 the Hawthorne Savings, Building and Loan Association financed homes to the extent of $357,000, representing a property value of about $700,000.

Chance for Cartoonists to Show their Talents

Hawthornites who amuse themselves and their friends by getting up humorous caricatures of their associates or burlesquing local happenings will have an opportunity to capitalize their talent in the cartoonists' contest which has just been thrown open to employees of the Western Electric Company, here and abroad. Nine cash prizes are offered for the best cartoons submitted. The capital prize will be awarded to the employee who embodies in his drawing the best Western Electric ideas. Those submitting the best general idea and the best drawing will also come in for their share of the rewards. The contest closes April 10.

More People Here Than Were in Chicago in 1853

FORTY THOUSAND—a city in themselves. It takes that many people at the Western Electric Hawthorne Works to make telephone equipment for the whole country.

The growth of the Western Electric organization came about because men and women of this city proved they could make telephones and telephone equipment of high quality.

As long ago as the eighteen-seventies this excellence was recognized. In 1881 it led the Bell Telephone Company to adopt Western Electric telephones as their standard.

Since then Western Electric has grown as the telephone industry grew. More telephones meant more Western Electric telephones—and more Chicagoans to make them.

Chicago can be proud of this. It is part of her record of achievement.

Do you know that

—almost 8,000 of the employees now at Hawthorne have been with the Western Electric more than five years each, many possessing service records that go back twenty, thirty and in some cases more than forty years?

—all shop and clerical employees at the Works receive their pay weekly? From Monday to Saturday the Hawthorne cashiers are kept busy every minute.

—one of every three men and one of every two women who apply for employment with the Western Electric, come to the Works personally recommended by a present employee?

—H. B. Thayer, President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the largest public service organization in the world, served his apprenticeship with the Western Electric Company? Like the majority of Bell System and Western Electric executives, Mr. Thayer is from the "ranks."

—the family of workers at Hawthorne—40,000 persons—could people a city like Moline, Illinois, or Dubuque, Iowa?

SPORTS

Mad Dash for Honors in Basketball Round up

With two teams tied for the leadership in each division and the rest of the field bunched right at their heels, the Interbranch Basketball League has just rounded the half way point in the annual race for the Works title. The final round in the first half of the schedule was one of the fastest played since the League organized. In Division 1, the Technical quintet downed the Production team; while in Division 2, the Merchandise team upset the dope by trimming the Equipment-Service squad. The Merchandise-Equipment Service game was played in the girls' gymnasium at Sterling Morton High School and went to the Merchandise basket shooters, 22 to 14. Staple collected 10 of the winner's points.

Hawthorne will probably enter two basket ball teams in the Cook County tourney and the Central States tourney. The Interbranch League is now being watched closely by local officials to get the best possible material out for these squads.

With the Interbranch bowling season at Hawthorne fast approaching the final round, leaders among the 20 five-man teams are indulging in a merry battle. The Installation Draftsmen are at the top with 41 games won, a margin of three games to the good. Tied for second honors are the Tool Room and Technical squads. The Switchboard Ordering and Machine teams are tied for third place. J. Jungman, with a high average of 194, is leading for individual honors.

Hawthorne's baseball girls are still tied for the leadership of the Chicago Playground League. Miss Eva Skrzdlewski, who has been subbing at first base, has proved herself to be one of the real finds of the season.

Tom Robinson, swimming coach at Northwestern University, will give a tank exhibition as one of the features of the gymnasium and swimming nights now being staged for Western Electric boys. The indoor season this year will be closed with a five night water tourney.

The annual tourney for the Chicago rifle championship closed with the Hawthorne team in third place, with a total of 9,360 out of a possible 10,000. The first round of the tourney conducted by mail with the Case-Eagle rifle squad of Racine, Wis., has resulted in a clean sweep for Hawthorne.

Bookworms Busy at Branch Library

At the Western Electric branch of the Chicago Public Library, more than 550 books are being borrowed every week, or an average of a little better than 110 every noon, an increase in four months of more than 60 per cent.

How Much Space Should an Automobile Advertiser use in The Chicago Tribune to Secure Best Results at Lowest Cost?

FROM THE VERY BEGINNING, the automobile industry has been an advertising industry. There is no line in which the competition for reader attention is so keen. The automobile manufacturer must depend upon his advertising to act as a lever both on the public and the trade. So, naturally he is continually increasing his space to secure greater interest.

Ten years ago 300 lines was considered generous space for a single automobile advertisement in The Tribune.

LAST YEAR THE AVERAGE SIZE OF COPY placed in The Tribune by the 34 leading advertisers in the automotive industry was about 1000 lines. Fourteen manufacturers were consistent users of full page space.

There is no questioning the greater attention value of a full page.

And there is no discounting the fact that even in an industry so accustomed to large space advertising—full pages surround an advertiser and his product with an atmosphere of stability and power that is very difficult to obtain in smaller space.

From the standpoint of the copy itself, advertising men declare that full pages lend themselves most readily to proper display and presentation of a product.

ADVERTISERS WHO USE PAGE UNITS IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE tell us that they find it better and cheaper and economically more sound to concentrate in large space in this dominating medium than to scatter their efforts haphazardly.

The growing tendency to use larger space in The Chicago Tribune is clearly shown by the increased average size of advertisements of leading manufacturers appearing in this newspaper as indicated below:

| | |
|---|---|
| 1915 | 300 Lines |
| 1918 | 420 Lines |
| 1921 | 600 Lines |
| 1923 | 1000 Lines |

Last year, one automobile manufacturer using pages in The Tribune raised his position in The Chicago Territory from eighteenth to twelfth. Another jumped from twenty-seventh to eighteenth.

For 1924 advertising contracts show a decided trend towards full page units—a page a week, a page every other week, or a page a month.

The development of the full page idea is clearly shown by the following facts:

In 1915, automobile, tire and accessory manufacturers used 31 full pages in The Chicago Tribune.

In 1919, this figure had grown to 48.

In 1923, the number of full pages on automotive products appearing in The Tribune totalled 121.

SCORES OF AUTOMOTIVE ADVERTISERS have learned from experience that this great newspaper, with its 900,000 circulation, is the most powerful single sales influence in a rich, productive, five-state market that consumes 22 per cent of all the cars built in the country.

They have learned, too, that The Tribune is a tremendous power with the automotive trade. Of the automobile and accessory jobbers and dealers in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin three-fourths read The Chicago Tribune.

IF YOU ARE SEEKING GREATER DISTRIBUTION in this all-important five-state territory—if you are eager for a larger share of the business in the market where intensive efforts pay biggest dividends—use pages in The Tribune.

During 1923, The Chicago Tribune carried more automobile advertising than any other two Chicago newspapers. Figured in millines or actual dollar for dollar value, The Tribune carried more than all other Chicago newspapers combined.

The Fourth Norwood

By ROBERT E. PINKERTON.

SYNOPSIS.

For three generations fur land had known a Norwood. Tom Norwood's grandfather, Hector Norwood, accompanied Mackenzie on his remarkable expedition to the Arctic sea. His son, Roderick (Tom's father), was born and raised in fur land. Tom and his father became successful fur traders when Canada became a free trade ground. Aaron Cron, a rival trader, settles in Tom's territory when Tom's son Rod is six. Cron is known to the district as The Spider because in an accident a number of years before he had lost both his legs. In the struggle Tom is victorious and The Spider disappears. When Rod is fourteen, The Spider reappears, and the battle between the two traders is renewed.

Tom sends Rod to school in New York and his daughter Beth to school at Toronto. After six years Rod tells his father he would like to continue to live in New York and devote himself to a career as a writer. Tom is bitterly disappointed, as he has just bought a post for his son. The following spring Rod, in New York, receives word of his father's sudden death. He meets Beth at Toronto and they return to Lake Deception. Rod learns that his father's business is nearly bankrupt. Beth goes back to school at Toronto and Rod decides to fight Cron. A half-breed employé of the Norwood post tells Rod his father's death was not accidental, and intimates Cron knows how it happened.

Beth comes back to Lake Deception unexpectedly. On the train she meets Professor Ransom and his daughter Marian. The professor has come into the bush to study pagan Indians. Rod meets Beth and the Ransoms at Heathcote and the professor tells him he has made arrangements to stay at Cron's house at Lake Deception. Rod is greatly attracted to Marian. The Ransoms leave Heathcote for Lake Deception with the Norwoods in their brigade. On the trip into the bush Rod and Marian realize they have fallen in love.

Rod's brigade reaches Lake Deception. Cron comes back, bringing a missionary for the Indians with him. Rod discovers the missionary is an actor in disguise, and forces him to leave Lake Deception. Marian feels Rod's attitude toward Cron is unjustified, and her manner to him changes to a cold antagonism. Cron tricks the Ransoms into taking a trip into the bush, where they are abandoned by his canoe men. Rod goes in search of them, and finds them marooned on an island.

INSTALLMENT LVI.

ROD'S OBSESSION.

Rod had loosened Marian's wrists long before, but she had not moved from his side. Now he relaxed for the first time.

"The Spider wanted to have a killing against each of you. How many murders are you fellows responsible for? Why did you work for Cron if you had to do his dirty jobs?"

"Ehe-bik he devil."

"Nonsense! You know better than to believe that windigo business."

He did not comment, but stood staring into the fire.

"Me no believe he windigo. He fool hunters with that story. But Ehe-bik devil just the same."

Bapinini strained at his bonds, and his scarred face became horrible with passion.

"He kill my father, that Ehe-bik!" he cried. "With his hands. Just his hands. Me see him do it. Just because he want my mother. He devil-man. Two hunters me know he kill because they not bring him all their fur. With his hands. He devil. No man like him. No man can do what he do. Me know he do this. Jim and me tie rocks to those Indians in the night and sink 'em in the lake."

Neither Rod nor Marian spoke. The girl crouched there on her heels, the firelight touching parts of her white face and intensifying the expression of horror.

The Laughing Man babbled on. Fear and hatred of The Spider had loosened his tongue. His words became a chronicle of Aaron Cron's ruthless sway over the hunters of Mattawa, of oppression and cruelty, and, without realizing what he was doing, the half-breed also gave a picture of the perversion of a strong character, showed how an indomitable will had grown in the isolation of the wilderness to a thing of heedless greed. Power and the love of power, that liberty with which the north tempts its people to arrogance, these had undermined the strong spirit that had survived the gory drama of the old squaw's wigwam and made of it a horrible, pitiless thing.

As Marian listened, as she grasped the fundamentals beneath the broken, lurid description of the warping of Aaron Cron's soul, she saw the north as it really is, an implacable force, seducing that it may deride, offering little and demanding much, exposing and fostering weakness, scoffing at strength, and placing countless obstacles in its way, but rewarding it in the end—that was the north that lay beneath the many hued mantle with which her imagination had once clothed it.

The north, she saw, was not so much a place of flashing valor as of quiet courage. It was a testing ground more than a battlefield, as is life everywhere, with meager outward rewards, scarcely more than ease of soul and consciousness of strength. A little furtively, with awe and with understanding, she looked at Rod. She knew the whole story now; understood his purpose and his tenacity. She saw, too, that she had come second in his thoughts, that she had been thrust into the background, and she exulted that it was so.

But even when he knew she must understand he did not look at her. He was listening intently to every word Bapinini said, and when at last the half-breed's passion had burned out and he ceased straining at his bonds Rod did not move. He crouched there while the minutes dragged, and deeper than ever before rage carved the lines in his face.

Marian knew he fought a battle, but just what it was or how it was decided she did not understand. Rod suddenly rose to his feet.

"Can you write down what you have heard, tonight?" he asked. "Before you forget details?"

"Yes," Marian said.

"All right," and he turned away toward his own camp.

"Where Jim?" Bapinini called after him.

"He's gone back," Rod answered. "He won't bother you."

Marian went into her tent, got paper and pencil, and returned to the fire. She had been writing for some time before Rod finally appeared from the shore where Bapinini had landed. He went at once to the half-breed, cut his bonds, and drove him with a rifle down to the water. Marian heard them get into a canoe and paddle away. A half hour later Rod came back. The girl was still writing and looked up as he strode into the firelight.

"You needn't worry about anything tonight," he said. "I've marooned Bapinini on a small island north of here. He'll stay there until we're ready to start. When do you think your father can travel?"

"He's much better," she said. "He's sleeping well for the first time. Perhaps in a day or two."

He did not comment, but stood staring into the fire. Marian leaned forward; was about to speak. There was a great deal she wanted to say. She had a desire to prostrate herself. There were countless things she had said to this man which she wished to efface from his memory, if possible. There were other things she wished to tell him. There was a sentence she wished to hear him speak. But when she searched his stern features, saw the hard, absent expression of his eyes, her courage failed. She remembered the things she had said to him that day. A sinking sensation swept over her when she recalled his indifference even to her scorn. She knew he was not thinking of her—was scarcely aware of her presence. He turned and walked to his own camp without speaking.

In the days that followed she could come no closer to him than that. There was a savage intensity in everything he said or did. He was obsessed, driven, and he drove the others.

Professor Ransom gained strength amazingly when he learned his daughter was safe and after he had eaten a few good meals. Henry's dizziness quickly disappeared. He was able to help Rod bury Jim the next day, and the morning of the third day Bapinini was brought from his island and the journey to Lake Deception began.

"I'll take the prisoner," Rod explained to Marian. "Henry will paddle you and your father."

It was only thus that he ever spoke to her—some short comment or explanation. Not once did she find an opportunity to get through the wall he seemed to have erected between them, and after the first day of travel she did not try. But Marian found a fierce joy in that journey. She paddled stroke for stroke with Henry, keeping her canoe abreast of Rod's; paddled until her arms and back seemed to shriek their agony and blood stained the paddle shaft. She carried all her own dunnage on the portages, helped prepare the meals and wash the dishes.

Sometimes she worked beside Rod, bending over a cooking fire or struggling against a head wind. She thrilled to his presence then, as she had that day in the early summer when they were with the brigade. There was a suffocating entrancement in the thought that they shared something, though it were only the menial task of clearing up after a meal. She gloried even in the fact he never seemed aware of her presence, that the driving obsession still held him. She arose stiffly, but gladly, at his call long before daylight. She forced her little tent to a wabbly position on wavering poles that the day's journey might be lengthened and a quick camp made.

Good morning!

It's impossible to say how this picture will impress you, but I came away after seeing it with a lump in my throat; a realization that, on the whole, it had been splendidly acted and that the story was by no means too tragic to be true. Every day the newspapers chronicle just such pitiful tales as is "The Lullaby."

The photoplay has a "Humoresque" sort of appeal. Simply done, though it is, it gets right to the heart. After all, ISN'T it the simple things that have the greatest pull?

From the old country comes the blushing Felipa to be carried over the threshold of her new home by her adoring bridegroom. Tony has been over here for some time and knows after a fashion the ways of the Ghetto. Certainly he knows that Felipa must turn out the gas—not blow on the flame—and great joy he takes because of his superior knowledge, happily and proudly instructing his young wife regarding the intricacies of American housekeeping.

There is a boarder in their flat—Tony's best friend. That is, Pietro WAS Tony's best friend until Felipa came. Then starts the tragedy that ends romance abruptly. An evil man meets his end with a lie on his lips that forever parts the married lovers.

The scenes between Miss Novak, Robert Anderson, and—after a while, Miss Novak and small Dorothy Marion Mack as a little one born within prison walls, will "get" you—if you're not too hard boiled. (For your own sakes, don't be!)

Marguerite Snow reappears in the picture. I hope you will be glad to see her again.

This screen presentation isn't the naughty drama of the stage. Strange that such widely diversified human documents should come out almost simultaneously under the same name!

The picture is well directed for the most part; has a fine cast, and as to sets and the rest of it is all right. If you want to weep over your own troubles, change your minds. Step out and weep over what happens to the folks in "The Lullaby."

See you tomorrow!

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your questions to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Mrs. R. D. Cavanagh, 1439 North La Salle street, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Should husband and wife take a vacation from each other every so often?

Where Asked.

7 South Dearborn street.

The Answers.

M. F. Rooney, 2744 West 38th street, salesman—Well, not in my case. I have been married a number of years, am thoroughly domesticated, and am content with things as they are. Haven't even thought of interrupting the regular routine of our daily life.

Mrs. Sophia Lange, 6816 Lakewood avenue, housewife—I don't know whether it is good or whether it isn't. Sometimes I think it is. Our married life has been so pleasant that it would not necessarily apply to us. Undoubtedly there are many instances where it would be highly advisable.

H. R. Schayer, 2024 Sherman avenue, Evanston, insurance salesman—I presume it would be a good thing on account of, as they say, "absence makes the heart grow fonder." We have been apart for business tripes and visits, and the effect is a better feeling between us.

Mrs. Marion Hill, 715 East 57th street, housewife — I would say no. I'm afraid it might be "good night" for one or the other. The husband might get interested in another woman; the wife might get interested in another man. If you want to keep hubby you had better watch him.

Frank Spietz, 5653 Newark avenue, sign painter — I emphatically believe they ought to take occasional vacations. We are in each other's company so much of the time—why, like anything else, hobby or what not, occasional separation makes it appreciated the more.

Pavlowa, of Magic Dance, Thrills Anew

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Anna Pavlowa, supremely beautiful artist, is again among those present at the Auditorium. This time she brings some new material with her that is not Russian but counts among the most fascinating of all she has been doing in the years she has been demonstrating the great art of the ballet. One item among the novelties was put on view last night.

It is called "Oriental Impressions," and they are the impressions of a photographic memory touched with imagination. One third is Japanese, one third a Hindu wedding, the final scene a folk dance of the great god Krishna. On many a vase and jar, on many a screen and fan, you may have seen the Japanese girls who sway and bend, pose and retreat, play with their fans and their tiny drums, but no vase or screen can give more than a hint of the charming, leaflike motion of the eight girls who are in this scene.

The scene changes to a street in Hindustan, with bride and groom priests, friends of the pair, and a squad of nautch girls in a whirl of gorgeously colored fabrics of metallic sheen. Meanwhile the orchestra, led by Pavlowa's expert conductor, Theodore Stier, drones strange music, repeating the same theme over and over to the incessant, hypnotic throb of drums. Both the Japanese and Hindu scenes have music that, like the dances, has come from the source. For it seems that the Japanese dances were arranged by Japanese experts and the music composed by Henry Geehl from Japanese tunes. The Hindu music was composed by Comolata Banerji and the dances arranged by F. Uday Shankar, who appears in person in the third.

He is discovered as Krishna, the god of love, playing his flute in the moonlight. Pavlowa as Rhada comes to make offering of a floral wreath, and she is attended by a group of "gopples." The meaning of the name is not quite clear. It sounds as though it came from the pages of Dickens, but they are apparently attendant priestesses.

One might think that a scene of this sort would be out of Pavlowa's line, but it is not. True, there is no story and no sensational stunts of dancing. Those are found elsewhere. Here are atmospheric loveliness, charming groupings, gorgeous colorings put in for their own sakes, and justifying themselves. The scene sticks in the memory. It will be given again Thursday. Attendance is advisable.

If ever a person had the secret of eternal youth that person is this same Pavlowa. She dances across the stage and into one's affections with the same magic step as when she first came to Chicago nearly fourteen years ago.

A glance at the personnel of the organization indicates that the lovely Russians of old have in great part been converted into English. But they are still a lovely company. Another novelty, "Old Russian Folklore," with music by Nicolas Tscherepnin, is billed for tonight, together with "Chopiniana" and another set of divertissements.

Lynne Overman Goes Into "Around in Par"

Lester Bryant states that he has engaged Lynne Overman, known here for his comic acting in "Just Married," to head the cast of "Around in Par," a comedy by W. Lee Dickson and Leslie M. Hickson. He adds that rehearsal begins today, in New York, under George M. Cohan's stage-director, John Meehan. Other players named for the comedy are Ralph Sipperly, Harry Minturn, and Miss Florence Morrison. Mr. Bryant hopes to have a Chicago theater for the play about March 24.

Another comedy about golf, "Kelly's Vacation," is tentatively booked for the Adelphi when "The Best People" shall have run its Chicago course. This one is by Vincent Lawrence, author of "Two Fellows and a Girl" and some other pieces, not all of which have been acted.

A Ditty and a Band Make a Go of This One

And There Are Rowdy Girls, a Cast, and Such.

"LITTLE JESSIE JAMES": A musical comedy in two acts; play and verses by Harlan Thompson; music by Harry Archer; performed March 2, 1924, in the Garrick Theater, by this cast:

| | |
|---|---|
| Tommy Tinker | Gregory Kelly |
| Juliet | Madeleine Fairbanks |
| Mrs. Flower | Madeline Grey |
| Geraldine Flower | Martha Throop |
| Paul Revere | John Hundley |
| S. Block | James B. Carson |
| Mrs. Jamieson | Mary Jeffery |
| Jessie Jamieson | Olga Steck |
| William J. Pierce | Roger Gray |

BY FREDERICK DONAGHEY.

The formula for success in the theater seems a simple and a naive thing as one contemplates "Little Jessie James." It has been on view and in hearing in Manhattan since mid-August, and is still listed among the island's enticements, although tales come to say that the populace has been hostile and unkind to many a costlier and a seemlier thing of the playhouse. As you look and listen in the Garrick, you will err if you make the customary assumption—that the piece is performed by a more alluring personnel in the East. You may take my word for it that it isn't, if we set name against name; and the roster would appear to favor the Chicago venture. . . . No: "Little Jessie James" is just one of those things that go. It went last night, giving delight to an audience in use of nearly all the seats, and creating most of the reactions that indicate a hit.

An appraisement of the entertainment results in this inventory of its major assets:

Imprimis—A song that is among the best musical-comedy ditties of the last decade, "I Love You!" It is put through with a frequency that deprives you of all excuse for not knowing the tune by 11:00 p. m.

Item—A Paul Whiteman unit that is better than any other band of its kind I have heard, not excepting the one conducted by Mr. Whiteman, himself. What the eleven of them give out is de-luxe jazz; and they pervade the proceedings, taking the place in the pit of the customary gentlemen from the Chicago Federation of Musicians.

Item—Nine rowdy young women who intervene when any of the principals is in risk of making a success with a good tune, and take it away. They are statured like the show girls of 1910, and do well all of the raffish and rude things the smaller choristers of that period vainly tried to do.

Item—Other songs, pretty good of themselves, and made more ingratiating by the Whiteman symphonists and the tireless ladies of the ensemble.

Item—The least cerebral of the plots so far encountered in the minor lyric drama. When it is clean, it is juvenile; when it is audacious, it is infantile. And it has the advantage that it may be taken up at any point in the action without causing worry as to what happened before you entered.

There are the principals, of course, and they are various, with Miss Steck singing well when she has anything to sing, and dancing so well that the girls permit her to line up with them, and Mr. Kelly making a timid but promising début as a stepping tenor.

An extra performance of George White's Scandals will be given in the Colonial at midnight of Thursday, March 13, for the benefit of the Actors' Fund. . . . The formal benefit for the Fund will be the next afternoon, in the Auditorium.

Lace Is a Feature of Spring Millinery

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—That lace has gone to our heads—who could doubt it after peeping in at a recent millinery showing held by all New York's most noted designer of hats? There is, of course, nothing to surprise the logical mind in this development of lace millinery, for nobody expects anything different in a season when more and more lace gowns appear with every passing day.

The fancy for combining straw with lace is illustrated in the lower drawing in a shape where two upstanding flounces of coffee colored lace spring from a narrow brim of matching straw. This little dress hat represents, of course, only one mood in the lace millinary epoch. At the millinery show just mentioned one observed, for example, a smart little tricorne of red Milan with its entire crown covered by black lace shellacked to the surface.

This tailored version stood at the other pole from a dance hat sponsored at the same opening. In this case a crown of narrow lavender ribbon, finely beaded, was completed by a wired brim of coffee colored lace held back at the front by a buckle of rhinestones.

The crown with much trimming is one of the features of the spring millinery. Frequently the top of the crown is treated to a large bow or loops of ribbon, and still more frequently it provides the starting point for some dangling garland of ribbon or flowers. The latter method obtains in the upper model—one of the new high crowned effects so strongly emphasized just now. Here the flowers are American Beauty roses, and they are staged on black straw.

MEN'S FASHIONS

BY A. T. GALLICO.

Smart Checked Socks.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The man with svelte ankles, who can wear checked socks, will be interested in these smart socks of small black and white checks. They are of light weight wool, and should be worn with black oxfords—and could not, of course, be worn with high shoes. They would make an ideal completion to a black and white costume, which might have at the neck a black and white checked tie, and one of the black and white checked silk square mufflers that we saw not long ago.

The same pattern of checked sock comes in a brown and white scheme, to be worn with tan oxfords. This combination could be used with a brown tweed or other brown or tan, green or dark blue suit, with one of the lighter brown soft felt hats, and a tan top coat. The socks suggest themselves for wear with the more informal type of hat, the one that turns down in front or all the way around.

In fact, we took note of two outfits recently that might well have had the brown and white socks as an ankle finish. One was light brown beaver hat, turned down in the front, with dark brown band: top coat the same color, and of one of the softest finishes, wool muffler of large brown and white effect, the brown being only in fine line checks around large patches of white. Add to this, say, a brown and green necktie, the green for a spot of color, a brown suit and the brown and white socks with tan shoes, and you have a most attractive color scheme.

The other combination we saw that could have used the brown and white socks consisted of brown suit, fawn colored top coat and hat, blue shirt, blue and brown necktie, and cashmere muffler of large pastel blue and fawn colored checks.

Fashionote.

We saw some handkerchiefs today which had white borders and colored centers of polka dot design.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

THIN GIRL: YES, JOIN THE swimming class. There is not another exercise that will do as much for the development of the body as swimming—the chest muscles, the abdomen muscles, and the leg muscles are all made to work, and with every stroke there comes a deep breathing benefit. Also you'd better send s. a. e. for my booklet on how to gain weight.

GLADYS: FOR THE LINES UNDER the eyes, massage the part lightly at night with a good skin food. Pat lightly, and work from nose bridge out with a little upward trend at the outer edge of the eye. Do you get your full eight hour quota of sleep? That is necessary to keep the eye wrinkles at bay.

Ned was at the age when a little boy is minus several front teeth. He was visiting his aunt who had recently had all of her teeth removed. He had not paid much attention to one of his aunt's requests.

"Well, Ned, I guess you can't understand what I say," said his aunt.

"O yes, I can, aunty," answered Ned, with a toothless grin. "You know you an' me speak the same langwidge." J. R.

The child next door was visiting me the other day.

My daughter asked her where she had put a certain article she had been given to play with.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

"Since I have moved to a smaller apartment I find I cannot place an oil painting, about 30x36 inches. I would like to offer this to some one who would like it. I have a warm tailored suit in fine condition for some practical person who would appreciate and take care of it—size 38—made for a tall, slender person. I. L. S."

Thank you, I. L. S.!

Her Way Uphill.

"I am writing to ask if you will help a friend, please. The father deserted the mother four months ago and she must work to support two children—a little boy 3 and an infant 6 months old. She earns $11 a week and must pay board for the babies and herself, so there isn't enough left for clothing. The boy wears size 6½ shoes and the mother size 9 or 8½, and size 18 dress. If any one has anything for an infant, it also will be greatly appreciated. "Mrs. C. K."

This woman needs a little help in her uphill fight. I know some one will be glad to give it.

Grateful for Help.

"Has any of your readers a discarded bookcase or a small phonograph that he would be willing to dispose of? I would be grateful, indeed, to receive either. I have five children and we have a cold and cheerless home. We sometimes long for a little cheer—an old phonograph would give us some. The bookcase I need in order to stack the children's books and so help the appearance of an already small and congested place. H. B."

Here, friends, is an opportunity to make homier and cheerier the little flat of H. B.

Society Breaks Into Poetry to Boost Its Rummage Shop Sale

"When stock gets low we are obliged
To have a 'Rummage Tea.'
But there's another reason why
They come so frequently!
We NEED your things, but you NEED us
As much as we NEED you,
So prior to the Rummage Shop
What did you find to do
With all your old White Elephants
Which soon accumulate
And last year's hats all out of style,
And dresses out of date?
On March 11th from three to six
Please add to our display,
And help the babies who are sick
In this unusual way.
Come early, to enjoy the fun
And so avoid the crush
At Hamilton McCormick's house,
Ontario and Rush."

Cards bearing the above verse were received yesterday by the friends of the Rummage shop, which is conducted at 27 East Ohio street for the benefit of the Children's Memorial hospital. Some of those assisting Mrs. McCormick will be Mrs. Fred W. Upham, Mrs. George H. Taylor, Mrs. Oscar W. Johnson, and Mrs. Thomas Cowles.

Do Men Care for Self-Sacrificing Women? Do They?

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Just how much sacrifice can a young woman make for the man she loves?

Do men care about women who make sacrifices for them?

A prominent lawyer said to me one time, "No man loves the woman who sacrifices for him. He loves the woman who demands sacrifice of him."

How much truth is there in that? The question has arisen again with a letter from Carol, whose experience bears out the lawyer's contention.

When Carol was 16, which was three years ago, she was employed as secretary to an officer of a large concern. In the next department worked a young man ten years her senior. He confided to the men in the office that he thought highly of the girl, arranged an introduction, and asked to see her outside of business.

Her mother, a narrow minded person on the subject of religion, Carol explains, objected because the boy was of another faith. At first the girl refrained from accepting the young man's invitations to go out, but in spite of her efforts to avoid the man, she found herself falling desperately in love with him. After several months of constant urging, she finally agreed to see him one evening. Thereafter they went out frequently together—never to the theater or any place of entertainment; walking with Ken was enough, for she loved him. "My idea of true love," she confides, "was to give and to think of the happiness of the man."

For three years Carol met Kenneth candestinely. She dared not ask her mother's permission to marry, so she promised to marry him when she was 21 in spite of mother's inevitable disapproval.

She advised Kenneth to continue his education by taking a course at night school. He followed her advice. She did all in her power to assist him with his studies. She taught him geometry and Latin so as to enable him to complete his course sooner.

In order to give him a start, she spent her lunch hour each day in his office, took care of the mail, and in the evening took charge of the books, so as to save the expense of employing a stenographer and bookkeeper. "I willingly gave my time and energy, and wanted nothing in return but true love," Carol writes. "In this way I spoiled Kenneth. He became selfish. He asked me to work over his books on Saturday afternoons while he went to a ball game. In the evening he took me for a walk. He never took me to the theater, although now he was able to."

When he took her for walks he told her how much he loved her, how he owed his success to her—that he would have given up long ago if not for her faith and encouragement.

"Girls," Carol cautions, "from my experience you can see that when a man who has done all in his power to gain your friendship finally feels certain of your love he does little to keep it. If I ever love another man, I will know how to handle him."

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Her Love Can't Die.

"Dear Miss Blake: Seeing you have helped other people, I ask you to help me, and I am sure you will try your best. I am a young girl in love with a fellow about four years my senior. I have loved him since I was a child, so I know my love for him can't die. But the trouble is I have not had the chance to speak to him until about six weeks ago when we were introduced, and I thought I was the luckiest girl. He says 'hello' or something like that when I see him, but does not converse any further. Only when I'm standing with a friend of his he comes over and speaks. Do you think the four years' difference between us would make any difference, or doesn't that matter at all? How do you think I can make him more sincere to me? Please do not ask me to give him up, for I could never forget him. I thank you and will be waiting for your most welcome answer.

"THE WEEPING WILLOW."

If you were 14 or 15, possibly 16 or 17, the youth four years your senior might look upon you as a mere infant, but otherwise I don't think the age difference would spoil your opportunity for a glowing romance. Isn't it strange to have this Romeo, whose vision you have nursed since childhood, dispel your dreams with a casual "hello"?

Step Out of the Picture.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am in a peculiar love triangle and want to ask your help. I met this girl, who is 22 years old and two years my junior, at the office where I work. I have met her people and she has met mine. Her mother does not like me. She has been going out for three years with a fellow of her own kind and she claims she only cares for him because of the many things he has done for her and her family. Recently she has given him up for me and I understand this fellow loves her dearly. I cannot say truthfully that I love her. I just wanted some one to pass away the time. I realize now what I caused and I would like to bring them together again. I believe this girl is fickle and I wouldn't care to marry her, and I know from the way she talks that she has large ideas. How can I overcome this? SORRY."

The graceful thing for you to do is to step right out of the picture. A direct attempt to bring the girl and her former suitor together would not result fortunately, since the man would be distrustful of your motive. The redeeming thing for you to do now is simply to not see the girl any more, or take her anywhere, and leave the explanation for her to make as she sees best.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Pancake Day.

G. F. Scotson-Clark, in a recent book, says, "Pancakes are the dish for Shrove Tuesday. I believe it is on that day that the pancake scrimmage takes place at Westminster school. All the lower form boys line up in the big schoolroom; the cook, in white, enters bearing in his hand a frying pan in which is a large pancake. He takes his stand at the end of the room, on a dais, swings the pan three times around his head, and tosses the pancake as far as he can down the schoolroom. The boys at once scramble for it, and the one who emerges with the largest portion is awarded a guinea—left by some long since dead benefactor. I once met a man who was exceedingly proud of having been the boy of his year to get the largest piece of pancake and also the guinea."

I have heard quite a different version, from this, of the pancake tossing. Also I have collected various accounts of why Shrove Tuesday is pancake day, but Mr. Scotson-Clark says, "I have never discovered why pancakes are the dish for Shrove Tuesday; true, I have not worked hard at finding out, but I have done my best to observe the behest of the church and I have eaten pancakes on most of the fifty Shrove Tuesdays it has been my pleasure and privilege to celebrate."

This author's recipe for pancakes is: "Six eggs beaten to a froth, yolks and whites together; two tablespoonfuls of flour in which is a salt-spoonful of baking powder; sufficient milk to make it the consistency of thin cream." The description of how to make this, really a German pancake and not the English, is long, with great emphasis on the tossing. A turned pancake he considers something else again. He serves this with sugar and lemon juice.

Deaf Girl Dances in Rhythm with Music "Heard from Within"

Miss Helen Heckman, the stone deaf young woman who dances to the music she cannot hear, owes her perfect sense of rhythm "from within" to two things, she explained yesterday as she stopped off a day at the Blackstone hotel en route from her home in Muskogee, Okla., to New York.

The two things are her stepmother, Mrs. P. E. Heckman, and a pair of long stairs in the family home at Muskogee. Mrs. Heckman became the girl's mother when she was 12 years old, inarticulate, unable to coördinate her muscles, and with her tongue almost atrophied from inactivity.

"By a long, slow process," Miss Heckman explained, "I was taught how to make sounds, then words. But spoke in a ghastly monotone. My first conception of a musical scale was gained on the stairs at home. The steps, up and down, were used to standardize my pitch. That gave me a wider tonal range for speaking. But now, of course, I don't carry a stepladder around with me. But the principle is the same."

Miss Heckman is accompanied in her rhythmic dancing by her sister, Mildred, a violinist. But Mildred is never permitted to face the dancer.

"For in that case," the dancer pointed out, "she would be inclined to favor me and I wouldn't get the exact rhythm."

P. L. Wethe Garfields of Chicago gave the American Bowling congress five men leaders a scare on the first squad rolling last night when they came within four pins of first place with a count of 2,854. Had any one of the four spares missed in the last frame been picked up the Garfields would have headed the parade, with several pins to spare.

In going into second place the team rolled games of 931, 905, and 1,018, the latter being the fifth 1,000 game of the tourney.

Other Teams Roll High.

This represented the only effort in which a leader was displaced. In fact, it marks the passing of a flat 2,800 from the high ten, Hamilton Club Reds being the victims. Several scores of prize winning proportions were rolled, however, most prominent being 2,775 by Hans Stiehls of Chicago. The team had a most distressing start of 860 and then closed with a pair of good 909 games. Other high scoring outfits on the initial squad were Staders, 2,768; Practical Printing company, 2,738; Rickenbacker Motors, 2,692; Andrew Thums, 2,686, all of Chicago.

Aside from the work of the Bunde & Upmeyer team of Milwaukee on the good night shift, there was little to excite the spectators. They hit for a 2,813 total and edged into tenth place among the leaders. Their big help was a 984 game in their second endeavor. This team started with 903 and closed with 926.

Anderson, Ind., Again.

The afternoon pastiming was featured by two changes in the doubles event leaders and one in the singles.

The little city of Anderson, Ind., which went on the bowling map Sunday night as a result of its five men team work, again stepped to the fore, due to the 1,215 made by Tomlin and O'Gay. This mark was good for fourth place.

The score was bettered, however, by Rebock and Furrow of Springfield, Ill., who slipped into third place with a score of 1,222.

The singles star was Simmons of Des Moines, who churned the pins into submission for a count of 654 and eighth position. Most of the doubles and singles rolling brought out of town stars into the competition.

4 TEAMS LAPPED IN N. Y. BIKE RACE

New York, March 3.—Another tumultuous session of sprinting in the six day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden shortly after 8 o'clock tonight resulted in the lapping of four teams and as a consequence the field in this race is divided into three different sections. Alf Nefatti and Giuseppe Azzini, Senegalese-Italian pair, and Charley Ruyter and Lucene Buysse one of the Belgian teams, maintain their advantage of one lap, leading nine rival pairs by one circuit of the ten lap track.

The standing at the twenty-second hour:

| | Miles. | Laps. | Points. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Nefatti-Azzini | 426 | 3 | 24 |
| De Ruyter-L. Buysse | 426 | 3 | 10 |

The meet will continue for two weeks, and the winners will receive the Dr. Code cup and medal.

A. A. U. BOXERS IN MEET AT GARY

The annual boxing championships of the middle states association of the A. A. U. will be held at the Gary Y. M. C. A. on March 13, 14, and 15, with competition in eight classes. Entries have been received from the leading athletic clubs and some universities and colleges. George M. Pinneo of Gary Y. M. C. A. is in charge of the tourney.

Charlie White to Open Health School Saturday

Charlie White, Chicago lightweight boxer, will open his new physical education school at 738 Sheridan road Saturday. Charlie plans to run his system of physical education on a new plan, with individual service for both men and women.

He does not plan to desert the ring game, but will keep in training and remain in the lightweight division, at least for a time.

LEWIS TO MEET LONDOS.

St. Louis, Mo., March 3.—Champion Ed Lewis will wrestle Jim Londos, Greek heavyweight, here March 12. On the same card will appear Renato Gardini, Italian heavyweight, and Stanislaus Zbyszko.

CUTLER TRAINS HANS FOR MAT GO WITH SIKI

Charley Cutler, who has been actively engaged in wrestling for over twenty years and who has met champions and near titleholders, is training Hans Steinke, the German, for his match with Reginald Siki which will be the feature of Doc Krone's mat show at Ashland Boulevard auditorium on Thursday night.

Cutler believes Hans the coming champion. Charley asserted the Teuton is game and needs only a little more schooling in catch-as-catch-can grappling to be ready for the best in his division. They are training every afternoon at Ferretti's gym.

Thez semi-windup bout between Demetral, the Greek, and Gardini, Italian, is creating a lot of interest.

Stanislaus Zbyszko, who meets Elmer Saunders of Ashland, Wis., at the Star and Garter on Friday, may be rematched with Ed (Strangler) Lewis for the heavyweight championship. Some of the leading Polish men in Chicago have requested the city athletic commission to take some disciplinary action against Lewis.

Zbyszko had all the best of the grappling in his match with Lewis, and his countrymen believe he can beat the Strangler, whom Stanislaus is willing to meet any place. Jack Curley, the New York promoter, has already guaranteed Lewis $15,000 for his end to meet the Pole in New York.

When Stanislaus appears at the Star and Garter on Friday night, he will be given an ovation in his first local appearance since the Lewis match.

MYERS HERE TO REMODEL TRACK

Billy Myers, who has acquired quite a reputation as a builder of race tracks and who back in the palmy days of Chicago racing, was track superintendent at Harlem, will come to Chicago to take charge of the work of improving the Hawthorne plant for the Business Men's Racing association, it was announced yesterday.

He has been in charge of the Rancocas farm properties at Redbank, N. J., for some time and was in charge of the remodeling of the Saratoga and Belmont park tracks in New York some years ago and helped in the construction of the original Fair Grounds plant at New Orleans and Essex Park at Hot Springs, Ark.

COBB LIFTS GOLF BAN FOR HURLERS; GIANTS' CLUBS SHIPPED HOME

DETROIT, Mich., March 3.—Ty Cobb has relented on his recent edict against golf, according to reports from the Tiger training camp at Augusta, Ga. Cobb's new order permits pitchers to play the Scotch game but keeps the bars up to other members of the squad.

Cobb's opposition to golf is that in his opinion it adversely affects the "batting eye." He says pitchers, as a rule, cannot hit, anyway.

GIANTS' GOLF BARRED.

Sarasota, Fla., March 3.—[Special.]—Several long canvas bags packed with golf sticks were picked up in the Giant camp today for shipment to points north because almost the first thing Manager McGraw did this morning when he took command of his baseball team was to put the ban on golf.

"Golf and baseball do not mix," explained McGraw. "A golf player uses a different swing in hitting the ball from a baseball player, and trying to do both works harm. I find that men who play golf have it on their minds. I want my players to live baseball all the time."

Test Cub Rookies in Game; Sox Toil Hard in First Drill

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Avalon, Catalina Island, Cal., March 3.—[Special.]—Young bloods of the Cubs are going to have their fling in the first of the spring exhibition games with Vernon scheduled for the coming week-end.

Willie Killefer has decided that the quickest way to get the lowdown on his candidates is to see them in regular competition, and to this end he will employ only two or three regulars against Vernon at Los Angeles next Saturday and Sunday.

The pitchers for these two tilts will be recruited from among the aspirants who at the present time are doubtful quantities. This takes in Guy Bush, Rip Collins, Fred Blake, Ray Pierce, and possibly Bob Osborne. These fellows should be in trim to display all their wares after a couple more days of work, so if they don't show impressively they may receive some bad news from the boss.

Vogel to Play Short.

For his infield Killefer intends to use Elliott at first, Grantham at second, Vogel at short, and Barrett at third. Grantham's job isn't in danger; but he needs all the practice he can get if he hopes to overcome his habit of fighting slow bounders. There isn't any doubt about Elliott's fielding ability, but his hitting is something else again.

Practice today was somewhat curtailed by a wet infield resulting from a much needed rain. About the only work possible was the tossing of balls.

Pitcher Bush received a telegram this morning from Shannon, Miss., that his mother has passed away after a lingering illness. Because he could not get home in time to attend the funeral the youngster decided to remain in camp.

Outfielder Statz was called to Los Angeles yesterday because of the illness of a baby daughted. The hospital squad was augmented today by Rip Wheeler, who stopped a line drive with the side of his face.

Some of the athletes went to sea yesterday in William Wrigley's yacht Quest and in two hours were back with 343 pounds of mackerel.

SOX IN STIFF WORK

Winter Haven, Fla., March 3.—[Special.]—Plenty of hard work was accomplished by the White Sox today in the first of the spring practice sessions. Coach Johnny Evers, who is serving as a substitute for Manager Frank Chance, sent the men through their paces both morning and afternoon, knocking off an hour for lunch.

Evers found nineteen athletes upon whom to toil. They included the young pitchers and Red Faber and Leon Cadore. The latter pair was able to cut loose, for they had some preliminary work at Hot Springs, Ark., and the benefits thereof was apparent.

Faber seemed much more like his old self and said after the session that his arm felt strong.

Little attempt was made at infield work the first day. Red Ostergard, a comeback from the Texas league, was the only diamond artist worth while on hand. He tried out at third base, but it is understood he will be used in the outfield the coming season if he sticks. Ostergard played outfield for Galveston and did well last year. His hitting was such that the Sox scouts decided he is worthy of another trial in the major league.

Coaches Eye Burns.

The practice sessions today were all that could be desired. The weather was as hot as July at home, and those who felt the need of limbering up were able to work as much as they desired. The veterans dashed about like colts and several of the young lads showed the benefits of early preparation. Pitcher Connally, Pitcher Davenport, and Ostergard spent the winter in the far west and are hardened.

The various substitute managers and assistant directors watched Catcher Burns with critical eye. He came from Shreveport, where he had intensive instruction from Ira Thomas, who was a great catcher in years gone by. Burns is a husky lad, tall and rangy. He receives well and seems to possess an arm.

Ray Schalk is wearing out under the strain of catching more than 100 games for eleven consecutive seasons, and the time has come when a second string backstop capable of receiving in at least sixty games is a dire necessity.

Two practices daily have been ordered, but only one trip will be made from Lake Alfred, where the Hose dwell. The living arrangements are not so bad, as the food is good and the five mile ride through the orange groves is a novelty.

BABE IS BETTER, BUT FANS OUT ON HIS FIRST EATS

Hot Springs, Ark., March 3.—[Special.]—The "No Visitors" sign which was affixed to Babe Ruth's door the day influenza smote him was removed this morning. Ruth is on the way to rapid recovery. He was interviewed while humped on the edge of his bed, wrapped with all the meticulous care given the late Tut-Ankh-Amen.

"Greetings," the Babe said huskily, "and maybe you don't think you're visiting a guy who was not sicker than anybody ever was before."

His physician today prescribed some chicken broth. "I tried it," Babe said, his features screwed up by an unpleasant recollection, "and it did not taste worth a fiddler's damn."

Babe's temperature, respiration and pulse are once again in a state of near-normalcy. He won't be able to get out for about a week.

BERLENBACH K. O. DROPS DARCY IN THIRD SESSION

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—Paul Berlenbach knocked out Jimmie Darcy of Portland, Ore., in the third round of a scheduled twelve round bout at the Broadway club, Brooklyn, tonight. Darcy took an awful beating all the way, and was on the floor five times. He could not be called another "setup" for Berlenbach, for it is not the usual thing for setups to take the beating and show the gameness that Darcy did.

SANGOR TAKES SHEA'S MEASURE IN DULL BOUT

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Joey Sangor of Milwaukee punched his way to a decision over Eddie Shea, the Chicago west sider, in the main bout of ten rounds at East Chicago last night. The contest was uninteresting and many of the 900 fans straggled out of the arena at the end of the eighth round.

It was a case of a boxer of years experience against a comparatively new boy, and Sangor used left jabs with a right cross to Shea's head and body to pile up his margin of victory. The Milwaukee boy forced the fighting, Shea crouching throughout the contest and covering his head with his hands. In the infighting Shea held his own.

Currie Beats Schaeffer.

The semi-windup was the best bout on the card. Connie Currie of Sioux City outpointed Herbie Schaeffer after ten fast rounds. Currie's boxing ability ran up the winning points. Connie stepped around the slugging Schaeffer several times, thrusting in left jabs to Herb's face without a return.

Currie won four of the first five rounds, the second ending even. After they slashed through the sixth, seventh, and eighth sessions to an even break Schaeffer started speeding in the ninth and won after three brilliant toe to toe rallies had the fans on their feet. The tenth ended even. The boys weighed in under 120 pounds.

King Rollo Loses.

Mickey Kramer of St. Louis scored a technical knockout over King Rollo, Chicago 124 pounder, in the fifth round of their scheduled six round bout. Kramer battered Rollo hard in the second, third, and fourth rounds, piling up a big margin, and in the fifth, after Kramer had sunk a straight left into Rollo's stomach, the Chicago fighter deliberately turned his back on his opponent, quit, and walked into his corner. The referee did not count and no towel was thrown into the ring.

DEMPSEY TAKES WALK; WILL QUIT HOSPITAL TODAY

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—Jack Dempsey some time tomorrow will leave Polyclinic hospital, where he has been confined for almost a week as a consequence of an operation for fistula, hemorrhoids, and other complications. This was announced today by Manager Jack Kearns, and indorsed by Dr. Robert E. Emery, Dempsey's personal physician.

The champion spent part of his time today out in the open air, despite cloudy, misty weather. He departed from the hospital at noon and visited Kearns' offices in the Fitzgerald building, afterwards repairing to his suite at the Hotel Alamac. After dinner there he and Kearns attended a show. The titleholder returned to the hospital to spend the night. He will be subjected to a thorough examination tomorrow morning before being discharged as a hospital case.

Lafayette, Ind., March 3.—[Special.]—Purdue's conference hopes, as well as the Boilermaker quintet, dropped here tonight when the Iowa basketball team rolled up a 40 to 31 victory by hard, fast, and rough playing. The Hawkeyes led, 21 to 15, at the end of the first twenty minutes of play, and annexed a seventeen point lead in the first sixteen minutes of the last period.

A Purdue rally in the last four minutes brought ten points for the Boilermakers and allowed but two for the Hawkeyes. The Jensen, Janse, Laude trio spoiled Purdue's hopes in the last period by their well executed and phenomenal shots. Wellman, for Purdue, played a wonderful game at back guard, but many of the Hawkeye shots were long and successful, especial Jensen's.

WISCONSIN, 30; OHIO, 20

Madison, Wis., March 3.—Wisconsin stepped into second place in the western conference basketball race and won a chance for the championship by defeating Ohio State, 30 to 20, here tonight. Wisconsin outplayed the Buckeyes from the start, taking a lead a few minutes after the game opened. The Badgers showed a style of play that seemed to bewilder the visitors and had a safe lead throughout the contest.

The guarding of Diebold and Wackman for Wisconsin and the floor work of Farwell and Elsom were the outstanding features of the contest. Miner, flashy Ohio forward, was held down to two field goals, while Cunningham, Ohio center, chalked up four.

In the Wake of the News

PARI-MUTUEL BETTING.

WAKER H. L. asks an explanation of Pari-mutuel betting.

Mutuel betting is a pool or sweepstakes. It differs from bookmaking, so-called, in that the bettors are wagering among themselves and furnish all the capital. In bookmaking, the bookie lays against the respective choices of speculators.

As an example of Pari-mutuels: If there are ten horses in a race and $10 is bet on each horse, there is $100 in the pool. In Kentucky, 5 per cent is deducted by the association for the expense of purses, stakes and administration. The balance of $95 goes to the holder of the winning ticket, who thus receives $85 profit or 8½ to 1 for his money.

The above is a simple example, but it shows the principle that the total amount of money wagered, or pool—less the percentage—is prorated among backers of the winner. Thus the public determines the choice and the public's money the odds against any horse.

There are separate pools for straight, place and show bets. In some foreign countries the percentage deducted from the pool for the race association or the government is as high as 15 per cent.

"Frozen Memories."

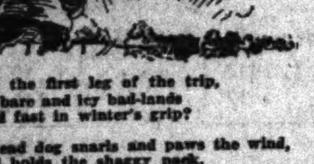
"It's a funny thing," said Jean the scout,
As he filled his stubby pipe,
"How city folks all seem to think,
They see the best of life.
With cars and crowds and opera,
They watch the season's whirl,
And never think of other folks
Up there a-top the world.

"Did you ever see the Hudson sun
On his first trip to the pole?
In the blazin' early morning
When the wind was bitin' cold?
And you had your team all ready



For the first leg of the trip,
Over bare and icy bad-lands
Held fast in winter's grip?

"The lead dog snarls and paws the wind,
And holds the shaggy pack,
A-snappin' at the guy strings
And all eager for the track.
And you strap your parka round you
And you get your mitts and gun,
Catch the spirit of the huskies
And you're ready for the run.

"Well, there's no one there to crowd you,
And it seems like that's the life,
Though I guess we're all intended
To go through a different strife.
So leave me here to dream, son,
While there's still a train to catch,
But before you fan the door there,
Just hand me out a match." Eli.

Perhaps the reason for the Illini not winning more than half their basket games is that part of the regular team is rumored to play in the University of Illinois band, which claims the undisputed conference championship, and which appears at Orchestra hall, Tuesday, March 4. by J. L. JENKINS

THE Illinois motorist who is operating his car without 1924 license plates now is driving in direct opposition to the law and is subject to arrest, Secretary of State L. L. Emmerson declared yesterday in a bulletin to local authorities. The automobile department is right up to the minute in issuing licenses and plates this year, the secretary announced, and added that there is no excuse for any car in active service to be without its new numbers. The department issued 120,000 more licenses during the first sixty days of 1924 than during the same period last year. Up to March 1 a total of 670,000 were issued.

Net profits for the Willys-Overland company in 1923 amounted to $13,034,032.17, according to a financial statement issued yesterday by President John N. Willys. Current assets are shown as $37,468,977.49, to offset current liabilities of $6,916,572.25, a ratio of more than 5 to 1.

Popularity of the fabric automobile body, featured so strongly at this year's national shows and salons, has received another boost through the reduction of collision insurance rates on this type of construction, says a statement issued yesterday by E. J. Thompson, prominent coachbuilder of Pittsburgh.

M. L. Pulcher, former vice president and general manager, was elected president of the Federal Motor Truck company at the annual meeting of the corporation.

MICHIGAN, ILLINOIS FAVORITES IN MEET

When the annual indoor track and field games of the Western conference are held in Patten gymnasium on March 14 and 15 Illinois and Michigan are expected to engage in one of their characteristic struggles for premier honors, although Wisconsin and Iowa may be strong contenders.

Considering the performances of the Big Ten teams this season, Illinois appears to have more all around strength than the Wolverines.

As it is almost an assured fact that nearly a dozen Big Ten performers will make the team, alumni of Western conference schools will have an excellent opportunity to contribute to the Olympic fund by attending this meet. The price of each ticket will be increased 50 cents and the extra charge will go to the general fund to help defray expenses of the American team to France.

Eligibility entries have been received and passed upon without protest. The official list of nominations is now being received by Joseph McNab, secretary of the managing committee, and will be published Sunday.

FARM & GARDEN

By FRANK RIDGWAY

SPEED UP EARLY BLOOMING FLOWERS WITH HOTBED.

IN ALMOST every trucking community there is a friendly rivalry among growers in their race to see which can have the earliest potatoes, beans, peas and roasting ears. There often is the same rivalry among flower gardeners in their attempt to see which one can produce the earliest bloomers, but the methods of producing extremely early blossoms are not so well known and generally practiced among flower growers as they are among vegetable growers.

The hotbed is being used by many to start flower seeds and get ahead of gardeners who wait to plant their annuals directly in the open beds. Some of the flowers that have been successfully tried out in the hotbed where the growers want early bloomers are marigolds, zinnias, ageratum, asters, verbenas, snap dragons, celosias, dahlias, coleus, heliotrope, castor beans, ten weeks' stocks, schizanthus, lobelias, salvias salpiglossis, pansies, and petunias.

Large seeds like castor beans, dahlias, and zinnias, should be spaced so they may be grown undisturbed until it is time to set the seedlings in the open bed. The general rule with most of the smaller seeds is either to sow them thinly or thick enough to insure a good stand and thin the plants as they increase in size.

Transplanting within the hotbed is often necessary where there is a delay in setting the plants in the permanent location in the open ground.

DOES THE PHEASANT KILL QUAIL?

AMERICAN sportsmen seem to be divided into two hostile camps over the question of the habits and value of the ringnecked pheasant in relation to our native game birds. Down east they are scrapping over this question, but the fight seems to be a draw so far. What is needed is some concrete evidence one way or another.

If the ring neck kills quail and other game birds, if it "eats young rabbits," as some fellows in Pennsylvania assert, then down with this foreign invader. If, on the other hand, this handsome big bird is not a menace to our native game birds, if sportsmen consider it a fine game bird, then let's "plant" more pheasants.

We would like to hear from fellows who have some real honest to goodness dope on the ringnecks. No hearsay and no guesses are of value, but accurate observations in the field are desired. The city sportsman venturing afield but a few times during the year, who wants the low down on this question, will have to depend mostly on farmers and others whose chances of observation have been many.

A. J. Miller of Urbana, a veteran outdoorsman, says that the ringneck is a worse menace to the quail than any other bird, animal, or hunter ever discovered. He states that he has been watching and studying them for eight years.

He writes: "I do not know whether the ringneck destroys young rabbits or not. This much I do know. Wherever the pheasants are numerous, the quail, pinnated grouse, meadow larks, and other ground birds have disappeared. Absolutely no account as a game bird (gets up like a mudhen and has about the same speed), poor eating. I know of not one single trick to recommend this bird to a lease on life."

ARKANSAS HIGH COURT UPHOLDS CLOSING OF STREET FOR BASEBALL

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 3.—The great American sport won further prestige today when the Arkansas Supreme court held that the town of Atkins acted within its rights and in the interest of young Americans by temporarily closing two streets adjacent to the Atkins public school building to enlarge the baseball field.

The higher court affirmed the verdict of Pope Circuit court, which assessed a fine of $10 each against E. W. Owens and W. Scott for trespassing on the streets, which were closed during a game.

The appellants based their appeal on the contention that the authorities had no right to close the streets and that they were acting within their rights as citizens to stand in the street and witness the ball game without paying admission, although the town marshal offered to lend them the price of a ticket.

The Western Golf association has selected Sept. 4 to 6 for the western open championship at the Calumet Country club. As most of the big club events are over by this time, a big field of pros is expected to be free for the western classic.

Eddie Murphy, who last year was with the St. Joseph, Mo., Country club, has signed a contract with the Ridge club here, succeeding Alec Dickson, who resigned.

The date for the inaugural father and son indoor championship tournament at the Leiter indoor school has been changed to Friday, March 21. It had been set for March 14.

Winning from MacDonald's team, 18 to 5, the Henrici team last night went into second place in the Chicago Indoor Golf league. The Tavern team, playing at Covent Garden, defeated the home talent, 14 to 5, and at the Chicago Beach hotel the home players won from the Weagers, 13 to 4. The points to date are: Tavern, 55; Henricis, 53; Covent Garden, 41; MacDonalds, 39; Chicago Beach, 32; Weagers, 23.

W. Fitzgerald won the tournament staged at the Jackson park recreation room, in which sixty-four players took part. His scores were 32—32—33 for the fifty-four holes. C. Hawkins, 39—31—34, was second with 104. Joie Finn had 109, and A. Patterson and J. McElroy tied at 111.

The new Wilmette Golf club will hold its first meeting at the North Shore hotel Thursday night, dinner being set for 7 o'clock.

Curing your Golf Troubles

BY JIM BARNES

Jim Barnes will suggest a remedy for your golf faults. Write him in care of the Sport Editor, inclosing stamped envelope if you want a personal reply.

CAN you suggest a definite program for a player with a handicap of five or six strokes to follow to get his game down around par? Is it a question of proper instruction or just a matter of practice? How much time do players who shoot around par consistently devote to practice? W. G. L.

ANSWER—I don't believe that any general program to the end you mention can be laid down. It is largely a matter of individual needs in each separate case, neither can I say whether a faulty method is holding up a player's improvement or whether lack of practice is keeping him from getting better without seeing him play.

Assuming that you are a 6 handicap man, you are more than likely playing most of the game well enough to be even better. Weakness with one single club may be holding you up. You can check up on your game after each round and see where you are wasting strokes. If necessary, keeping tabs on successive rounds for a few weeks will determine this. When you have located the most notable source of trouble, set to work to improve your play in this particular department.

Go to a good instructor and let him size up your trouble for you and tell you how to correct it. Then put in all the spare time you have practicing this correct method until you have mastered the stroke. Weakness on short approaches, putting, or other department of your game can and will frequently add three of four strokes to your games.

LEVIS QUITS AS BILLIARD REFEREE OVER LORD ROW

BY JOE DAVIS.

As a protest against the disqualification of Robert M. Lord, national amateur three cushion champion, J. Herbert Levis, Chicago's premier referee, has refused to officiate in the championship event which will start tomorrow at Chicago Athletic association.

Mr. Levis notified the tournament officials of the club yesterday, stating last night that in his opinion the disbarment of the Illinois A. C. star by the executive committee of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players in its meeting at New York was unfair.

No Hearing for Lord.

Levis asserted that Lord had not been given a hearing and had never been personally notified of the ruling. He did not consider the disbarment in keeping with the amateur definition of the rules.

Secretary J. P. Allen and Chairman Jones Jr. of the executive committee of the N. A. A. B. P., did not arrive in Chicago yesterday, as was expected. Raymond G. Collins of Chicago, vice president of the association and a member of the executive committee, who planned to reopen the Lord case, was unable to do so, and as the New York members will not be here until the tournament starts it looks as if the disqualification must stand.

Accept Baltimore Player.

Mr. Collins did not receive notice of the meeting in New York until it was too late to attend. Chairman Charles A. Dean of the athletic committee of the Illinois A. C., who wired a protest to Chairman Jones, received word the ruling would stand.

Mr. Jones wired yesterday that the entry of Dr. R. N. Roscow of Baltimore, who will take Lord's place, had been accepted. This makes a field of seven, the others being:

Frank I. Fleming of Champaign, who will represent the Hamilton club; E. G. Wainwright of Pittsburgh A. A., Louis A. Vogler of Indianapolis, and C. Earl Patterson, A. O. Spielman, and Dr. A. C. Harris of the C. A. A.

The tournament will be staged on the second floor of the club in a special arena and will be open to the public.

NOTES OF THE CUE ROOMS.

Horrigan defeated Smith [40], 40 to 29, in the three cushion tournament at Foley's. Tonight Mann [40] plays Smith [40].

George Moore of New York will be here for two games against Maupome in the National Three Cushion league at Mussey's at 3 and 8 p. m. tonight.

Jasperson won Bensinger's Monroe street house three cushion game from Gauer [45], 50 to 36, in eighty-three innings. Both players had high runs of 4.

PRICE OF STOCKS SHOWS IRREGULAR DOWNWARD TREND

The New York Times.

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—Today's movement on the stock exchange was generally downward, though with considerable irregularity. Wall street chose to ascribe the weakness partly to the resumption of bonus hearings by the house ways and means committee. In all probability this was a motive in the day's professional short selling.

The receivership for the Virginia-Carolina Chemical was a more concrete reason for the market's moderate declines, although stock market quotations had told the story with sufficient plainness in advance. When the common shares of a $100,000,000 corporation have been selling at 2 or 3 cents on the dollar and its preferred stock at 9 or 10, an announcement of this sort is not likely to come with the shock of complete surprise.

The most interesting incident of today's markets was the renewed weakness of the franc, whose price, under selling which appeared to originate in Europe, was carried below the low figure of the year, previously touched on Feb. 13.

Possibly the singular character of the present market for the franc may best be judged from the fact that when the previous low record price was touched last month the French chamber of deputies had voted the previous night for the increased taxes on which the fiscal reform undertaking hinged and that today's fall below that price, after an intervening recovery, immediately followed the publication of the British premier's friendly note to Poincare and occurred with the Dawes committee's report impending shortly.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Professional short traders, taking advantage of several news developments of a potentially bearish character, exerted pressure against yesterday's stock market. Announcement that congress had again taken up the bonus bill, forecasts of further sensational developments this week in the oil inquiry, and disclosure that serious differences on important matters still exist between France and Great Britain all were used as ammunition for bear attacks.

◆

At no time did the selling assume large proportions. Just before the close special strength developed in several sections of the list. Late strength was particularly pronounced in the copper shares, which responded to a further increase in the price of the red metal to 14 cents a pound. Anaconda advanced 1¼ points, to 35, a new high on recovery, and Inspiration gained about the same amount. Buying in this group also was influenced by the favorable showing made in the 1923 earnings report of the American Smelting and Refining company. Utah Copper moved up more than a point on declaration of the regular dividend.

◆

Continuation of pool operations in United States Cast Iron Pipe sent that stock from 74½ to 78, the closing price of 77⅛ representing a net gain of nearly 2½ points. A run-in of the shorts in American Woolen lifted that stock to 75¾, but it fell back later to 74, covering operations being influenced by a report that the company planned to set aside a reserve fund for the year's dividend requirements.

◆

Oil shares were adversely affected by the Washington investigation, Pacific dropping 1⅝, to 50⅞. Unsettlement of the rubber shares was based on speculative expectation of poor 1923 earnings reports. Heavy profit-taking in Norfolk and Western, which closed 2 points lower at 114¼, featured the trading in railroad shares.

◆

Receivership proceedings against the Virginia-Caroline Chemical company also unsettled the industrial section of the bond market, while reactionary tendencies developed in general investment issues on the renewal of soldiers' bonus hearing at Washington. Closing of the Argentine loan syndicate with a sharp break in the 6 per cent bonds and the call for payments on the Japanese loan subscriptions also were credited with exerting a depressing influence. Liquidation of United States government issues was inspired by uneasiness over the possible passage of bond legislation.

An American Appraisal

Write for monograph A-5, "Property Records—Their Effect on Profit and Loss."

What Is Conservative Depreciation?

TEN years ago it was considered conservative practice to provide reserves for depreciation high enough to permit a company's land, buildings and equipment to be valued at one dollar in the company's statement.

Today this practice, or anything resembling it, is generally regarded as radical and erroneous.

It is prohibited by present revenue laws. It makes impossible a correct accounting of property or an accurate statement of earnings.

There is therefore a widespread realization that no more than the year's depreciation should be taken out of the year's income.

An American Appraisal is The Authority for determining depreciation accurately and provably.

It is the product of a company maintaining an organization of more than a thousand members to provide accurate, disinterested and provable analyses and valuations of property.

A generation of experience checks its judgments on depreciation and obsolescence.

An unequaled statistical library makes its stated facts irrefutable.

The superiority of its work and methods has made it the largest appraisal organization in the world.

This Record is of practical value only to investors whose incomes are received from a variety of sources. We will gladly mail a copy, without charge, upon receipt of your letterhead request. Please ask for Book CR-3.

WHEN PARASITES SUCCEED PIONEER NATIONS CRUMBLE

BY SCRUTATOR.

Phrases are ever perilous, but a nation's history may be pictured in the relation of parasitism to pioneering. When parasites, public or private, begin to outnumber pioneers, the road turns downward from the heights.

On the same page in a mining periodical which is striving to revive the metal mining industry of a western state the development of which in mines, cattle, and railroads was one of the most stirring chapters of the American story, appear these two items:

"There is only fifteen years' supply of lead and zinc in the world as far as is known, and when this is exhausted paint and storage batteries and other articles made from these minerals will be vitally affected, according to C. W. Chatham of Pittsburgh, in an address before the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

"Mr. Chatham has been making a study of these metals for some time. He said that in a short time the visible supply of lead and zinc will become semi-precious, along with gold and silver.

"This is resulting from the tremendous use to which these metals are being put, especially in the construction of storage batteries, in which zinc and lead are both used, but mostly lead, and in paints, of which lead is the chief component. The glass and rubber industries also use great quantities of lead. Geologists are at present scouring the world in search for deposits of lead and zinc."

And the following letter from a lady living near an old mining camp:

"There is nothing I can write that will induce men to come to the mountains to prospect for any kind of minerals. Too much chance to get easy money selling whisky or robbing folks on the streets these days. No more will people go high up in our mountains and stay years to open up a prospect when they can make a stake in running a few auto loads of moonshine."

"Many good mines are abandoned in all our camps and the old owners are dead and gone. Anybody can easily locate these again, and in case of patent they can be bought cheap."

Some years ago the writer spent a night in a mountain gorge surrounded by the ghosts of old mines. All around was low grade ore enough to load Argosies, if the smelting facilities had been near enough.

The only sign of life in that quarter was a mine opened up by three men who were working their own claim. One was a young man who at the age of 35 had been the head of one of the largest American labor unions.

He had been born in a mining camp, and his daddy before him had dug coal and led strikes. Years of labor politics, association with the great ones of earth both here and abroad during the war, and all that sort of thing had not been able to eradicate the pioneering itch from his blood, which still flowed red under a freckled skin and flaming thatch. His associates were an old prospector, who had played the game forty years from Peru to Dawson City. The other was a young Finn, a hog for hard work.

"Of course there is plenty more in these hills, even if they have skimmed off the cream. Over on the western slope there are whole ranges that have never been scratched. What's the matter? The trouble is in the folks, not the hills. They simply don't breed any more prospectors. You don't see anybody going off into the hills for a six months' gamble. They prefer to loaf around the store and drink soda pop."

This from the former labor leader, once a Socialist, now talking like Nietzche or Stirner.

Will nation builders continue to "breed in captivity?"

Three men were on this mountain side digging for wealth. In the city ninety miles away scores were making money out of the commercialized "uplift," busily forging chains for the competent and bottle feeding the incapable.

In nature parasites are often remarkable for their fertility, the organisms upon which they live rarely rival them in this.

P. B. Yates Machine.

N. R. B.: The P. B. Yates Machine company is said to be the largest manufacturer and distributor of woodworking machinery in the world. The business was established in 1884 and has shown a profit for each of the last thirty-nine years. The company is issuing $2,000,000 first mortgage 6½ per cent bonds secured by a closed first mortgage on its land, buildings, machinery, and equipment located at Beloit, Wis., and by deposit of $1,000,000 closed first mortgage bonds on the fixed property of the P. B. Yates Machine company, Limited, of Hamilton, Ont. The total depreciated value of these properties is appraised at over $4,100,000. The consolidated net earnings of the company and its subsidiary for the last six calendar years, after depreciation and all charges except United States and Canadian income taxes, have averaged over $660,000 annually, or over five times annual interest requirements on the present bond issue. For 1923 such net earnings were over $1,100,000, or over eight times such interest requirements. During the last six years depreciation charges averaged over $121,000 per annum. The consolidated balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1923, after giving effect to this financing, shows tangible assets of $7,212,000, or over three and one-half times these bonds. Net current assets alone were over $3,000,000. These bonds are a suitable investment for a business man's funds.

BY AL CHASE.

Englewood is to have a $450,000 Y. M. C. A. building as a result of the board of trustees of the Young Men's Christian association of Chicago buying the entire block of south frontage on 66th street between Union and Lowe, from Charles G. Davis, for $36,000. The site fronts 452 feet on 66th, 205 feet on Union and 130 on Lowe.

Work will start either next fall or early in the spring of 1925 on a five story fireproof structure, to contain the usual "Y" features, such as dormitory rooms, gym., swimming tank, etc. The architect has not yet been selected. Half of the site will be used for a large outdoor playground, to contain tennis courts, a track, etc. Cutting, Moore & Sidney were attorneys for the "Y" and Harry A. Fleck for the seller. William F. Friedeman negotiated the deal.

W. D. Sager, stove manufacturer, has bought from Rosa Bauer, widow of Alexander Bauer, the 116x127 at 837 Larrabee for $46,000 and will erect on the south half a four story factory building. The north half is improved with a remodeled brewery building. Chandler & Montague, with H. J. Ilett associated, were brokers.

New Marquette Park Subdivision.

The Lake Towns Improvement company has bought thirty-five acres bounded by California, Sacramento, 71st and 73d, just south of Marquette park, from the E. A. Cummings estate and Henry G. Forman for a reported $100,000, title being taken by Rudolph P. Perlman. The property will be subdivided at once.

Architect Harry Delsey and Joseph Weissbuch have sold the new eighteen flats at the southeast corner of Sunnyside and Whipple for a reported $120,000, subject to $80,000. The Boyle Realty company and Kozlov & Abelman were brokers.

Through a typographical error the selling price of the twenty-four flats at the southwest corner of Arthur and Glenwood was given as $15,000, subject to $85,000. It should have read $158,000, subject to $85,000. H. E. Henderson & Co. were brokers. Mrs. Amelia Klotz bought the corner from Gustav A. Klein

What's Wrong Here!

Sadie Pumpian, Anna Ballen, and Louis Welansky bought the twenty-two flats at the southeast corner of Kedzie and Darwin last November for $125,000, subject to $64,000, according to the brokers. Yesterday they sold them to Max Diamond and the county records show Mr. Diamond paid $104,000, subject to $61,500. Did Mr. Diamond get a bargain and did Sadie, Anna, and Louis lose $21,000, or was it merely a case of too much imagination on the part of the broker who reported the original sale? We don't know what broker handled the last sale. Maybe he'll come along with figures showing Sadie et al. sold at a big profit.

The eighteen flats at the northeast corner of 63d and Vernon have been sold by Aron Hapshin to Nathan Arbetman for a reported $101,000. Jacob Brisgall of Ritchie, Colby, Meyer & Brisgall was attorney.

"Can I Become Rich?"

What is the meaning of the word "rich"?

Some feel that it means $10,000. Others say $25,000, others $100,000 and some think in millions.

But we have found that just as soon as anyone has the money which he first called "riches," his idea changes—his figure advances. The word in fact is entirely a relative term.

We have coached more beginners in acquiring riches (according to individual standards) than perhaps any other financial house.

We have, for instance, coached many a man with the $10,000 idea to get into the $25,000 class. We have invested millions for the millionaire class and with all these hundreds of millions, never has one dollar of principal or interest been lost by the investor.

But safety under the STRAUS PLAN is merely a starting point. You get safety of course—and then, the STRAUS PLAN offers a goal which, in thousands of cases, has changed the original idea of the word "rich" even to the very wealthy.

Independence in the true sense is the attainment of a fund, the interest of which will meet one's normal needs. Some of course require more than others. It depends upon tastes, habits and ideas of spending. After that point can come the luxuries of life.

This subject is too big to cover here, but you will find the underlying principle and the practical method of attaining riches by the STRAUS PLAN fully explained in a book which we will send free upon request. It is a book into which we have written the results of our 42 years' experience in helping people to become rich.

Do not take for granted that, because you may be familiar with other methods of investment, you know the STRAUS PLAN.

Whatever your knowledge and experience, you should know about this plan of investment which not only enables you to obtain the highest degree of safety, but also adds the feature of compounding investment—the method by which many large fortunes have been built.

To get the book, write, 'phone or call for a copy. It costs you nothing and your request places you under no obligation.

The APOLOGIZER!

"The Viewpoint of the Employee is the Most Neglected Asset in Industry."

STANDING at this desk is one of your best salesmen. He has traveled hundreds of miles, and missed an important conference, to be in this picture to-day.

YET—he is selling nothing. He is merely endeavoring to placate a valuable customer. Something has gone wrong with deliveries. Somebody in your plant has failed in his duty. Quality has not been maintained. Production has not lived up to promises.

Whatever the cause, your business colors are being hauled down in a customer's presence. And on the dubious success of the high-priced apologies now being offered depends your ability to hold even the business already obtained from this client.

The only safeguard for any industry in these days of keen competition is a spirit of complete co-operation in the whole body of its employees.

This protection we can promise to any open-minded business man.

Executives, everywhere, have evidenced unusual interest in our booklet, "Stopping Payroll Losses." We will be glad to send any executive a copy, gratis. Simply write us on your business stationery. Please address Dept. N-24.

Interstate Water Company

First Mortgage 6% Gold Bonds, Series "A"

Dated February 1, 1924 Due February 1, 1940

Authorized, $1,200,000; outstanding, $750,000. Interest payable semi-annually February 1st and August 1st at Chicago Trust Company, Chicago, without deduction for Normal Federal Income Tax not to exceed 2%. Redeemable as a whole on any interest date prior to maturity at 103½ and accrued interest. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100, registerable as to principal.

CHICAGO TRUST COMPANY, CHICAGO, TRUSTEE

The Interstate Water Company supplies water for domestic, municipal, and industrial uses to the City of Danville, Illinois, serving a population of over 40,000 people. The ownership and management is in the hands of men who have been identified with the Company for many years. The business is viewed largely in the light of a community enterprise and the service rendered is indispensable.

These bonds will be secured by a direct first mortgage upon all property of the Company, including all lands and structures now owned or about to be constructed or acquired. An appraisal of these properties as of January 1, 1924, after taking into consideration the new construction and purchase of lands, places their present value at not less than $2,630,000.00, or more than three times the amount of this issue.

With a portion of the proceeds of this financing, a new dam will be constructed about two miles up-stream from Dam No. 1. This construction will be of the most advanced type and will impound about 2,900,000,000 gallons of water, forming a lake about six miles in length. This project involves the purchase of about 800 additional acres of ground, which will add considerably to the value of the Company's property. The total real estate owned will then approximate 1,400 acres. The balance of the funds will be used to retire bonds at present outstanding, to furnish additional working capital, and for other corporate purposes.

| | 1923 | 1922 |
|---|---|---|
| Gross Earnings | $256,793.82 | $216,909.77 |
| Operating Expenses and Taxes | 139,505.69 | 138,860.60 |
| Net Earnings | $117,288.13 | $ 78,049.17 |
| Interest on $750,000 First 6s | 45,000.00 | |
| Balance | $ 72,288.13 | |

The substantial increase in earnings for 1923 was due to the new rate schedule granted by the Illinois Commerce Commission, which was not in effect during a portion of 1922. It will be seen that the net earnings for the year 1923 were more than 2½ times the annual interest charges of $45,000 on these bonds.

A sinking fund amounting to 8% of the net earnings of the Company, commencing February 1, 1925, will be maintained, either to retire bonds of this issue, or to reimburse the Company for the cost of additions and improvements to the property against which no bonds may be issued.

WHEAT ADVANCES BUT PRICES SAG IN OTHER GRAINS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Developments at Washington were the dominating influence in the wheat market, which came in for more attention and closed ¼@½c higher in the face of a decline of ⅜@½c in corn, ⅛@⅜c in oats, and ½@⅝c in rye.

The trade assume that an increase in the tariff on wheat is certain, and there were reports that a bill would be introduced into congress to create a revolving fund of $150,000,000 for the purchase of breadstuffs and commodities in this country by Germany and Austria. The money is in the hands of the enemy alien property custodian. The plan was said to have the approval of the agricultural committees of both the house and senate.

May Wheat to Premium.

May wheat went to a fractional premium over July, against a discount of ½c recently, and closed at $1.11½@1.11⅝, with July $1.11⅝ and September at $1.11⅞@1.12. The latter sold up to $1.12¼ early, equaling the highest price on the crop. There was considerable buying here against sales at Winnipeg to close spreads, and the difference widened to 9c, compared with 6½c a few days ago. Interest in the market, however, showed an increase. Houses with eastern connections were the best sellers. Weekly statistics were bearish, with world's shipments of 18,801,000 bu, against 15,919,000 bu. So far this season total clearances have been 446,207,000 bu, about the largest on record, compared with 409,096,000 bu last year.

Corn Closes at Bottom.

A decline of ½@1c in the basis for cash born in the sample market with local pressure resulted in a lower range, and the finish was within a fraction of the low point. May closed at 81⅛c, July at 81⅝c, and September at 81⅝@81¾c. An increase of 3,652,000 bu in the visible, making the total 18,898,000 bu, compared with 27,529,000 bu, had some effect on values.

Interior roads, especially in Iowa, are in bad shape and hauling has been suspended except over paved highways. Local receipts of 591 cars reflected Sunday inspection work.

Easier Tone in Oats.

Trade in oats was not large and the market easy. There was considerable comment on the relatively low price of Canadian at Winnipeg, and it was said that some Canadians were being sold to New England, duty paid. Receipts of 204 cars were the largest in some time. Sales of 100,000 bu were made to go to store.

Rye was dull and easier on scattered selling. There is little domestic or export demand for the cash grain.

Houses with export connections were fair sellers of May lard, but trade was slow throughout the day and at the last lard was unchanged, ribs 2½c higher, and bellies unchanged to 2½c higher. Deliveries on March contracts were 390,000 lbs bellies. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Political developments favor the buying side of grains on breaks. There is said to be a fair sized short interest among the local traders which will not stand much loss. At the close sentiment was mixed.

The senate agricultural committee passed favorably on the McNary-Haugen bill, which appropriates $200,000,000 to give a commission with power to do anything it is disposed to with agricultural products. There was favorable action by the house and senate on the $150,000,000 alien property bill to return it should its owners buy foodstuffs and commodities for Germany and Austria in the United States. These factors were uppermost in the minds of wheat traders and helped strengthen the wheat market.

Local operators were mostly bearish on corn and were regarded as short at the close. Increasing stocks, with 3,652,000 bu piled up in the visible for the week, making it 18,898,000 bu, against 27,529,000 bu last year, were factors which attracted sales by scattered longs and pressure from shorts.

Wheat supplies on ocean passage have increased 6,500,000 bu last week and are 65,658,000 bu, or 7,000,000 bu more than last year. Recently they were materially below last year. The increase has come largely from Argentine and Australian shipments.

If farmers expect to get better prices for their corn they should stop selling. In some sections they have already stopped, while the arrival of 827 cars at the six markets outside of Chicago, comparing with 911 cars a week ago and 517 cars last year, shows that considerable corn has been loaded in the interior of late.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of 300,000 bu wheat, largely Manitobas, but including 80,000 bu durum, were reported at the seaboard. No business was claimed in corn or rye, although a St. Louis handler sold 40,000 bu corn to the gulf late Saturday.

Chicago handlers sold 5,000 bu wheat, 20,000 bu corn, and 85,000 bu oats to the domestic trade, with 100,000 bu oats to go to store.

Mills were after cash wheat and absorbed the offerings at unchanged premiums. No. 2 red was May to 1½c over, and No. 2 hard ½c under to 3½c over. Receipts, 70 cars. Outside markets were firmer, with St. Louis unchanged to ½c higher, and Kansas City and Omaha unchanged to 1c higher.

Elevator interests were after cash corn, but the basis was off as much as 1c at the last, with No. 4 grades 6½@7½c. No. 5 grades 8½@9½c, and No. 6 grades 9@10c under May. Receipts were 591 cars. Six leading markets outside of Chicago had 827 cars against 911 cars a week ago, and 517 cars last year. Local spot values were ½c lower in sympathy with futures. Outside markets, ½c higher to 1c lower.

Receipts of 204 cars of cash oats here proved too much for the demand and the basis was ¼c lower, with No. 2 white May to ¼c over and No. 3 white ½@1¼c under.

RAILROAD NOTES

Announcement that the Pennsylvania railroad system has just placed orders for the purchase of 11,000 freight cars and is negotiating for the purchase of 1,000 more, all to be delivered as soon as the equipment companies can complete their construction, was made by Vice President E. T. Whiter.

Holders of voting certificates for stock of the International Great Northern railroad representing 64,000 shares out of a total of practically 75,000 shares have voted unanimously to sell their stock to the New Orleans, Texas and Mexico railway for $31 a share. Holders of voting certificates also voted to approve the agreement of Feb. 14 between the voting trustees and the New Orleans, Texas and Mexico.

An effort on the part of railroad executives to direct public attention towards the higher taxes is only one portion of a movement on the part of officials and stockholders to stem the tide of lower dividends and higher taxes. Since 1913, it was pointed out, the trend of taxes has been up, starting with $128,725,800 by the railroads in 1913 and ending with $336,399,000 in the year just closed. Not quite as consistent, but at the same time showing a gradual downward trend, the dividends paid to stockholders have declined from $332,000,000 in 1913 to $282,981,000.

Why Better Enameled and Nickeled Finishes Are Possible

Because of the close grain of steel, the smooth surface, and clean cut edges, more lasting and better japanned, enameled, and nickeled finishes are possible.

For this reason alone Federal steel stampings may be preferable for some parts of your product. Catalog No. 12-T shows interesting examples. Let us mail you a copy.

Quick Returns

"YOUR METHOD IS TOO SLOW FOR ME," said a young, very successful business man to whom we offered a splendid 7% First Mortgage Bond. "I am too nervous," he added, "and my money must work fast." And it did. He bought 1,000 shares common stock at 85, which cost him $85,000. The other day he had to sell the same 1,000 shares for $51,000. This loss of $34,000 occurred within the last 12 months. He refused a safe 7% First Mortgage Bond investment because he wanted his money to get up more speed.

Stabilizing an Investment

An investment is stabilized and doubly safeguarded when money is invested in the activities of several industries. This "diversified" investment generally remains unaffected over a long period, since temporary depression in one industry is offset by prosperity in another.

The activities of Cities Service Company's 100 subsidiaries include the production and marketing of electric light and power, natural and artificial gas, heat, ice, water and petroleum products.

These diversified interests, from which the Company derives its earnings, have enabled it to stabilize its securities and build up for them an unusually strong background of assets.

The total investment in Cities Service Company and its subsidiary properties amounts to hundreds of millions of dollars. The organization stands among the first four business combinations of the world in the number of its security-holders, who aggregate over 100,000—the population of a city. This stockholder-list, because of its wide geographical distribution, makes for added stability of these proven investments.

We recommend for all investors

Interest payable without deduction for Normal Federal Income Tax not in excess of 2%. Pennsylvania Four Mills Tax will be refunded upon application.

The following information has been summarized by Mr. Charles S. Keith, President of the Company, from his letter to us:

History and Business: The Central Coal & Coke Company, with controlled and subsidiary companies, owns and operates extensive timber and coal properties. The business established over 50 years ago, was incorporated under the laws of Missouri in 1893. Timber holdings total 72,490 acres of virgin timber lands in Oregon, Louisiana and Texas, carrying over 3,000,000,000 feet of merchantable timber, and lumber mills in operation, or in process of completion, have a production capacity of over 300,000,000 feet annually. Coal properties located in Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Wyoming cover 65,580 acres estimated to contain 260,000,000 tons of unmined and recoverable coal, and coal mines owned and operated have an annual capacity of approximately 4,000,000 tons of high grade bituminous coal.

The southern lumber department is operated as the Delta Land & Timber Company, a wholly owned subsidiary. Title to the timber lands in Oregon is vested in the Oregon-American Lumber Company, 80% of whose stock is owned by the Central Coal & Coke Company. A modern, thoroughly equipped mill at Vernonia, Oregon, costing $3,500,000, is now under construction to serve this property which, upon completion within a few months, will have an annual capacity of 180,000,000 feet, and in equipment will incorporate the latest and most efficient methods of lumber manufacture and handling.

Sinking Fund: The mortgage securing these bonds provides for a sinking fund, into which there will be paid quarterly after March 1, 1924, $6.00 per thousand feet of all timber cut or sold from properties in the states of Louisiana and Texas, and five cents per ton of all coal mined and after June 1, 1925, $2.50 per thousand feet of all timber thereafter cut or sold from the properties of the Oregon-American Lumber Company. The funds so paid in shall be used to retire first mortgage bonds, either by purchase in the open market at not exceeding the redemption price or by call at the redemption price.

Security: These bonds will be the joint and several obligations of the Central Coal & Coke Company and the Delta Land & Timber Company, and will be secured, in opinion of counsel, by a first closed mortgage on all their timber and coal properties now owned or hereafter acquired, including the mill at Vernonia, Oregon, and by pledge of 80% of the outstanding capital stock of Oregon-American Lumber Company. The property covered directly by the first mortgage is conservatively valued by independent authorities at over $23,000,000 and according to recent expert valuations of the timber standing on the property of Oregon-American Lumber Company a value of approximately $8,000,000 is indicated for the pledged stock of this company. On this basis, the value of the mortgaged and pledged property securing the first mortgage bonds is, therefore, $31,000,000.

Earnings: Net operating earnings, available for interest and Federal Taxes, of the Central Coal & Coke Company and subsidiaries, not including Oregon-American Lumber Company for the seven-year period ended December 31, 1923, as shown by the company's annual reports for 1917 to 1920 inclusive, and as certified to by Messrs. Ernst & Ernst, Certified Public Accountants, for the years 1921 to 1923 inclusive averaged $1,033,515.40, or over 2½ times maximum annual interest requirements of $406,100 on $4,060,000 First Mortgage 6% Bonds and this issue of $2,500,000 First Mortgage 6½% Bonds.

Net earnings for the twenty years 1904 to 1923 inclusive, available for the payment of interest, averaged over twice this maximum annual interest requirement. With one exception the business has shown a net profit in every year since its incorporation thirty years ago.

Purpose of Issue: The proceeds of this bond issue will be used to defray part of the cost of the new mill at Vernonia, Oregon.

These Bonds are offered subject to prior sale, when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of counsel. All legal matters will be passed upon by Arthur B. Schaffner, Esq., Chicago, for the Bankers, and Massey Holmes, Esq., Kansas City, Mo., for the Company. Temporary bonds will be deliverable in the first instance.

ARMOUR REPORT TELLS STORY OF GREAT RECOVERY

BY O. A. MATHER.

One of the most remarkable stories of recovery from the post-war depression by a basic industry and a great corporation is contained in the annual report of Armour & Co., largest of the packers. In a year which included a rather difficult financial reorganization, involving the flotation of more than $100,000,000 of securities, and purchase and consolidation of the business of Morris & Co., the Armour corporation again returned to prosperity.

But even last year had its troubles, one of which was the unprecedented number of hogs marketed, exceeding by 14,000,000 the turnover of 1922.

Maintain Daily Cash Market.

"Notwithstanding this abnormal burden," President F. Edson White says, "the national packers maintained a cash market every day for every animal shipped on. The success of the packers in meeting this situation and in preventing a ruinous break in the market constituted a real service to both producers and consumers."

Sales for last year exceeded $800,000,000 and ran above the total formerly done by both the Armour and Morris companies, although the Morris business was for only nine months, the merger having become effective on March 31. The net profit of Armour & Co. on this great volume of business was at the rate of 1½c on each dollar of sales. The export business to Europe was remarkably good, while the company's South American subsidiaries had a reasonably good year.

Net Profits Are $12,772,026.

Gross income for 1923 was $38,583,217 and net profits, after charges, were $13,772,026. After payment of dividends there was a balance of $5,414,401 for the $100,083,700 common stock, which is owned chiefly by J. Ogden Armour and his family. This amount was added to surplus, which now stands at $45,790,803.

Comparison of last year's results with those of 1922 is only approximate, as the previous report covered the fourteen months ended Dec. 31, 1922. But in that period the company had an operating loss of $7,628,637, and after preferred dividends and charge offs there was a total reduction in surplus of $32,703,378.

Record Year for A. T. and T.

From point of gross income, net income, dividends paid, and surplus the year 1923 was the greatest in the history of the American Telephone and Telegraph company. Gross operating revenues of the Bell telephone system passed the $600,000,000 mark for the first time. The total of $601,589,788 compares with $546,829,073 in 1922.

Not including its equity in the undivided profits of its associated companies, the American company in 1923 earned [illegible] per cent on its average outstanding capital stock, compared with 11.14 per cent for 1922. On the $735,519,200 stock outstanding on Dec. 31 last the profits of 1923 were equal to 11.10 per cent.

Phone for Each Seven Persons.

The statement of statistics shows one telephone station for each seven of the population. The average daily telephone conversations during the 1923 numbered [illegible],792,000. New telephone stations installed during the year numbered 2,160,[illegible] and 1,138,900 were discontinued, the net gain being 891,342. On Dec. 31 last the American Telephone and Telegraph company and its twenty-five associated operating companies had an investment in plant and equipment the book cost of which was $2,013,000,000.

The parent company's stockholders at the close of 1923 numbered 281,149, holding its rank as the largest of any American corporation. The number of shares held per stockholder is twenty-six, compared with seventy-six in 1900.

"Comeback" by Willys-Overland.

There was another "comeback," this time in the automobile industry. The report of the Willys-Overland company shows the largest earnings in its history. Total sales for 1923 were 196,038 cars, or more than 50,000 in excess of the previous largest year. This year a production of 300,000 cars is planned.

Net profits for 1923 were $13,034,032. The company paid off $17,357,500 of notes and issued $10,000,000 in bonds. The par value of the common stock was changed from $25 to $5, thus wiping out a book deficit and leaving a surplus of $13,002,[illegible]. At the end of 1923 current assets were $37,469,977 and current liabilities $9,916,372, making respective increases of $10,000,000 and $2,000,000 over 1922. There is no bank indebtedness.

Corn Products Cleans House.

The annual statement of the Corn Products Refining company shows a continuation of the drastic house cleaning which has been a feature of the policy of the management in the last few years of great prosperity. In 1922 the company wrote off $20,000,000 in adjustment of the value of its plants and properties. In 1923 the item of patents and good will, carried at $16,000,000, was written off.

For the year ended Dec. 31 net income was $18,471,559 after all charges, equal after preferred dividends to $17.54 a share on the $49,784,000 outstanding common stock, against $16,416,572, or $17.43 a share in 1922. After common dividends there was a surplus for the year of $[illegible]. Writing off of the good will and patents item brought the surplus down to $17,574,362.

BRANCH BANKS AUTHORIZED.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3.—Bills authorizing the Kansas City federal reserve bank to erect buildings for its Denver and Omaha branches were passed today by the senate. Each building is to cost $550,000.

The Five and Ten Cent Store

A Recent Editorial from The New York Herald

THE story of American business teems with romance, but no part of it seems more like a tale out of the Arabian Nights than the chapter contributed by the five and ten cent stores. Ever since that day forty-five years ago when Frank W. Woolworth, with $5 in cash capital, opened his first "five cent store" in Utica, New York, the growth of this industry has been staggering. Last year the four leading five and ten cent store companies in the country sold $331,000,000 worth of goods—an average expenditure of thirty dimes apiece for every person in the country.

Woolworth himself, the poor boy from the farm who started working for nothing and began getting $3.50 a week after three months, lived to see the business he had founded grow from sales of $6,750 a year to sales of $107,000,000 in 1918, and he lived to erect out of the profits of that business the tallest building in the world. But the growth of the business did not stop with his death early in 1919. In 1923 the Woolworth sales amounted to $193,000,000.

The sales of the four leading five and ten cent store companies—Woolworth, Kresge, Kress and McCrory—were 18 per cent. greater in 1923 than in 1922. But this increase, which might be noteworthy enough in any other business, is not remarkable for the five and tens. Boom year or depression year, sales increase just the same.

In no year since 1914 have the five and ten cent stores as a whole failed to show a substantial advance in sales over the year before. This is true not only of the four companies combined but of each of them separately. Nor is this the result merely of the continuous opening of new stores. For in no year since 1914 has any one of the four leading companies failed to show an increase over the preceding year in its average sales for each store. The aggregate sales of the four leading companies in 1923 were 245 per cent. greater than in 1913.

Some people believe that the five and ten cent store makes out better in bad times than in good. This theory is not supported by the actual sales record, for the greatest growth is in years of general prosperity. Perhaps there is a shift of customers. In good times people of all classes go to the five and ten for petty luxuries. In hard times many persons who formerly bought only at department stores go to the five and ten for necessaries.

For the five and ten cent store of to-day contains an amazing profusion. It is not merely a store for stationery and soap, but for socks and stockings, toys and tools, pipes and pouches, candy and kitchenware, hair nets and hatchets, fountain pens, material for radio sets, and cloth bound editions of the classics.

One may enter to spend a dime; one remains to part with a dollar. The temptations are too great. The shopping instinct is aroused. And that accounts for the $331,000,000 spent in 1923.

Closing hog trade yesterday was best of the day. Starting in strong to 10c higher, the market weakened in midsession, but strengthened again and closed at high time of the day. Shippers purchased freely, while most of the packers operated indifferently during early hours. Outsiders took a fourth of the 60,000 numbered in the receipts, which strengthened the trade. Best reached $7.50, being within 10c of high point since Jan. 7. Day's general average was $7.25, against $7.15 Saturday and a week ago and $8.35 a year ago.

Cattle market yesterday ruled strong to 25c higher, with the advance mostly on good weighty beef steers, due to a scarcity and urgent eastern orders for that class. Top steers reached $11.90, against a top of $12.00 last week, when only one sale passed the $11.50 mark. Choice 1,406 lb averages brought yesterday's limit, while several loads averaging 1,500@1,686 lbs sold at $11.65@11.75.

Yearling steers were scarce and lacking in quality, with best 975 lbs average at $10.85. A large proportion of the day's supply of beef steers changed hands from $8.25 to $11.00. Butcher stock sold strong to 25c higher, with heifers showing most gain. Canners and cutters were unchanged. Calves lowered 50c.

Sheep Receipts Increase.

"Directs" totaling nearly one-third of yesterday's sheep supply swelled the receipts to the largest in more than a month for one day at 20,000. However, better grades were scarce and held steady, while others lowered 10@15c after urgent shipping orders were filled. Aged and yearling sheep were quoted steady, with handy weight aged ewes at $10.25.

Choice 78@84 lb fed western lambs topped to city butchers and shippers at $16.35, while most good 83@95 lb woolskins, largely from Colorado, Nebraska, and Utah, sold to packers at $15.50@16.10. Offerings ran largely to medium weight wool lambs. Freshly shorn 62@78 lb averages brought $12.50. Feeder market was quiet at steady prices.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 35,000 hogs, and 14,000 sheep, against 13,170 cattle, 52,151 hogs, and 17,067 sheep the corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

THIS ADVERTISEMENT IS WRITTEN FOR YOU!

You who are helping to support families, educate children, or pay hospital or doctor bills will be particularly interested.

The Lonsford Organization offers you a way of making money quickly, interestingly, and SAFELY! You'll be put on a par with men, and have the same chance they have at big commissions. Where else, for instance, could you earn $100 a week without previous training? Yet that's what beginners are drawing every week—often more!

The reason you can make money so quickly and safely when you sell for us is that you sell something which every family must have. And you sell the safety the Lonsford Organization stands for.

Another thing, our offering is based on real estate, which is the foundation for every sound investment. But, curiously enough, there are no taxes to pay, no insurance to carry, no dues or assessments of any kind to worry about. That in itself is a big start toward closing sales and collecting your commissions.

This is just a brief outline of our plan. We have stated it conservatively, because we want you to learn for yourself what a big opportunity there is in our organization for you.

Our office is located in the Loop. Come in today and talk the matter over with us. There isn't any deposit to make, you don't have to buy samples—there's no catch in our plan! You've never known anything quite like it before.

Don't put off this opportunity. Come in to see us TODAY, and start making money right away.

HENRY C. LONSFORD

HOTELS.

Our Guests Stay "On and On"

Perhaps it's because of the big, light, airy, tastefully decorated rooms that look out on beautiful trees and the lake.

Perhaps it's because of the cheery lobby and the good, solid, neighborly people that linger to chat a moment going in and out.

Perhaps it's because of the complete, unobtrusive maid service that is daily manifest.

At any rate, the people who come here usually stay. They feel at home—always. To such permanent guests we are glad to make concessions, although transients, of course, are always welcome.

Come in and see our 2, 3, and 4 room suites; some as low as $115, others up to $250; all beautifully furnished and with big, roomy closets. Rental includes heat, light, gas, linen, and laundry and maid service.

Ideal at any time, especially summer. Lake only 2 blocks away; bus stops at door. L and surface lines within 5 minutes' walk.

Avoid Paying High Rents.

We offer for sale on the Co-operative Ownership Plan individual 4, 5 and 6 room apartments in Crandon Arms, with heated garage if desired; located in the heart of the South Shore Country club district. These new, modern apartment homes may be acquired by the purchase of an equity in the entire ground and building, ranging from $3,700 to $6,000. Convenient terms if desired. A small safe investment in this new modern, well located building and ground enables you to occupy the apartment you select at operating cost instead of rental. The monthly operating cost is enough less than the rental value to save your investment about each seventy-two months you own the apartment. Adequate provision is made for owners to sell their interest in the property or to sublease their apartments. The building is under construction; will be ready for occupancy April 15. The apartments have been especially designed for homes. The unusual size of the rooms, closet space, light and air will attract you. Apartments may be selected in the order applications are received. Well worth your while to investigate. Come to the building. Owners on premises every day including Sunday.

AND NOW WE OPEN
DEVON-CRAWFORD
Addition to
NORTH EDGEWATER

Devon-av. on the north, we expect, will be 100 feet wide, and is the route of the proposed extension of the Devon-av. street car line. This tract offers a great advantage from an investment viewpoint. This is the only subdivision in this district which will allow the erection of large apartment buildings, zoned as a second volume district.

Here we can offer desirable building lots as low in price as $950.00
$240.00 DOWN
balance $10 per month. This price includes sidewalks. Other improvements will be put in by special assessment. Application for these improvements will be made June 1, 1924. There will be business districts on Devon and Crawford-avs.; good business corners are available, also good apartment corners. It is within the limits of Chicago, and in the direct path of intensive building activities. Good transportation is within 4 blocks of this property. The Crawford station of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway is on the property. Further transportation and development plans seem to assure steadily increasing values. Now prices are low—this property is offered at winter prices. Warm weather usually brings increased values in subdivision properties.

FIRE SALE!

$50,000 STOCK OF FINE

FURNITURE

ONLY SLIGHTLY DAMAGED BY SMOKE AND WATER,
AT 25% TO 33 1-3% OF COST!

The recent fire in our finishing room on the third floor of our four story warehouse and showroom caused a slight smoke and water damage to about one-tenth [1-10] of our stock.

A break in the hose caused a little water damage to a small part of the stock which the firemen could not get covered up in time.

With the favorable settlement with the insurance company we are now offering our complete stock at 25% to 33 1-3% of actual cost.

Here is the year's greatest opportunity to buy high grade furniture at only a bare fraction of its cost. Such an opportunity will never come again. Come early and have a complete selection to choose from.

Big Sale of RENEWED Franklin Cars

Whatever Your Motoring Needs

A Renewed and Guaranteed Franklin will come up to your requirements. Franklin is the most comfortable car built regardless of price; is economical to operate, easy to operate [consequently SAFE to handle], and has a longer life on the average than any other car costing more than $1,000 of the price.

The Franklin Sedan is the ideal winter car—the only one that protects itself as well as its passengers. It has no radiator, uses no water, needs no attention. Your garage need not be heated. You don't have to fuss with anti-freeze radiator compounds. You have no radiator to drain.

No Down Payment for This Sale

You may buy of us, paying only convenient monthly amounts and 6% interest, and thus obtain a quality car—honestly rebuilt—in perfect condition. Rebuilt Franklins will give you 20 miles to the gallon; 12,500 miles on tires—50% slower yearly depreciation. Their riding and driving qualities are unsurpassed. A demonstration serves merely to call your attention to distinct Franklin advantages—not to prove them. Daily performance in the hands of owners is doing that. A wide assortment insures your selection of the model and type you prefer.
